A LOOK AT USC IN 1987

Something old. Something new.

USC football followers will get a bit of each in 1987.

THE OLD. Some 85 players—including 14 talented starters (seven each on offense and defense), plus the punter—are back from last year's squad which finished 7-5 and earned a New Year's Day trip to the Florida Citrus Bowl. Forty-five of those Trojans saw action in 1986, forming a strong nucleus as USC aims to return to the summit of the Pacific-10.

Topping the list of key returnees is big-play outside linebacker Marcus Cotton, a second team All-American last year who is a leading candidate for this season's Butkus Award (he was a semifinalist in 1986) and Lombardi Award.

Other All-Pac-10 candidates include offensive tackle Dave Cadigan, an All-America nominee in the mold of USC's traditionally outstanding linemen; exciting quarterback Rodney Peete, only the third Trojan ever to throw for more than 2,000 yards in a season; Peete's favorite target, split end Ken Henry (43 catches in 1986); and inside linebackers Rex Moore and Keith Davis (USC's top two tacklers last fall). Also back among the 1986 starters are Randy Tanner (flanker), Tim Ryan (defensive tackle), Ryan Knight (tailback), Greg Coauette (cornerback), Dan Owens (defensive guard), Chris Sperle (punter), Brent Parkinson (offensive guard), and John Katnik (center).

THE NEW. Besides the 20 incoming blue-chip freshmen and one junior college transfer who join the club this fall (two other JC players came aboard in the spring), there is a new head coach at USC's helm. He's Larry Smith, who during the past seven years at Arizona built the Wildcats into national prominence. He took over for Ted Tollner at USC last Jan. 2.

At Arizona, Smith led the Wildcats to winning seasons six years in a row, to half a dozen victories over Top 10 teams, to five straight victories over archrival Arizona State, to four consecutive seasons of seven wins or more, and to the school's first-ever bowl win (in last season's Aloha Bowl, as Arizona finished 9-3 and No. 10 nationally).

Smith plans to immediately continue those winning ways at USC. He certainly has the credentials to do that. And he has the players, too.

"There's no question we have players with quality and experience," he said. "I think we'll be a good team. We have good experience returning, particularly at linebacker, quarterback, wide receiver, and defensive line. But there are a lot of 'ifs' involved."

Smith's football philosophy is familiar to longtime Trojan fans.

Offensively, USC will be an "I" formation team, with occasional split-back and option formations. Smith believes in establishing the run, while mixing in passes.

"First, we must run the football and control the line of scrimmage with a strong running game," he said. "I'm talking 200-plus yards a game on the ground. If we do that, we can have a successful passing game—one that averages 200-plus yards, too—and that will create the big play. That's our goal on offense—creating and executing the big play."

The same applies on defense. "We'll attack, run to the ball and have a big-play type of defense," Smith said. "And we have the defensive personnel here to do that."

Smith also puts great emphasis on the kicking game. "You can't have a successful team without having a good kicking game," he said. "You can make more big plays in the kicking game than you can on offense or defense. We'll put a lot of first team personnel on those teams and try to set up advantageous field position with our kicking game."

The Trojans will be tested right away, as they open the 1987 campaign at Michigan State in front of a prime-time national television audience on Labor Day. USC hosts Boston College, Oregon State, Washington State, Stanford, Arizona and UCLA in the Coliseum, while its other road trips are to California, Oregon, Washington and Notre Dame. Five of Troy's first seven contests are on the road.

"It's a competitive, but tough schedule," said Smith. "We need to create some momentum early, before having to face Washington and Notre Dame back-to-back on the road. How we do in those first seven games is the key to our season, since we finish with four home games."

USC lost 16 players from 1986, including consensus All-Americans Tim McDonald (safety) and Jeff Bregel (offensive guard), plus cornerback Louis Brock, tight end Erik McKee, placekicker Don Shafer, safety Junior Thurman, outside linebacker Ron Brown, fullback Todd Steele, and offensive tackle Bruce Parks.

OFFENSE

Seven offensive starters return: quarterback Peete, tailback Knight, split end Henry, flanker Tanner, tackle Cadigan, guard Parkinson and center Katnik. Runners who accounted for 922 of USC's 1,644 rushing yards and 13 of its 17 touchdowns on the ground in 1986 are back, as are receivers who had 128 of Troy's 170 catches and 12 of its 13 TD receptions last fall.

"We have some very talented offensive players," said Smith. "We should have an outstanding pass offense. I think our run offense will be good, although I'm concerned a bit how quickly it will come along. If we can control the line with our running game, then we'll make some big plays on offense."

There might not be a more exciting quarterback in the entire nation than Peete, the electrifying junior. Known for his elusive scrambling ability (he rushed for 124 yards — the most by a USC quarterback since Vince Evans in 1975 — and three TDs last season), Peete also exhibited a bull's-eye arm while starting all of 1986 as just a sophomore. He completed 160 aerials (second most ever in a season at USC) in 305 attempts (52.5%) for 2,138 yards (third best ever at USC). Rodney, an All-Pac-10 first team nominee now who was named a second team Sophomore All-American and honorable mention All-Pac-10 last year, already stands fifth on the Trojan career passing ladder and could be the all-time leader sometime this fall.

"Rodney's an impressive player," said Smith. "He's everything you look for in a quarterback — great arm, great mobility, great mind and great leadership. He's got to be one of the best quarterbacks in the country. A big part of our success as a team depends on the type of year he has in 1987."

Peete's participation in last spring's practice was limited because he was the starting shortstop on the baseball team. In his absence, several talented quarterbacks proved that they could step in and capably guide the Trojans: strong-armed senior Kevin McLean (8-of-14, 57.1%, 108 yards, 1 TD in 1986), and touted redshirt freshmen Pat O'Hara and Shane Foley.

"Kevin had a tremendous spring," said Smith. "He could start at any Pac-10 school and he'll certainly give Rodney a run for the starting job. And O'Hara and Foley have bright futures here."

The biggest surprise on the offense was at tailback with the emergence of speedy, elusive junior Steven Webster as the starter. Webster has played in only one of USC's last 21 games because of a sprained ankle, but in his only appearance (in the second half at Stanford last year), he picked up an impressive 60 yards on 16 carries. He's healthy now and opened up some eyes during the spring.

"Steven has the speed and attitude to be a great player," said Smith. "I'm excited about him. He's in great physical condition and had an outstanding spring. His development will be a real key to our success. We're also confident in his backup, Knight. He's a very fine inside runner and will play a lot. And there are some good newcomers who can all have an impact, too."

Knight, the strong senior who has led USC in rushing the past two years (732 yards in 1985 and 536 in 1986), started eight times last fall. He had seven rushing TDs and also caught 15 passes.

Any of four fast freshmen blue-chippers could also see playing time at tailback: prep All-American Scott Lockwood, Ricky Ervins, Calvin Holmes and Marcus Hopkins.

Junior Aaron Emanuel (495 yards, 3.9 average, 3 TDs in 1986), who started four games last year but was hampered in USC's final four games with a sprained big toe, will miss 1987 because of disciplinary reasons.

The fullback corps will be headed up by sophomore Leroy Holt (158 yards, 3.9 average, 3 TDs in 1986), who backed up Steele last year until starting for him in the Florida Citrus Bowl. Junior Jeff Brown (27 yards, 6.8 average in 1986) and soph Derrick Gachett are the backups.

"We have a lot of confidence in Leroy," said Smith. "He combines excellent blocking and running ability. But there's a lack of experience and depth behind him."

The return of USC's starting wide receivers literally puts the Trojan passing game in good hands.

Henry, the lanky senior split end, is a proven big-play receiver. In his first year as a starter last fall, he not only topped Troy in catches with 43 (fourth most ever in a season at USC) for an 18.8 average, but he was 17th in the country in reception yardage (807). His seven touchdown grabs were the most at USC since Kevin Williams in 1979 and he averaged 34.9 yards per score (including a 67-yarder). Ken made second team All-Pac-10 last fall and should make the league's first team in 1987.

Henry sat out last spring while academically ineligible and that gave valuable playing time to sure-handed junior Erik Affholter (11 catches, 12.4 average, 1 TD in 1986), who had six catches in the Florida Citrus Bowl while starting for an injured Henry, and sophomore Marlon Washington. Affholter is also competing for the placekicking job this fall.

"We haven't seen Ken in our offense yet, but we know he's a very experienced and talented big-play receiver," said Smith. "It's important that he gets back into the flow of things quickly. Erik is my kind of player. He's a super all-around athlete and is very competitive. He'll be on the field a lot, maybe catching passes, maybe kicking."

At flanker, there's senior triple-threat Tanner (29 catches, 14.1 average, 3 TDs in 1986). Not only was he second on the squad in receptions while starting all of last season, but he completed two of three throws (67 and 30 yards for scores to Henry) on flanker passes and ran for 14 yards on reverses. And he returned 23 punts. Like Peete, Tanner missed most of spring ball while playing outfield for the Trojan baseballers.

That opened the door for quick sophomore John Jackson (16 catches, 14.3 average in 1986), who was used often in three-receiver formations last fall, and even quicker redshirt freshman Gary Wellman (4.35 in the 40).

"Like Henry, Randy is a proven receiver," said Smith. "He can do so many things for a team and we're hoping he picks up where he left off last fall. Jackson and Wellman had great spring practices. Both are speed burners who are instant big-play receivers and they'll see lots of action. There's fine depth at this position."

Filling in for the graduated McKee at tight end figures to be junior Paul Green (12 catches, 13.2 average in 1986), who was the often-employed H-back (tight end-in-motion) last season. Also in the hunt for the job is sophomore Scott Galbraith (his only 1986 reception was for a two-yard score), while redshirt freshman Scott Freier will be another backup.

"Paul's a versatile, physically gifted tight end who can catch the ball well short or deep, and he's become a better blocker," said Smith. "Galbraith doesn't have much experience, but he really improved throughout the spring."

Smith feels that USC has "the makings of a good offensive line, with a nice combination of talented veterans and high-potential younger players."

In Cadigan (6-5, 280), USC has one of the premier offensive linemen in the country. The quick (4.7 in the 40) and strong (405 pounds in the bench press) senior was a second team All-Pac-10 selection last fall and could win All-American honors this year. If he does, he'll continue USC's long tradition of producing top-notch linemen (there have been 22 first team All-American offensive linemen at USC since 1964). A starter the past two years, Dave will be at right tackle in 1987, with junior John Guerrero backing him up (Guerrero was slated to be a starter last year until a pre-season knee injury sidelined him; he's okay now).

"Dave is just a superb offensive lineman and worthy of All-American honors," said Smith. "He has excellent blocking skills, has the size and speed the pros look for, and is a real team leader."

Soph Parkinson (6-6, 255), who started all of 1986, missed most of spring drills with a knee injury (he's healthy now) and should be the starter at left guard, although redshirt freshman Mark Tucker is pushing him. Sophomore Chuck Kunsaitis is another backup there.

The other returning starter on the offensive line is senior center Katnik (6-1, 250) and he's backed by redshirt freshman Tom Dabasinskas.

The departure of linemen Bregel and Parks leaves some big holes to fill. Sophomore Brad Leggett (6-5, 265) came out of spring practice as the No. 1 right guard, backed up by junior Bill Schultz (he was a first team JC All-American last fall who transferred to USC in the spring). Schultz had arthroscopic knee surgery early in the spring, but recuperated for the second half of the drills. And junior Mark Sager (6-5, 270) won the starting left tackle job, with senior John Page (foot surgery sidelined him in the spring, but he's ready to go now) and soph Chuck Ebertin both running No. 2 there.

"We have some good talent and depth on the offensive line," noted Smith. "We need to have the line working effectively in order for our offense to click. I think it will."

DEFENSE

Seven defensive starters return: outside linebacker Cotton, inside linebackers Moore and Davis, cornerback Coauette, defensive tackle Ryan, defensive guard Owens, and defensive tackle Deryl Henderson. USC's top three tacklers from 1986 (Moore, Davis and Cotton) are back.

"The starters are very good players, but there's not much depth," said Smith. "It's a hardnosed and aggressive unit that will make some big plays. My concern is our inexperienced secondary."

What was USC's Achilles heel on defense last season—the line—because of its inexperience could develop into a strength this fall.

Although only sophomores now, both Ryan and Owens have a year of quality experience under their belts and that should help anchor Troy's defensive front. The precocious Ryan (102 tackles, 4 deflections, 1 interception in 1986), the first true (non-redshirt) freshman to start the season opener at USC since Riki Gray-Ellison in 1978, had a fine rookie campaign. He earned Freshman All-American honors and has emerged as one of the country's star young defensive players. The heady Owens (84 stops, 5 for a loss in 1986) had an amazing 10 pass deflections along with three fumble recoveries. Junior Alex Stewart, an honorable mention JC All-American last year who transferred to USC in the spring, backs up Ryan, while sophomore J.P. Sullivan is behind Owens.

Redshirt freshman Don Gibson won the starting nose guard job, with Gene Fruge (another redshirt frosh) backing him up.

"We'll still be young up front, but we'll be a better and deeper line this year than last," said Smith. "And in the future, this group will be a dominant force. Ryan has really matured and should be the stalwart of this group. He plays the run very well. Owens makes a lot of big plays and is equally adept at stopping the run and the pass. He, too, has a promising career ahead of him. Gibson is a very physical player who plays well in a crowd."

The linebacker crew is USC's strength and, according to Smith, "all four starters are as good as any I've been around."

Two of the best inside linebackers on the West Coast—seniors Moore and Davis—hold down the heart of USC's defense.

The fiery Moore led USC in tackles last fall (he was second in the Pac-10) with 206 (including 7 for a loss) and had two interceptions. The defensive signalcaller, Rex earned honorable mention All-Pac-10 acclaim last year and was in double figures in tackles in every contest (including 24 at Washington State). On the other end of the emotional scale is the stoic Davis (155 stops, a Pac-10 leading 4 fumble recoveries in 1986), although he hits every bit as hard as Moore. Keith was a starter in 1985, too. Both Moore and Davis are All-Pac-10 first team candidates.

"Rex is a great competitor, a take-charge guy who is a leader out there," said Smith. "I really like his intensity and aggressiveness. And the same goes for Keith. He's one of the toughest and strongest players on the team, and a real leader, too. That's quite a pair of inside linebackers! And there are some fine young players backing them up."

Sophomore Delmar Chesley (3 stops in 1986) backs up Moore and junior Mike Serpa (4 tackles, 1 interception in 1986) is No. 2 behind Davis.

There is no better outside linebacker in the country than the quick (4.6 in the 40), aggressive, springy (he also plays basketball at USC), highly-decorated Cotton (149 tackles in 1986). A second team All-American last year who was one of 16 semi-finalists (one of only five juniors) for the Butkus Award (given to the nation's top linebacker), the senior is now a legitimate candidate for first team All-American honors, as well as the Butkus Award and Lombardi Award (given to the nation's outstanding lineman; Cotton lines up on the line). Marcus is best known for his "Cotton Clubs" (tackles for a loss), of which he had a Pac-10 leading 17 last year (including 10 quarterback sacks for 85 yards). In his career, he's had 39 "Cotton Clubs" for minus 258 yards. Cotton also deflected 12 passes in 1986 and made a spectacular one-handed interception which he returned 24 yards for a TD in the Florida Citrus Bowl. He started on the strong side last year after starting on the weak side in 1985.

"Marcus is the best outside linebacker I've ever coached," said Smith. "He's a true All-American and deserving of all the awards coming to him. He makes big plays all over the field. Pass rushing is his specialty, but he excels in all areas. We must put him in a position to make as many big plays as possible."

Slippery senior Bill Stokes (35 tackles, 6 for a loss in 1986), who was used often last fall (he even started in the Florida Citrus Bowl at defensive tackle), will man the weakside. Redshirt freshman Craig Hartsuyker backs up Stokes, while sophomore Michael Williams (26 stops in 1986) not only will serve behind Cotton, but figures to come in often in pass rushing situations. And prized freshman Junior Seau, a prep All-American, should see some playing time also.

"Stokes is really going to be good," predicted Smith. "He had a very impressive spring. Like Cotton, he's a big-play type of player and is a ferocious pass rusher. We have a great set of outside linebackers, starters and backups."

Although three of the four 1986 starters in the secondary — safeties McDonald and Thurman, and cornerback Brock — are gone, most of last year's reserves saw plenty of action. Still, the inexperience here worries Smith.

Coauette (95 tackles, 5 for a loss in 1986), the hard-hitting senior who spent last fall patrolling the boundary (run-support) corner, is the only returning starter. He also broke up five passes, recovered two fumbles and forced three others. Versatile junior Tracy Butts (6 stops in 1986) is behind him.

The pass coverage halfback spot will be taken over by sophomore Dwayne Garner (40 tackles, 1 interception in 1986), who was USC's dime back in six-defensive back formations last year (he started in the Florida Citrus Bowl for an injured Coauette). Sophomore Ernest Spears (11 stops in 1986) is No. 2 here.

Sophomore Cleveland Colter (33 tackles, 1 interception in 1986), who was USC's often-used nickel back last fall and also returned kickoffs (8 for a 21.0 average), moves into the strong safety spot. He was a Freshman All-American last year and his future is quite bright. Senior Jeff Maree (11 stops in 1986), who missed the last half of spring practice with a knee injury (he's healthy now), and redshirt freshman Curtis Hein are the backups.

Redshirt freshman Mark Carrier will be the free safety, with sophomore Brandon Bowlin providing relief help.

"Our secondary is talented, but we don't have much experience," said Smith. "Coauette had a good spring and is game-tested. Garner improved throughout the spring and we feel he's ready to handle the responsibilities that go with his position. Colter and Carrier have great futures in front of them. They're both very smart, aggressive defenders and excellent tacklers. We hope their outstanding athletic ability makes up for their inexperience this season; they'll need to mature fast."

KICKERS

Smith puts great stock in the special teams, so his concern here is understandable.

There will be a new placekicker with the departure of Shafer, either leftfooted freshman Quin Rodriguez or junior Affholter, who is also vying for playing time at split end. As Shafer's backup the past two years, Affholter kicked off several times but has yet to attempt a field goal or extra point.

Sperle, the junior punter who has handled that chore the past two years, brings back his 39.3 average from 1986. Six of his 49 boots went 50 yards or more last fall, and only 17 of his punts were returned. But Smith was concerned with Sperle's performance during spring drills, so tight end Green (36.3 average on 8 career punts) and quarterbacks Peete and McLean will challenge for the job.

"The kicking and punting positions are vital and I'm concerned about them," said Smith. "We'll have an untested kicker, but whether it's Rodriguez or Affholter, I think either can do the job. Sperle's hang time and distance in the spring were not what I wanted, so the punting spot is wide open. But Chris is a veteran and I'm hoping he'll come through."

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

LARRY SMITH

"I'm a very goal-oriented person. When you start a venture like this, you shoot for the stars. The way I look at it, the sky is the limit."

With that said, Larry Smith took over as USC's 19th head football coach when he signed a five-year contract on Jan. 2, 1987. He became the first Trojan coach without a prior USC background since Howard Jones in 1925. He inherited a program which has won eight national championships, 26 conference titles and 18 Rose Bowls. Smith's focus is to return the Trojans among the country's elite teams.

Larry, who succeeded Ted Tollner at Troy, has the credentials to do just that.

Most recently, the 47-year-old Smith had built Pacific-10-rival Arizona into national prominence during his seven years (1980-86) there.

In his last four seasons at Arizona, Smith won 70% of his games (31-13-2), including posting a 9-3 mark and a No. 10 ranking last season while guiding the Wildcats to their first-ever bowl win (30-21 over North Carolina in the Aloha Bowl). His team gave Rose Bowl-champion Arizona State its only defeat of 1986, 34-17. The Wildcats topped the Pac-10 last year both in rushing offense (tailback David Adams was the league's No. 2 rusher) and rushing defense.

Smith, who compiled a 48-28-3 record in his seven years at Arizona, set a number of superlatives at the Tucson school. He directed the Wildcats to winning seasons in six consecutive years for the first time since 1923, to five straight victories over archrival Arizona State for the first time since 1948 (knocking the Sun Devils out of the Rose Bowl twice), and to four consecutive seasons of seven wins or more for the first time ever. His 48 career wins are second only to the legendary Pop McKale in Arizona history.

In addition to solid, successful football, Smith's teams are noted for their sound foundation based on fundamentals, recruiting success and good academics. For instance, his teams' grade point average increased steadily each year at Arizona, going up one full grade point from when he took over.

Smith replaced Tony Mason in April of 1980 at Arizona and faced the difficult task of taking over a troubled program threatened with eventual NCAA probation. Without the benefit of a full spring practice under Smith, Arizona still wound up 5-6 that season, and the Wildcats improved annually since then. His 1981 squad logged a 6-5 mark, then improved to 6-4-1 in 1982 despite facing one of the nation's most difficult schedules. The ladder of success continued as Arizona went 7-3-1 in 1983, 7-4 in 1984, 8-3-1 in 1985 (with a trip to the Sun Bowl, where the Wildcats tied Georgia, 13-13) and then 9-3 in the 1986 campaign.

Smith has consistently beaten Top 10 teams. He beat No. 2 UCLA in 1980, No. 1 USC in 1981, No. 9 Notre Dame and No. 6 Arizona State in 1982, No. 3 SMU in 1985, and No. 4 Arizona State in 1986. All those teams except the 1982 Sun Devils were unbeaten at the time.

While at Arizona, Larry was very active in the community. For instance, the Larry Smith Cancer Run raised more than $500,000 for the university's Cancer Center. The Arizona chapter of Civitan International named him its 1985 Man of the Year.

Smith has been influenced by several prominent college coaches, most notably Michigan's Bo Schembechler and Army's Jim Young. Larry was an assistant under Schembechler at Miami of Ohio and Michigan. He served with Young at Lima (Ohio) Shawnee High, Miami of Ohio, Michigan and Arizona.

Larry began his coaching career at Lima Shawnee High. After the 1962 and 1963 seasons as an assistant under Young, Smith took over there for the next three years (1964-66) and employed one of the more innovative offenses in prep football at the time — an unbalanced line and a slot offense. He compiled a 28-9-1 record and won two Western Buckeye League titles. His final squad was 10-0 and allowed only one touchdown all season.

Smith then moved on to Miami of Ohio for two years (1967-68), where he served under Schembechler as defensive end coach. When Schembechler took over at Michigan in 1969, both Smith and Young moved there with him. Smith coached the offensive line there four years (1969-72). When Young got the head coaching job at Arizona, Smith went with him. Larry was the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator there for three years (1973-75) as the Wildcats went 26-7 (including 9-2 and a No. 12 national ranking in 1975).

Tulane hired Smith in 1976 as its head coach and Larry successfully rebuilt the Green Wave to the point where it was 9-3 in 1979, including a Liberty Bowl berth that season. His four-year (1976-79) record at Tulane was 18-27 and his overall 11-year collegiate head coaching mark now stands at 66-55-3.

Smith was a three-sport star (defensive end in football, forward in basketball, catcher in baseball) at Van Wert (Ohio) High. His outstanding academic record and athletic ability earned him an appointment to the U.S. Military Academy after graduation from high school in 1957. But a year later, he felt coaching was his main interest, so he transferred to Bowling Green (Ohio) State University.

He was a three-year letterman (1959-61) in football as a two-way end at Bowling Green. His team won the Mid-American Conference and small college championship during his sophomore year. Larry won all-league honors as a junior and captained the team as a senior.

He received his bachelor's degree in mathematics from Bowling Green in 1962 and then earned a master's degree in education from that university in 1967.

Smith was born on Sept. 12, 1939. He and his wife, Cheryl, have two children, a daughter, Alicia, 16, and a son, Corby, 14.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT LARRY SMITH . . .

Mike McGee, USC athletic director: "The expectations at USC are high, and Larry is the kind of coach who can make USC a consistent Top 10 team and a challenger for national championships. He is a proven winner who has taken over two programs that were in tough straits and developed them beyond expectations. He's a man of high integrity who puts emphasis on the academic progress of student-athletes."

Cedric Dempsey, Arizona athletic director: "The growth of Arizona's football program really started when Larry Smith became head coach. There was a steady growth, not a rapid, flash-in-the-pan type of growth."

Ricky Hunley, former Arizona All-American linebacker now with the Denver Broncos: "Coach Smith was the perfect coach. He has always done the right thing."

Dan Reeves, Denver Broncos head coach: "It is always a pleasure to get one of Larry Smith's players, because you know they are ready to play. But Larry not only does a great job of preparing his players to play football, but for life in general. Football is a very short period in anyone's life and Larry gets his players ready to live in this world and to be a vital part of it."

Sports Illustrated: "Smith is kind to his players, fair with his staff, and active in all those charitable and P.R. functions that sit well with the community fathers and mothers of recruits."

. . . AND WHAT LARRY SMITH SAYS ABOUT LARRY SMITH

"I am Larry Smith. I am not Bo Schembechler. Nor am I Jim Young. However, from both of these men I have learned a lot."

"From Coach Schembechler, I learned what emotion was. From him I also learned how to get a team really tough, an aggressive team that plays good sound football without mistakes."

"From Coach Young I learned a real lesson in organization because he is one of the most highly organized men that I have ever met. I learned from him what mental football really is and that hard work really pays off."

"I've had excellent training in the coaching field, having worked with both offensive and defensive teams. I believe I'm a very good recruiter, a good organizer and I'm not afraid to do public relations work. I've had a winning tradition."

ASSISTANT COACHES

CHUCK STOBART

*Associate Head Coach
Offensive Coordinator Quarterbacks*

Chuck Stobart has one of the brightest offensive minds in college football and he brought that talent to USC last January. He serves as associate head coach, offensive coordinator, and quarterbacks coach.

Chuck's association with Larry Smith dates back to 1967 when both were assistant coaches at Miami of Ohio under Bo Schembechler. Stobart handled the quarterbacks, running backs and wide receivers there for two years (1967-68), while Smith was the defensive end coach. When Schembechler went to Michigan in 1969, Stobart and Smith moved there with him and the pair shared an office. Chuck was the Wolverines' offensive co-coordinator for eight years (1969-76), while Smith spent his four-year tenure there as the offensive line coach.

Stobart then became the head coach at Toledo for five years (1977-81), capping his stint with a 9-3 record while winning the Mid-American Conference title and the California Bowl in 1981. His overall mark at Toledo was 24-31-1.

He next was the head coach at Utah for three seasons (1982-84), posting a 16-17-1 overall record.

Chuck spent 1985 as the offensive coordinator at Pittsburgh and then was reunited with Smith by becoming the offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Arizona in 1986.

Stobart began his coaching career on the high school level, where he went 40-16 in six years as the head man at three Ohio high schools: one season (1959) at Berne Union High in Sugar Grove, one season (1960) at Gallia Academy in Gallipolis, and four seasons (1961-64) at Mount Vernon High.

He then became the offensive coordinator at Marshall in 1965 and the quarterback/running back coach at Cincinnati in 1966.

Stobart attended Middleport (Ohio) High and then was a quarterback at Ohio University from 1956 to 1958. He received a bachelor's degree in education from Ohio University in 1959 and then a master's degree in school administration from there in 1962.

The 52-year-old Stobart was born Oct. 27, 1934. He and his wife, Diana, have three children: Janna, David, and Gregory.

CHRIS ALLEN

Assistant Head Coach Defensive Coordinator Outside Linebackers

Larry Smith thinks so much of Chris Allen, who has worked for Smith since 1980, that Allen is not only USC's defensive coordinator and outside linebackers coach, but also the assistant head coach.

Allen, who came to USC with Smith this past January, spent the last seven years (1980-86) at Arizona. He was the outside linebackers coach the first five seasons and then spent 1985 as the offensive coordinator (Arizona's low-risk attack ranked second in the country in turnover margin). Chris was promoted to assistant head coach and defensive coordinator last year (the Wildcats' rushing defense was fourth nationally and topped the Pac-10 in 1986) while also handling the outside linebackers.

Before going to Arizona, the 45-year-old Allen was the offensive line coach at Central Michigan for eight years (1970-77) and the defensive coordinator at Ball State for two seasons (1978-79). Central Michigan won the NCAA Division II championship in 1974 and Ball State was the nation's No. 1-ranked defensive team in 1978.

Born Dec. 13, 1941, Allen was an All-State guard at Ionia (Mich.) High. He attended Central Michigan, where he received a bachelor's degree in English in 1964 and a master's degree in education in 1967.

Chris began his coaching career at Laker High in Pigeon, Mich., where he was the head coach for two years (1965-66). He spent the next two seasons (1967-68) as the defensive coordinator at Ferndale (Mich.) High and then was named head coach at his prep alma mater, Ionia High, for the 1969 campaign.

Allen and his wife, Nancy, have two sons, Brent, 26, and Shane, 22.

BOBBY APRIL

Secondary Kicking Game Coordinator

Bobby April, the Trojans' secondary coach and kicking game coordinator, has worked for Larry Smith since 1979 at three different universities — Tulane, Arizona and now USC.

April, 34, came to USC this past January after a seven-year stint (1980-86) at Arizona. He was the defensive line coach the first six years and then moved to the secondary coach last year. He took on the additional duty of kicking game coordinator the past two years.

Bobby first coached under Smith at Tulane in 1979, where he handled the tight ends. Before that, he was a graduate assistant at Southern Mississippi in 1978 after beginning his coaching career as the defensive coordinator at Chalmette High in New Orleans, La., for three seasons (1975-77).

April himself prepped at Chalmette High and then attended Nicholls State in Thibodaux, La. He was a three-year starting defensive end at Nicholls State while lettering for four seasons. He obtained his bachelor's degree in physical education from Nicholls State in 1975 and later got a master's degree in physical education from Southern Mississippi in 1980.

Born April 15, 1953, he and his wife, Charlene, have a son, Bobby, 6, and two daughters, Julie, 4, and Jamie Lee, 2.

GARY BERNARDI

*Tight Ends
Offensive Line*

Being named an assistant coach at USC this past January was a homecoming of sorts for energetic Gary Bernardi, who grew up in Southern California and began his coaching career in the area. He handles Troy's tight ends and also assists with the offensive line.

An all-league receiver and team captain at Monroe High in Sepulveda, Calif., in 1971, Bernardi attended College of the Canyons in Valencia, Calif., for two years (1972-73) and then went to Cal State Northridge for another two years (1974-75), where he obtained a bachelor's degree in physical education/health sciences in 1976.

He started his coaching career as an assistant at Bellarmine-Jefferson High in Burbank, Calif., for two seasons (1973-74) and then spent 1975 as an assistant at his prep alma mater, Monroe High. Gary next went to Fountain Valley High for four years (1976-79), where he handled the receivers and tight ends. Fountain Valley was 40-7-1 during his time there (the 1978 squad won the CIF title) and he coached future Stanford All-American receiver Ken Margerum.

Bernardi, 32, has spent his entire collegiate coaching tenure under Larry Smith at Arizona and now USC. He began as a part-time coach working with Arizona's tight ends in 1980, and was also Smith's administrative assistant. He continued as an administrative assistant the next year, then coached tight ends the following three seasons. He then became the receivers coach in 1985 and moved back to the tight ends last fall. Gary was also Arizona's football recruiting coordinator during his time there.

He was born on Sept. 24, 1954. He and his wife, Leigh, have three children: Marina, 3, as well as twins born this past March, Joe and Briana.

JOHN MATSKO

Offensive Line

USC has one of the finest offensive line traditions in the land and, in John Matsko, Troy has one of the finest offensive line coaches around, too.

Matsko, 36, came to USC this past January after a one-year stint as Larry Smith's offensive line coach at Arizona. The 1986 Wildcats led the Pac-10 in rushing offense and center Joe Tofflemire was an All-Pac-10 first teamer.

Matsko has worked on the offensive side of the ball — primarily with the line — all of his coaching career. After serving as a student assistant at Kent State in 1973 and as a graduate assistant at Miami of Ohio in 1974 and 1975 (he was the head coach of Lakeside High in Danbury, Ohio, in 1976), John became the offensive line coach at Miami of Ohio in 1977 under Dick Crum.

He moved with Crum to North Carolina in 1978 and during seven seasons there (1978-84) his duties included offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. While he was at North Carolina, the Tar Heels won eight or more games six times, played in five bowl games, set 104 school offensive records, and produced nine 1,000-yard rushers (including Kelvin Bryant). Five of Matsko's linemen earned All-American honors and eight of them played in the NFL.

John spent 1985 as the offensive line coach at Navy, where his line opened up holes for Napoleon McCallum.

Matsko prepped at Mentor (Ohio) High and played fullback at Kent State from 1969 to 1972 under coach Don James. He obtained a bachelor's degree in business education from Kent State in 1973 and then got a master's degree in education from Miami of Ohio in 1976.

Born Feb. 2, 1951, he and his wife, Kim, have four children: Marie, 11, John, 9, Lizzi, 7, and Michael, 3.

TOM ROGGE MAN

Inside Linebackers

Tom Roggeman is one of the most intense, spirited coaches you'll ever meet . . . and that makes him the perfect inside linebackers coach.

Roggeman had been at Arizona since 1977 before moving to USC this past January. He coached the Wildcat defensive line for three years (1977-79), was the strength coach in 1980 and 1981, and handled inside linebackers the past five years (1982-86). He was also assistant in 1985 and 1986.

Larry Smith's administrative assistant in 1985 and 1986. Among the outstanding Wildcat inside linebackers he molded were Ricky Hunley and Byron Evans.

Tom also was the defensive line coach at Purdue for seven years (1970-76). Before that, he was one of Indiana's all-time great prep coaches, compiling a 77-18-7 record (78.9%) in 11 seasons (1959-69) at South Bend's Washington High.

Roggeman attended Mishawaka (Ind.) High and then starred as a guard at Purdue from 1949 to 1952. He received a bachelor's degree in physical education from Purdue in 1953 and a master's degree in physical education from there in 1957. He played professionally with the Chicago Bears for three years (1955-57), including on the 1956 club which played in the NFL championship.

Tom and his wife, Florence, have five children: Karen, Julie, Tom Jr., Pamela, and Tim. Tom Jr., a former defensive lineman (1983-84) and graduate assistant coach (1985-86) at Notre Dame, is now a fulltime assistant coach at Murray State. Tim, also known as Buck, is currently a sophomore defensive lineman at Stanford. Roggeman was born on Sept. 5, 1931 in Mishawaka, Ind., a few miles from the Notre Dame campus.

CLARENCE SHELMON

Running Backs

USC's running backs heritage is second to none, and bright, talented Clarence Shelmon is in charge of coaching those runners.

Before coming to USC last January, Shelmon handled the running backs for Larry Smith at Arizona the past three years (1984-86). Last season, the Wildcats led the Pac-10 in rushing offense and All-Pac-10 tailback David Adams was the league's No. 2 rusher (as well as Arizona's No. 3 career rusher).

The 34-year-old Shelmon also coached the running backs at Indiana for three years (1981-83).

Clarence began his coaching career in 1975 as a graduate assistant at Houston for two years, then spent 1977 as the offensive coordinator at Carroll High in Corpus Christi, Tex. The next season, he began a three-year stint (1978-80) at Army. He was a junior varsity coach and scout the first year, was the tight ends and backfield coach in 1979, and then handled only the backfield in 1980. Gerald Walker, one of Shelmon's tailbacks, ended up as Army's No. 3 career rusher.

In his coaching career, Shelmon has worked for three men who became head coaches in the pros: Indiana's Sam Wyche and Lee Corso, and Army's Lou Saban.

Shelmon was a prep All-American running back at Airline High in Bossier City, La., where he still holds the school's career rushing record. He played running back at Houston from 1971 to 1975, and received his bachelor's degree in education there in 1977. He signed briefly with the New England Patriots as a free agent.

Born Sept. 17, 1952, he is married and his wife's name is Nancy.

RON TURNER

Wide Receivers

Ron Turner, USC's wide receivers coach, is no stranger to Larry Smith.

Turner, who was the only fulltime Trojan assistant coach retained from Ted Tollner's staff when Smith was named head coach at USC this past January, also worked for Larry in 1980 at Arizona.

Turner has been at USC since 1985. He was hired by Tollner as the quarterbacks coach to replace his older brother, Norv, who joined the Los Angeles Rams. Last year, Ron took on the additional duties of offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach, as well as quarterbacks coach. Among his quarterback pupils at USC have been Sean Salisbury, the school's career passing leader, and current signalcaller Rodney Peete, who began 1987 fifth on the all-time Trojan list. This season, Turner is responsible only for the wide receivers.

The 33-year-old Turner has 10 years of coaching experience. In 1977, he was a graduate assistant at the University of the Pacific. He then coached at Arizona for three seasons (1978-80), where he handled the receivers the first two years and then, when Smith came on board in 1980, Ron was the running backs coach.

He spent the next two years (1981-82) at Northwestern as the quarterbacks and wide receivers coach. In 1982, Wildcat freshman Sandy Schwab set or tied 15 NCAA records on his way to becoming the school's career passing leader. Turner then was the quarterbacks coach at Pittsburgh for two seasons (1983-84).

Turner received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Pacific in 1977, after leading the team in receiving as a wide receiver his final two seasons (1975-76). He transferred there from Diablo Valley College in Pleasant Hill (Calif.), where he made all-conference.

Born Dec. 5, 1953, Ron was an all-conference defensive back at Alhambra High in Martinez, Calif. He and his wife, Wendy, have a son, Morgan, 2, and they are expecting another child this fall.

KEVIN WOLTHAUSEN

Defensive Line

One of the youngest fulltime assistant coaches on the major college level, 29-year-old Kevin Wolthausen handles USC's defensive line.

Kevin came to USC last January after four years (1983-86) under Larry Smith at Arizona. He was a graduate assistant working with the linebackers and kicking game his first two years, then at the age of 27 was elevated to outside linebacker coach in 1985. In 1986, Wolthausen was shifted to defensive line coach. Each of the past two years, one of his pupils — Danny Lockett in 1985 and Stan Mataele in 1986 — led the Pac-10 in sacks.

Kevin started his coaching career as a student assistant working with the defense at Cal State Northridge in the spring of 1980. He then spent three years (1980-82) as a part-time assistant at Humboldt (Calif.) State, handling the linebackers and defensive line.

He had a five-sport career at Dos Pueblos High in Goleta, Calif., and then was an all-conference linebacker at both Santa Barbara (Calif.) City College (1976-77) and Humboldt State (1978-79). He got a bachelor's degree in physical education from Humboldt State in 1981.

Born Dec. 27, 1957, Wolthausen is married and his wife's name is Michel.

JERRY SIMMONS

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Jerry Simmons' impact on USC's athletes is easy to measure.

In his fifth year at Troy, he not only is in charge of the conditioning and dietary programs for the university's 600-plus athletes, he oversees operation of the strength training facility. Located underneath Heritage Hall, the 7,300-square-foot facility was completed in the summer of 1984 and is among the best in the U.S.

He is assisted by Tom Hille, Tony Federico, Troy LaMar, Dan Johnson and John Bosko.

The 33-year-old Simmons came to USC in June of 1983 after two years as the strength coach at Rice. He is the Region V director of the National Strength Coaching Association and was a 1984 nominee for Strength Coach of the Year.

A 1977 graduate of Fort Hays (Kan.) State University with a bachelor's degree in physical education, Jerry began his coaching career there in 1978 as assistant strength coach and graduate assistant working with the linebackers. In 1978 he also earned a master's degree in physical education and secondary school administration.

In 1979 he quit coaching for a year to work a farm he still owns with his two brothers and sister. Then in 1980 he returned to Fort Hays as a full-time coach in charge of linebackers and conditioning.

Simmons moved to Clemson in 1981 and served half a year as assistant strength coach, before going to Rice as full-time strength coach later that year.

Born June 15, 1954, Jerry was a three-year all-conference and all-area choice at linebacker for Elkhart (Kan.) High, winning All-State honors as a senior. He also started at linebacker for two years for Garden City JC in Kansas and for Fort Hays State. As a senior at Fort Hays he won all-league honors and was chosen UPI Player of the Week once during the season.

Jerry and his wife, Rebecca, have a son, Joe, 4, and a daughter, Jennifer Jo, 2.

TONY CAVIGLIA

Defensive Assistant

Tony Caviglia, who is in his second year on the USC staff, is a graduate assistant who will work with the defensive backs and special teams. Last year, he assisted with the inside linebackers.

Caviglia, 26, was an assistant coach in charge of the running backs in 1985 at Chabot College in Hayward (Calif.).

He graduated from Cal Poly San Luis Obispo in 1984 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. During his last two years there (1983-84), Tony helped coach Cal Poly SLO's running backs. In 1982, while a sophomore at Cal Poly SLO, he was an assistant coach at San Luis Obispo High, working with the wide receivers and linebackers.

He played football and baseball at Moreau High in Hayward, earning all-league honors as a football linebacker. His football coach there was Al Vermeil, brother of ex-Philadelphia Eagles coach Dick Vermeil.

Born on July 27, 1961, Caviglia is single. He's pursuing a master's degree in sports administration at USC.

DARYL GROSS

Offensive Assistant

In his second year as a graduate assistant coach, Daryl Gross works with the quarterbacks and wide receivers, as he did last fall.

Gross, 26, spent four years (1982-85) coaching at UC Davis, a Division II university in Northern California. He worked primarily with the junior varsity his first three years, then split time in 1985 between the varsity (the nation's No. 1-ranked team at the end of the regular season) and the junior varsity. As JV offensive coordinator in 1985, he helped the squad to its first winning season since 1981. He also was involved in recruiting, scouting and charting plays during his career at UC Davis.

Gross, who also served as the school's assistant men's tennis coach, earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from UC Davis in 1984, and then took graduate courses there in educational administration. He's working towards his master's degree in educational psychology and technology at USC.

He was a wide receiver for UC Davis from 1979 to 1981 and was on the receiving end of passes from quarterback Ken O'Brien, now with the New York Jets. Gross played quarterback and wide receiver at Beverly Hills (Calif.) High.

Daryl was born June 20, 1961 and he is single.

HARRY HIESTAND

Offensive Assistant

Harry Hiestand joined the USC staff this past spring as a graduate assistant working with the offensive line.

Hiestand, 28, spent 1986 as a part-time assistant coach at Penn, which went 10-0 and won the Ivy League title. He worked with the tight ends and offensive line.

He was an offensive line coach for three years (1983-85) at East Stroudsburg (Pa.) University, a Division II school which won two conference championships while he was coaching there.

Harry graduated from East Stroudsburg in 1983 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He played offensive guard there in 1981, but was injured, so he became a student assistant there in 1982 helping coach the offensive line. He spent his first two years of college (1979-80) at another Division II school, Springfield (Ma.) College, where he played football and wrestled.

Hiestand's prep career made him familiar with winning. As a junior at Madison (N.J.) High, his team went 10-0. Then, while an all-league offensive guard as a senior at Radnor (Pa.) High, his squad also was 10-0. He then spent 1978 at Wyoming Seminary Prep in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where he was a two-way all-league guard and his club had an 8-0 record.

Born on Nov. 19, 1958, Hiestand is single. He's pursuing a master's degree in physical education at USC.

RON PONCIANO

Defensive Assistant

In his first year as a graduate assistant coach, Ron Ponciano works with the linebackers.

Ponciano, 28, spent the last three years (1984-86) as the defensive coordinator at Azusa (Calif.) Pacific University, an NAIA Division II school. In each of his three seasons there, his unit's rushing defense was among the top five in the nation. He was also an assistant track coach at Azusa Pacific.

Ron played football at Azusa Pacific, where he was a three-year (1980-82) starting inside linebacker. He won All-District first team honors in 1980 and was an honorable mention All-American in 1981. He hurt his knee during the 1982 season and had to stop playing football, but he was able to continue his track career. In the 1983 track season, he won All-American honors in the hammer throw, discus throw and indoor 35-pound weight throw as his team won the NAIA national championship. He was also an All-American in the hammer in 1982.

He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Azusa Pacific in 1983 and then obtained a master's degree in education from there in 1987. He's currently working towards his education teaching credential at USC.

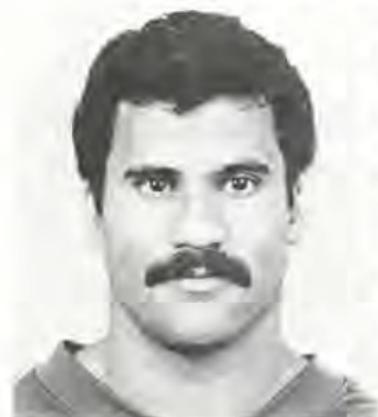

Ponciano started at inside linebacker as a freshman in 1978 at St. Mary's College in Moraga, Calif., an NCAA Division II school. He sat out the 1979 football season there, but threw the hammer on the track team and won All-American acclaim.

He prepped at Willows (Calif.) High, where he starred in football, basketball and track.

Born April 14, 1959, he's married and his wife's name is Lisa.

JAIRO PENARANDA

Special Teams Assistant

Jairo Penaranda made a name for himself while playing for USC's crosstown rival, UCLA. Now, he joins the Trojan ranks as a volunteer assistant coach, appointed this past June. He'll work with the special teams, as well as the outside linebackers.

Penaranda, 29, lettered as a fullback at UCLA in 1979 and 1980 (he started as a senior). The 1980 Bruins defeated USC, 20-17 (Troy won the previous year, 49-14). He redshirted at UCLA in 1978.

Jairo then spent two years (1981-82) as a reserve fullback with the Los Angeles Rams and was named the team's Rookie of the Year in his first season. He was also a superb special teams player, known for blocking punts and recovering fumbles.

He was a fullback with the USFL's Oakland Invaders in the spring of 1983 and then played the following spring season with the Memphis Showboats, also of the USFL (Jairo did some coaching with Memphis that year, too).

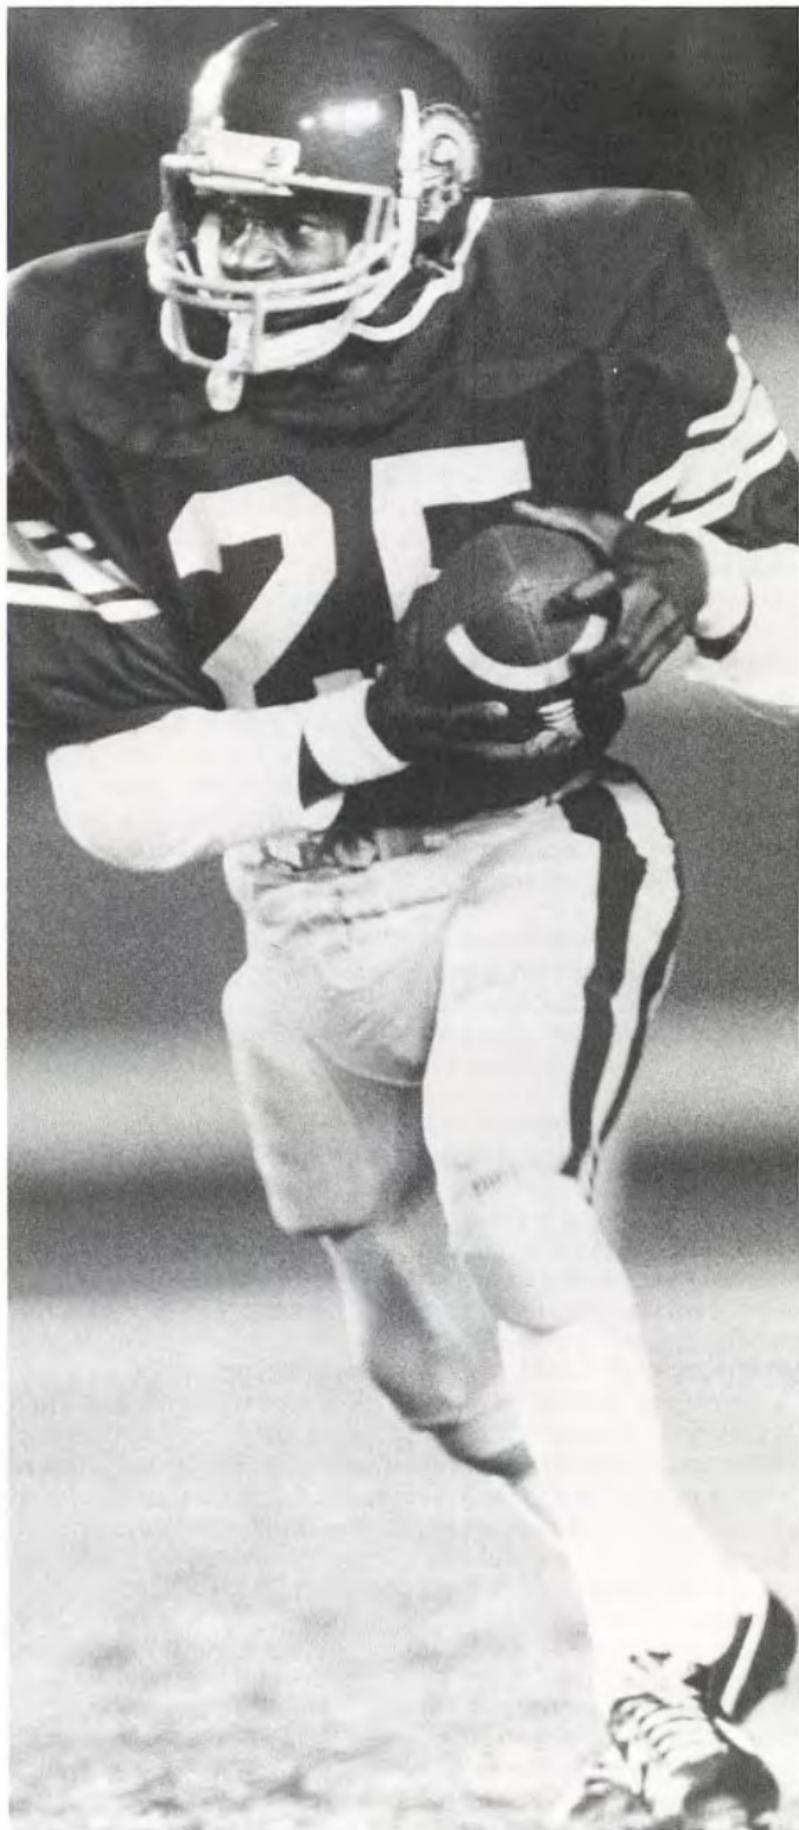

In the fall of 1984, Penaranda spent the first two games with the San Francisco 49ers before an ankle injury sidelined him the rest of the season. He then returned to Memphis in the spring of 1985 as an assistant coach, working with the Showboats' special teams, fullbacks and tight ends. Jairo suited up again in the fall of 1985, this time with the Philadelphia Eagles as a reserve fullback until a knee injury ended his career that season.

Last year, he was an assistant coach at his prep alma mater, John Burroughs High in Burbank (Calif.), where he handled the special teams and outside linebackers. Another Burroughs assistant then was Mike McDonald, the former Trojan linebacker who was Penaranda's teammate at both Burroughs and the Rams.

Penaranda played fullback and linebacker for three years (1973-75) at Burroughs, where he won All-CIF honors as a senior. He was also on the track team there. He then spent two years (1976-77) at Los Angeles Valley College in Van Nuys (Calif.) as a fullback and linebacker, before transferring to UCLA.

He received his bachelor's degree in economics from UCLA in 1986. He was born on June 15, 1958 in Barranquilla, Colombia. He's single.

TAILBACK STEVEN WEBSTER

USC PLAYER SKETCHES

(Players are listed in alphabetical order.)

(42) ERIK AFFHOLTER — Split End-Placekicker, 6-1, 190, Jr.

Affholter is one of those unique players who is talented enough to play two very different positions. He's battling for the starting job at both split end (with Ken Henry) and placekicker (with Quin Rodriguez).

"Erik is my kind of player," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a super all-around athlete and is very competitive. He's a big-play type of receiver who catches the ball well in a crowd and is also an excellent blocker. He'll be on the field a lot, maybe catching passes, maybe kicking, because he's a legitimate starting candidate at both spots. My concern is that if he's in the game a lot as a receiver, it's asking a great deal of him to also kick."

He was the backup at both spots last year as a sophomore. The sure-handed, 4.5-in-the-40-swift Affholter saw lots of action playing behind Henry at split end and caught 11 passes for 136 yards (12.4 average), including a spectacular 18-yard leaping grab at Stanford for USC's only touchdown in the 10-0 win. He started for an injured Henry in the Florida Citrus Bowl and was named USC's Offensive MVP of that game while grabbing a game-high 6 passes for 66 yards. He also backed up kicker Don Shafer (but didn't get a chance to boot the ball) and was a key special teams player. He's a right-footed soccer-style kicker.

As a redshirt freshman in 1985, Affholter was Shafer's backup (Erik kicked off a few times, but didn't attempt a field goal or PAT) and also saw some action as a reserve split end (he didn't catch a pass) and on special teams. He redshirted in 1984 after injuring his left shoulder in pre-season drills and undergoing surgery.

He has faith in his catching ability. "I have confidence that I can catch just about anything I touch," he said. "I know that I might have just one opportunity in an entire game, so I have to make it count."

And he credits his soccer background for his kicking talent. "I played soccer for years when I was a kid and I think that helps a lot with my leg strength," he said. "To me, kicking has always come easy. It's just like a golf swing. Once you get the motion down, you don't ever forget it."

A two-time All-CIF Division IV first team selection at Oak Park High in Agoura (Calif.), Erik set a since-broken national high school record for the longest field goal (64 yards in 1982). He also kicked three-pointers from 58, 52 and 50 yards. As a 1983 senior placekicker, wide receiver and tailback, he scored 135 points on 14 touchdowns, 10 field goals and 21 PATs. He was a USA Today and Inside the Blue Chips All-American that season. He scored 130 points as a junior. And he caught 101 passes for 1,817 yards in his career. He was a two-time All-Ventura and All-San Fernando Valley choice and a three-time All-Tri-Valley Leaguer. Affholter was also All-CIF in soccer and track, and played baseball at Oak Park.

"I just thank God that I got the chance to kick that 64-yard field goal," he said. "If I didn't, I probably wouldn't be at USC now. That kick is what got the scouts out in the first place."

Affholter was born in Detroit. He's a communications major at USC. Believe it or not, he says his favorite hobby is skydiving.

(88) GENE ARRINGTON — Flanker, 6-0, 190, Jr.

What was unfolding as a promising career at USC got sidetracked in mid-1985 when Arrington suffered a serious knee injury. He hasn't played since, although if he can come back this fall he'll give the Trojans some high-quality depth at the flanker spot.

After redshirting in 1984, Gene played in USC's first 6 games of 1985 before he bruised his shoulder in practice prior to the Washington State game and sat out.

Then the next week, he injured his right knee cartilage and ligaments in practice prior to the California game and had season-ending surgery. He was slated to start both of those games before getting hurt. Up to that point, he had grabbed 4 passes for 39 yards (9.8 average), including a 22-yard touchdown against Oregon State. He even started the Notre Dame game for Randy Tanner when Tanner was injured on the opening kickoff.

Arrington missed all of his 1986 sophomore campaign while recuperating. And his participation in last spring's drills was limited because the knee was not fully healed.

"It's unfortunate that Gene has been plagued by injuries," says coach Larry Smith. "Although he didn't practice much this past spring, we could tell he's a talented receiver. However, the knee injury leaves his future status uncertain."

Gene was one of the nation's top prep receivers in 1983 at Harrisburg (Pa.) High, where he won Adidas/Scholastic Coach, Street & Smith, and Bally All-American notice. As a senior, he had 29 receptions for 499 yards (17.2 average) and 6 touchdowns, and also earned All-State and All-Mid-Penn Conference honors. In his career he caught 73 aerials for 1,316 yards (18.0 average) and 16 TDs. He also had 10 career interceptions (4 in 1983) as a defensive back, and had a kickoff return of 80 yards for a score. Interestingly, former USC quarterback Jimmy Jones, an alumnus of Harrisburg, served as an assistant coach there in 1983.

Arrington also earned All-American honorable mention acclaim in track and has run the 100-meter dash in 10.55. Before his 1985 injury, he was clocked at 4.6 in the 40.

He's a public administration major at USC.

(68) DAN BARNES — Offensive Guard, 6-4, 255, So.

Barnes was switched to offensive guard this past spring after spending the first part of his Trojan career as a defensive tackle. He did not see any action as a redshirt freshman last fall after redshirting in 1985 while recovering from an early season broken right foot.

"Dan did a nice job in the spring handling the switch from the defensive to the offensive line," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a big, versatile athlete who is willing to play on either side of the ball. The verdict is still out on whether he'll wind up on offense or defense."

Barnes had an injury-plagued prep career at El Camino Real High in Woodland Hills (Calif.). A broken foot kept him out of action until the last 3 games of his 1984 senior campaign at El Camino, but Dan still managed 38 tackles as a linebacker. He broke that foot between his junior and senior seasons and reinjured it during the first day of fall practice in 1984. A broken wrist ended his junior year after 6 games, but he still posted 70 tackles and 4 sacks. He also played offensive guard and tackle, and was the 1985 West Valley League shot put champion with a best of 55-2.

He's a public administration major at USC. He says his football hero is ex-NFL star John Riggins. One reason Dan chose USC is "because all my family went here."

(45) BRANDON BOWLIN — Safety, 5-10, 190, So.

A walk-on, Bowlin is listed as the No. 2 free safety. He also figures to be a key special teams player.

As a redshirt freshman last fall, he made 2 tackles as a reserve safety and often-used special teamer. He redshirted in 1985.

"Brandon is one of our top walk-ons," says coach Larry Smith. "He'll see some action, mostly on the special teams. I like his desire and hustle."

Bowlin played defensive back, tight end and linebacker for Blair High in Pasadena (Calif.). As a 1984 senior, he was named All-Rio Hondo League first team and L.A. Times All-San Gabriel Valley first team. He made All-Rio Hondo League second team as a junior and All-Rio Hondo League honorable mention as a sophomore. Brandon was also a pole vaulter and high jumper on Blair's track team and was the school's student body president as a senior.

In his spare time, he enjoys art illustration. He said the funniest thing he has seen on the football field was in high school when "a referee lost his pants during a play."

(65) SCOTT BRENNAN — Center, 5-11, 200, Jr.

Brennan's only duty at USC — and it's a crucial one — is to snap for all punts and placekicks. Scott has performed without a miscue while handling that job most of 1985 (he took over for an injured Sam Anno prior to the second game of the year) and all of 1986.

"Scott is a very important player because of his specialty," says coach Larry Smith. "He's an excellent long snapper because he's so capable and dependable."

Brennan walked on to USC in 1984 and was redshirted, but earned a scholarship in 1985.

He was a center and long snapper at Clovis (Calif.) West High near Fresno. He earned All-Metro and All-North Yosemite League honors as his team advanced to the CIF Central Section finals. He played there with Paul Green, now at USC, and long snapped to Green, who was the Clovis punter. Green recommended Brennan to the USC coaching staff.

Brennan is majoring in business finance at USC and has a B+ average (3.43 GPA). In his spare time, he likes to ride all-terrain vehicles.

(43) JEFF BROWN — Fullback, 5-10, 210, Jr.

Listed as the No. 2 fullback (along with Derrick Gachett), Brown is also a top special teams player. Tough and determined, he's proof that walk-ons can earn scholarships.

"Although he's inexperienced, Jeff is a solid blocker and good runner," says coach Larry Smith. "He had an up-and-down spring, but he's in contention for the backup fullback spot."

Brown, who runs the 40 in 4.7, was USC's third-string fullback as well as an important special teamer as a sophomore last fall. He didn't have many chances to carry the ball (he gained 27 yards on 4 carries for a 6.8 average in 1986), but he really performed when given the opportunity against Stanford. When injuries struck USC's other fullbacks in the fourth quarter, Jeff came in and had a key 22-yard run to set up a field goal in the 10-0 win. He also returned a short kickoff 10 yards against UCLA.

He walked on at USC in the spring of 1985 and redshirted that season. But he steadily developed into a dependable player during practice and was awarded a scholarship prior to the 1986 campaign.

Brown came to USC after one season at Golden West College in Huntington Beach (Calif.). In 1984, he started at fullback there and scored 7 touchdowns.

He prepped at Corona del Mar (Calif.) High, where he played running back and linebacker. As a senior, he was All-CIF Division III second team and All-Orange County on defense, as well as All-Seaview League on offense. He collected more than 1,000 yards on the ground as a 1983 senior and once rushed for 215 yards in a game. He started at fullback and linebacker as a junior. He also was a shot putter on the track team and placed fifth in the CIF meet. Current Trojan Mike Molinaro also prepped at Corona del Mar.

Jeff has a B average (2.97 GPA) as a business finance major at USC. And he has an unusual hobby: shark hunting!

(49) CHARLES BURNHAM — Outside Linebacker, 6-4, 220, Fr.

Burnham tore ligaments in his left knee in pre-season practice last year and redshirted while recuperating. But he's healthy now and provides solid depth at the outside linebacker position.

"Charles is a good, young prospect," says coach Larry Smith. "He's probably a year away from seeing lots of playing time, although he could contribute on our special teams in 1987."

A broken lower right leg and torn right ankle ligaments ended his senior season in the sixth game at Long Beach (Calif.) Jordan High. An inside linebacker and wide receiver in 1985, Burnham sustained the injury while scoring on a 70-yard touchdown pass (he was hit while crossing the goal line).

Defensively, Charles made 44 tackles before his injury. He earned All-Moore League honorable mention, The Sporting News Top 100 honorable mention and was on the L.A. Herald-Examiner's pre-season Super 11 second team as a senior.

He played defensive end and tight end as a junior and had 49 tackles and 2 TD pass receptions. He made All-Moore League honorable mention that year. He was a starter on Jordan's varsity basketball team as a junior, but his football injury forced him to sit out his senior season.

(30) TRACY BUTTS — Cornerback, 5-10, 190, Jr.

Although he's listed as the No. 2 run-support cornerback, Butts should be on the field often. He also provides depth at the strong safety spot and is a vital special teams performer.

"Tracy really finished up spring practice in outstanding fashion," says coach Larry Smith. "He's good enough to start at either cornerback or strong safety and he'll really give the players there a run for their money.

But whether he starts or not, he'll see lots of playing time on defense and on special teams. He's an enthusiastic, intelligent and hard-hitting player with a bright future here."

Butts gave evidence of that potential as a sophomore last year. As the backup cornerback and a key special teams player, he posted 6 tackles. But he tore right knee ligaments in USC's fifth game (at Washington State) and spent the rest of the season recovering. He's fine now and still runs the 40 in 4.7.

After redshirting in 1984, his first year at USC, Butts was a reserve field cornerback and top special teams player in 1985 and notched 7 tackles.

He came to USC from CIF Eastern Conference semifinalist Rubidoux (Calif.) High, where he was a teammate of current Trojan Ryan Knight. He had 9 interceptions in his senior year when he earned All-Sunbelt League honors. In his career, he picked off 16 aerials (including 3 in a game) and also had 6 touchdowns on punt returns.

After attending Sid Gillman's football camp while at Rubidoux, Gillman said, "This kid should already be in the pros."

Butts is a public administration major at USC. He says he loves to spend his free time watching Rodney Dangerfield videos.

(66) DAVE CADIGAN — Offensive Tackle, 6-5, 280, Sr.

USC has an unparalleled heritage of producing outstanding offensive linemen (for instance, there have been 22 first team All-American Trojan linemen since 1964 and 15 linemen who were first round NFL draft picks since 1968). The big, strong (he can bench press almost 450 pounds) and quick (4.7 in the 40) Cadigan — who'll be starting for the third year in 1987 — could be the latest to join those lists.

Cadigan, USC's starting right guard, is a first team All-American and first team All-Pac-10 candidate this year. He won honorable mention AP All-American and second team All-Pac-10 honors as a junior last season while starting every game at strongside tackle.

"Dave is just a superb offensive lineman and worthy of All-American honors," says coach Larry Smith. "He does it all. He has excellent blocking skills for both the run and pass, he has the size and speed the pros look for, and he's a real team leader."

Says USC offensive line coach John Matsko: "Dave is reminiscent of all the great USC offensive linemen. He has the tools, work habits and desire to be a great one."

Adds USC offensive coordinator Chuck Stobart: "Cadigan is a top flight player. He's out of the mold of all the great tackles I've ever seen, players like (ex-NFL star) Dan Dierdorf."

Dave is looking for a big year in 1987. "I've been playing consistently, but I think I can and should do better," he said. "I haven't plateaued. I've found myself improving each game and that's good."

Cadigan, whom one sportswriter said "looks like a freckled block of granite," puts great value in controlling his opponent. "What I try to do is totally dominate a defensive lineman by keeping him on his back after I block him," he said. "Success, for me, is being able to do that and execute any key blocking assignments. I get a lot of pleasure out of that."

He proved his versatility as a sophomore in 1985 when he started 10 of USC's 12 games, five at strongside tackle and five at strongside guard. And in three of those contests, he opened the game at one position, only to be flopped to the other in the middle of the game because of injuries to other linemen.

Cadigan played 26 minutes during the early part of 1984, but suffered a left shoulder injury and was allowed to redshirt. As a 1983 freshman, he saw just 9 minutes of playing time.

Dave was an All-CIF Division III first team defensive lineman in 1982 at Newport Harbor High in Newport Beach (Calif.), although he played primarily on the offensive front. He was also named Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, L.A. Times All-Orange County first team and All-Seaview League first team, and was his team's captain. His prep coach was Mike Giddings, a former USC assistant. Current Trojan Shane Foley also went to Newport Harbor.

Born in Needham, Mass., Dave is majoring in communications at USC. He says his sports hero is ex-NFL star John Hannah, "because he's the epitome of an offensive lineman." Cadigan's father, Pat, was a defensive tackle in the mid-1950s at Boston College.

(7) MARK CARRIER — Safety, 6-1, 180, Fr.

Just a redshirt freshman, Carrier has already earned the starting job at free safety. He should make quite an impact in 1987. And only a fracture in his left foot which forced him to redshirt last year kept him from making his mark in 1986.

"Mark is one of our great young players," says coach Larry Smith. "He's inexperienced, but he proved in spring practice that he's one of our top defenders. He's an aggressive player, an excellent tackler, has great range, and is a smart leader. I look for big things from him before his career is through at USC. As it is, though, he has quite a challenge this season, but I know he'll respond."

A prep All-American safety at Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High, he was one of the most highly recruited high school football players in the nation in 1985. Carrier had 76 tackles (41 unassisted), 4 interceptions and 3 fumble recoveries while helping Poly to the 1985 CIF Big-5 Conference co-championship. He was named to the Adidas, Parade and USA Today All-American lists as a senior. His other honors included Cal-Hi All-State, CIF Big-5 co-MVP, All-CIF Southern Section, Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West (he had 9 of 10 possible votes), All-Long Beach Area, The Sporting News' Top 100, USA Today Super 25 Recruits, Super Prep Elite 100, the L.A. Herald-Examiner pre-season Super 11 and Moore League Defensive Player of the Year.

Known for his jarring tackles, one opposing coach said, "He hits like a grown man!" and another said, "His hits make the stadium reverberate!"

In 1984, Mark had 7 interceptions in 7 games and returned 2 for touchdowns. He earned All-CIF Division I first team, U.S. Army Reserve Junior All-Stars and Moore League Defensive Player of the Year honors as a junior. He was a three-year starter at free safety for Poly and had 14 career interceptions. One of Mark's teammates at Poly was current USC linebacker Brian Tuliau. An excellent student, Carrier had a 3.2 grade-point average in high school.

Asked why he came to USC, he said: "Attitudes. USC fit my type of style: aggressive. Going out and physically abusing a team."

He was born in Lake Charles, La. He likes to go horseback riding. Mark runs the 40 in 4.7.

(53) DELMAR CHESLEY — Inside Linebacker, 6-2, 235, So.

Chesley is the No. 2 strongside inside linebacker, but figures to see lots of playing time both there and on special teams.

"Delmar is one of our very talented young players," says coach Larry Smith. "He really came on during the last half of spring drills and exhibited many great traits. Inside linebacker is a high-collision position where injuries occur often, so Delmar could suddenly be thrust into a starting job and we feel confident that he'll handle that well. Whatever, he'll get lots of action on defense and special teams."

Chesley saw limited action as a redshirt freshman last year while backing up Keith Davis at inside linebacker. He made 3 tackles.

Chesley redshirted in 1985 after an all-star career at Anacostia High in Washington, D.C., where he led his team to its second straight city championship in 1984. Among Delmar's laurels as a senior were Parade, Bally, Adidas/Scholastic Coach and Street & Smith All-American first teams, USA Today All-USA second team, D.C. Touchdown Club Player of the Year, Pigskin Club Player of the Year, Washington Post All-Metro, The Sporting News' Top 100 Recruits, Washington Board of Officials Player of the Year and All-Interhigh East Conference.

He had 110 tackles, 7 interceptions, 5 fumble recoveries, 3 blocked punts and 12 quarterback sacks as a linebacker, and 21 pass receptions and 3 touchdowns as a tight end in 1984. In the city title game, he made 16 stops, intercepted a pass and sacked the quarterback twice, earning Defensive Player of the Game honors. He also played basketball.

He's the last of 7 brothers to receive an athletic scholarship at a Division I university, including Martin, a junior tight end at USC. William was an offensive lineman at North Carolina whose twin, Walter, played basketball at Boston University; Francis was an outside linebacker/tight end at Wyoming who played with the Philadelphia Eagles and New Orleans Saints; Al was an inside linebacker at Pitt who played with the Eagles and Chicago Bears; and John was a tight end at Oklahoma State who was drafted by the Miami Dolphins. And Delmar's 3 sisters all attended college, 2 on academic scholarships and 1 on a volleyball scholarship.

Delmar is a public administration major at USC. He likes to spend his spare time watching soap operas and reading.

(84) MARTIN CHESLEY — Tight End, 6-4, 240, Jr.

A back injury could put a damper on Chesley's promising career.

He hurt his back in USC's fourth game last year (Oregon) and had season-ending disc surgery. Up to that point, he played often as the backup tight end (although he didn't catch a pass). The injury limited his participation in this past spring's practice.

"Martin's status is a question mark because of the injury," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a quality tight end and we hope he'll be healthy. If so, he'll give us good backup help at the position."

He saw considerable action as the backup in his redshirt freshman year of 1985. He played primarily in two-tight end situations and caught 3 passes for 36 yards (12.0 average), including a 14-yarder versus Stanford and 2 for 22 yards at Notre Dame. A sprained left ankle and right shoulder suffered late in the season held him out of spring drills in 1986.

Chesley redshirted in 1984 after being the most heavily recruited prep tight end in the nation in 1983 while at Anacostia High in Washington, D.C. He was named to the Parade, Adidas/Scholastic Coach, Street & Smith, and Bally All-American teams after catching 52 passes for 629 yards (including 85 and 89-yard grabs) and 12 touchdowns. His 8 catches and 1 score helped Anacostia win the city championship his senior season. Among his other honors as a senior were Pigskin Club All-Metro, Washington Post and Washington District Player of the Year, Washington Touchdown Club Offensive Player of the Year, and All-Interhigh East (three years). He was also used at outside linebacker in key situations. And he was a two-time all-conference pick in basketball.

Martin is the sixth of 7 brothers to win an athletic scholarship to a major university. William was an offensive lineman at North Carolina whose twin, Walter, played basketball at Boston University; Francis was an outside linebacker/tight end at Wyoming who played with the Philadelphia Eagles and New Orleans Saints; Al was an inside linebacker at Pitt who played with the Eagles and Chicago Bears; John was a tight end at Oklahoma State who was drafted by the Miami Dolphins; and younger brother Delmar is a sophomore inside linebacker at USC. And Martin's 3 sisters all attended college, 2 on academic scholarships and 1 on a volleyball scholarship.

When asked to name his sports hero, he said, "My older brothers, because they set goals for themselves and successfully accomplished them. In the process, they set an example for me and my younger brother, Delmar."

Martin is a public administration major at USC.

(46) GREG COAUETTE — Cornerback, 6-3, 210, Sr.

Coauette, USC's only returning starter in the secondary, is known for his steady, heads-up play and for handing out punishing hits from his run support cornerback position.

He started there all of last season as a junior and had 95 tackles (5 for a loss), plus 5 pass deflections, 2 fumble recoveries and 3 forced fumbles. He had 12 stops against Notre Dame, 11 against Baylor, and 10 versus Oregon and California. At Arizona, Coauette forced 2 fumbles and recovered a third. He also starred on USC's special teams.

"Greg really impressed us in the spring," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a steady player and worked hard on improving his tackling. He's also a good enough athlete to be able to play either safety position. Greg is a key to providing stability to our relatively inexperienced secondary. And we'll use him a lot not only on defense, but on special teams."

Coauette started the 1985 season opener at Illinois at strongside outside linebacker (posting 3 tackles), but a badly sprained right ankle forced him out the rest of the season and he was able to redshirt. He was moved to cornerback in the spring of 1986.

Greg was a reserve safety and outstanding special teams player for Troy in 1984. He stopped 10 ball carriers in 31 minutes of action, most on bone-jarring hits while covering kicks and punt returns. He played briefly at outside linebacker against California, backing up All-American Duane Bickett when injuries cut into USC's depth there. Greg had only 3 days to prepare, but got into the game and made 2 tackles. He also fielded 2 short kickoffs that year, returning them 9 yards.

Greg transferred to USC in the fall of 1984 after being named a J.C. Grid-Wire All-American at Glendale (Calif.) College as a freshman in 1983. He shared honors as the nation's top pass thief that year, with 11 interceptions. He returned them 171 yards (15.5 average), including an 80-yard scoring runback. He also broke up 6 other throws and made 48 tackles. Besides All-American honors (he was the only freshman defender on that squad), Greg made the All-California and All-Western State Conference teams and was MVP of the conference. Current Trojans Bill Stokes and Bill Schultz also attended Glendale.

At Burbank (Calif.) High, he had 11 career interceptions (five as a 1981 senior). He made the All-Foothill League and L.A. Times All-Burbank/Glendale first teams as a senior and the All-League second team as a junior. Fellow Trojan Gary Willison also prepped at Burbank.

Coauette was a fine decathlete, too. He long jumped 23-6, triple jumped 48 feet, high jumped 6-8, pole vaulted 15-0 (he placed second in the CIF as a prep senior) and ran the 40 in 4.6. A cracked vertebrae suffered in the 1982 track season kept him out of football that fall (he had originally signed with Idaho State, but went to Glendale College instead). Of course, his sports hero is another decathlete, Bruce Jenner.

It's surprising that Coauette chose to attend USC. "I grew up a UCLA fan because my sister (Cindy) went to school there," he said. "When I was a kid, (ex-UCLA linebacker) Kenny Walker lived on the corner near my house and all the kids in the neighborhood used to hang around him. I really became a Bruin fan."

Greg is a communications major at USC. He likes to go motorcycle riding in his free time.

(8) CLEVELAND COLTER — Safety, 6-1, 195, So.

Although this will be his first year as the starting strong safety, the position is in experienced hands with young but mature Colter.

He earned Football News Freshman All-American honors in 1986 and was named the top freshman safety in the nation by The Sporting News while seeing considerable action as USC's nickel back and backup free safety. He posted 33 tackles, 3 pass deflections, an interception (returned for 1 yard against Oregon) and 2 fumble recoveries. He also returned 8 kickoffs for a 21.0 average, including a 32-yarder at Baylor and a 30-yarder against Notre Dame (he might handle that chore again in 1987). Cleveland and defensive tackle Tim Ryan were the only true (non-redshirt) freshmen to see action for Troy in 1986.

"Cleveland is one of several young Trojans with a bright future," says coach Larry Smith. "He's an excellent all-around athlete, a physical player and a good tackler. We'll rely on his maturity and experience to help mold our secondary. He'll play a lot not only on defense, but on special teams."

He was regarded as the top football talent in Arizona, when he gained 1,115 yards rushing, caught 48 passes for 752 yards and scored 213 points (tops in the state) as a senior in 1985 at McClintock High in Tempe (Ariz.). A multi-talented player, he also had 10 interceptions, 25 touchdowns, 8 field goals, and 39 extra points while leading the Chargers to an 11-2 record and the state semi-finals. He earned Adidas All-American, Bally All-American, and USA Today All-USA second team honors, along with being listed on The Sporting News Top 100 Recruits, Max Emfinger's Top 100, Super Prep Elite 100 and Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West. Cleveland was also named Arizona Player of the Year by the Arizona Republic and Phoenix Gazette, and was the Tucson Daily Star's Super 11 MVP. He set school records for points in a season (213), career rushing average (6.6 yards per carry) and pass receptions in a career (117). He once had 10 PATs in a game.

As a flanker in 1984, Colter caught 30 passes for 516 yards and 4 touchdowns, as well as gaining 678 yards on 48 carries on the ground (8 TDs). He also played guard on McClintock's state-champion basketball team in 1986.

His father, the late Cleveland Colter, was a prep All-American who still holds the state record for PATs in a career (136) and season (70). The elder Colter led the state in scoring in 1968 with 204 points.

The younger Colter has been timed in the 40 in 4.6. His football hero is Walter Payton because "he makes big plays." Colter likes to hunt in his free time. He was born in Tucson, Ariz.

(58) MARCUS COTTON — Outside Linebacker, 6-4, 220, Sr.

Meet the nation's top outside linebacker... no if's, and's or but's about it.

Cotton — who is quick (4.55 in the 40), mean, strong (he can bench press 375 pounds), mean, high-leaping (he has a 42-inch vertical leap and also plays basketball at USC), mean, dominant ("I like people, except when they're carrying a football," he once said), and mean — is everybody's candidate for the Butkus Award (given to the nation's top linebacker) and Lombardi Award (for the nation's outstanding lineman; he lines up on the line). He's also a leading nominee for first team All-American and first team All-Pac-10 honors. This past summer, he was named to the prestigious Playboy pre-season All-American team.

As a junior starting on the strong side last year (a three-year starter now, he'll be on the strong side again in 1987), Cotton was 1 of 16 Butkus Award semifinalists (1 of only 5 juniors) and won a slew of accolades: second team All-American by AP and The Sporting News, third team All-American by Football News, honorable mention All-American by UPI, first team All-Pac-10, first team on The Oregonian's Pac-10 all-stars (chosen by the media in the league area), second team UPI All-West Coast and USC's Defensive Player of the Year.

Marcus made 149 tackles last year (No. 3 at USC, No. 7 in the Pac-10). Best known for his big plays, he had a Pac-10-high 17 "Cotton Clubs" (tackles for a loss), including 10 quarterback sacks for 85 yards (tied for second in the Pac-10). In his career, he has an amazing 39 "Cotton Clubs" for minus 258 yards! Cotton also deflected 12 passes in 1986 (No. 3 in the Pac-10) and made a spectacular one-handed interception which he returned 24 yards for a touchdown against Auburn (he was named USC's Defensive MVP of the Florida Citrus Bowl, where he also notched 16 tackles). He was in double figures in tackles 8 times last fall (including 23 at Baylor) and won Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week honors for an 18-stop, 4-deflection performance against Washington.

"Marcus is the best outside linebacker I've ever coached," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a true All-American and deserving of all the awards coming to him. He makes big plays all over the field. Pass rushing is his specialty, but he excels in all areas. We must put him in a position to make as many big plays as possible, like a wild card player. He's a key to our defense."

Adds USC defensive coordinator Chris Allen, who coaches the outside linebackers: "The strongside outside linebacker has to be big, fast, strong, tough and have the ability to rush the passer and defend on the pass drop. He has to be a great athlete. That's why we have Marcus Cotton there. He's got great ability and great natural instincts. He's better than anyone I've ever coached at that position."

Cotton spent his first 2 years at USC on the weak side. A starter as a 1985 sophomore, he had 110 tackles (No. 3 on the team), including a squad-high 15 for losses of 106 yards (third best in the Pac-10). Ten of those were crunching quarterback sacks for minus 95 yards, the second most sacks in the league. He posted double figures in tackles 5 times that fall, topped by a USC 1985 single-game best of 18 at California. He also deflected 6 passes and recovered 2 fumbles (1 for a TD after a bad center snap on a Washington State punt try and 1 out of the air at the goal line against UCLA that counted as an intercepted fumble). For all this, Cotton made All-Pac-10 honorable mention and The Oregonian's Pac-10 all-star second team (selected by the conference's media), as well as being the Mirage Bowl Defensive Player of the Game (for getting 15 tackles against Oregon) and the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week after the UCLA contest (with 12 stops).

The following spring, Cotton was switched from the weak side to the strong side in order to become more involved in pass coverage assignments.

As a big impact 1984 freshman, Cotton backed up All-American (and current New Orleans Saint) Jack Del Rio on the weak side . . . and showed all the makings of another Del Rio. Used primarily in pass rushing situations, Cotton logged 44 minutes of playing time and recorded 20 tackles, 7 of which were for losses of 50 yards (including an incredible 6 quarterback sacks for 49 yards). He also deflected 2 passes and recovered a fumble.

Cotton was a dominant force at inside linebacker for Castlemont High in Oakland (Calif.), when he made 75 tackles (17 in one game), including 15 sacks in 1983 (only his second year playing football). He was All-City and All-Oakland Athletic League for two years, plus Blue Chips All-American in 1983.

He was regarded more highly as a basketball player, though, as he averaged 18.4 points and 19 rebounds as a senior. He was a two-year All-League, All-City and All-Bay Area pick and once scored 48 points in a game. After the 1985 Rose Bowl, he joined the Pacific-10 co-champion USC basketball team as a reserve forward and appeared briefly in 1 contest. He did the same thing last season, playing briefly in 2 games.

Cotton says his sports hero is former NFL standout Lyle Alzado, "because he hated people who carried the ball!" He spent the summer of 1986 as a counselor for USC's National Youth Sports Program, an NCAA-sponsored summer sports camp for economically-disadvantaged inner city youths. He's a communications major at USC.

MARCUS COTTON SPEAKS OUT ON . . .

. . . HIS PLAYING STYLE. "You cannot call the way I play, 'defense.' I take the offensive. The L.A. Raider-type defensive players — like Jack Tatum, Lyle Alzado and Howie Long — are my kind of players. We have the same mentality. Nothing stops us from making the plays. That's the kind of player I pride myself on being. When I take the field, hell's in session."

. . . QUARTERBACK SACKS. "The best part of playing outside linebacker is getting a sack. I love harassing quarterbacks. That's my specialty. For some reason, I don't like quarterbacks. I don't even like our own quarterback when he's on the field. If you're a quarterback, I'm going to be after you."

. . . HOW TEAMS TRY TO STOP HIM. "A lot of teams double- and triple-team me. They do a lot of holding and a lot of cheap-shooting, and the officials don't look. But where there's a will, there's a way. If they cheap-shot me, they're fair game."

. . . BEING AN ALL-AMERICAN. "I want to be an All-American. I love the bright lights and attention that go along with being an All-American. I want to win the Butkus Award and Lombardi Award. I want to make the covers of national magazines. And I especially want to be on the Bob Hope television show (for making the AP All-American team)!"

. . . COMPARISON TO PAST TROJAN ALL-AMERICANS. "People have said I'm the next Jack Del Rio or Chip Banks. I wonder why I can't just be Marcus Cotton. I'd rather be myself. But what I learned from players like Del Rio and Duane Bickett was how important effort is. They kept telling me the one thing you should never do is quit. If you play hard every down, you can't go wrong. And you should never be too satisfied with yourself. Otherwise, you might start taking it too easy."

. . . BASKETBALL. "Basketball is my first love. I consider myself a basketball player who plays football. People ask me which sport I prefer and I say, 'I like basketball because you get to slam dunk on people and I like football because you get to slam dunk people . . . They don't bounce!'"

WHAT OTHERS HAVE SAID ABOUT MARCUS COTTON

Gary Silvers, Orlando Sentinel: "Off the field, Cotton is friendly, charming and easygoing, with a wide smile. On the field, he is mean, intimidating and aggressive, a grizzly bear in shoulder pads."

Jim Murray, Los Angeles Times: "This 100% Cotton, who wears a gold chain with that on it in case you wondered, has no polyester and has given a new dimension to the once blue-collar job of linebacker. He steals the picture, so to speak, week after week . . . Marcus Cotton brings a little style to the role. He gives it a little panache."

Mike Waldner, South Bay Daily Breeze: "Marcus Cotton doesn't just play linebacker. He plays all over the field."

Gil Brandt, Dallas Cowboys vice president of personnel development: "Marcus Cotton may be the 'state-of-the-art' linebacker. He rushes, he covers, he fills, he chases and he has the knack for getting to the ball effectively."

One West Coast college assistant coach: "Teams notice Marcus Cotton. He's not the type of player who stays anonymous."

One NFL assistant coach: "Marcus Cotton is a premier player. He's a dominating, big play man with great speed, natural strength and enthusiasm. He's got everything you look for in a complete outside linebacker."

MARCUS COTTON

(50) TOM DABASINSKAS — Center, 6-5, 245, Fr.

Dabasinskas is listed as the No. 2 center after redshirting in 1986, his first season at USC. The coaching staff feels he's on the verge of big things at Troy.

"Tom had a real good spring practice and improved each day," says coach Larry Smith. "He'll see some action as a backup and, despite his youth, we feel he'd be a capable starter if needed. He's very intelligent and aggressive, and has great work habits."

He was one of the nation's most highly recruited centers as a senior in 1985 at San Pasqual High in Escondido (Calif.). The team captain at San Pasqual as a junior and senior, Dabasinskas made Cal-Hi Sports All-State, All-CIF San Diego Section first team, Avocado League Co-Player of the Year, All-North County first team, L.A. Times San Diego County Lineman of the Year and Super Prep Elite 100 recruits in 1985. Other senior honors included San Diego Tribune Offensive Lineman of the Year and Scholar-Athlete, Bally's All-American, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete and San Diego Hall of Champions Prep Athlete of the Month (for October, 1985).

As a 1984 junior, Tom also earned All-CIF San Diego Section, All-Avocado League and All-North County first team honors and made the L.A. Times All-San Diego County second team, U.S. Army Reserve Junior All-Stars and Street & Smith pre-season All-American. An outstanding student, Dabasinskas maintained a 3.98 grade-point average (straight A's with just a B in 4 years of high school). Tom also played varsity basketball as a prep. His alma mater also produced current USC offensive tackle John Page.

Naturally, his sports heroes are two superb NFL centers: Jay Hilgenberg and Dwight Stephenson. Tom is a business major at USC and has the team's highest GPA (3.81), an A—average. He was born in Peoria, Ill.

(60) KEITH DAVIS — Inside Linebacker, 6-1, 235, Sr.

When it comes to making tackles, you can count on Davis. He'll be starting for the third year at inside linebacker.

Known for his strength, toughness and intelligence, the fireplug Davis was second on the team in tackles (sixth in the Pac-10) as a junior starting inside linebacker last year. He had 155 stops (he was in double figures 9 times) and also deflected 3 passes, had a Pac-10-leading 4 fumble recoveries, and caused another fumble. He posted 18 stops against Washington State and UCLA, 15 against Arizona State, Notre Dame and Auburn, 14 at Baylor, and 12 versus Washington, Arizona and California. The Trojans scored after 3 of his fumble recoveries (touchdowns in the Washington and Oregon games, and a field goal versus Notre Dame). He did all this despite playing most of the season with a broken left thumb (suffered against Washington). It's no wonder that Davis is now a first team All-Pac-10 candidate.

"Keith is just a real fine all-around inside linebacker, one of the best in the league," says coach Larry Smith. "He's one of the toughest and strongest players on our team, and is a real leader, too. He's one of the keys to our defense."

Adds USC inside linebackers coach Tom Roggeman: "Keith is just so strong and so dedicated. And he's the ideal young man, both on and off the field."

As a sophomore starter in 1985, Davis topped USC in tackles with 128 (3 for a loss). He was in double digits in tackles in 9 games (with a high of 16 at California). He also recovered 2 fumbles, both of which set up USC scores (a TD versus Washington and a field goal against California).

As a backup in 1984, Davis posted 28 tackles (1 for a loss) and 1 pass deflection.

Davis was about to become a starter in 1983, but was struck down with season-ending torn right knee ligaments in USC's fifth game (Washington State). He ended up with 12 tackles (including 10 at South Carolina) even though he didn't play in USC's first 2 contests while nursing a broken left wrist. Because of the injuries, he played just 17 minutes overall and was able to get the year of eligibility back as a redshirt. He sat out the spring of 1984 while recovering.

Keith was a first team All-American linebacker (Parade, National High School Athletic Coaches Association, Adidas/Scholastic Coach) in 1982 at Santa Monica (Calif.) High. He averaged 13 stops a game as a senior. He started 3 years at both linebacker and offensive guard and was a two-time All-CIF Division II first team guard. He also made the All-State and Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West teams, as well as being a three-time All-Bay League choice (Lineman of the Year in 1982). Current Trojan Pat O'Hara also prepped at Santa Monica.

Keith is a fine student, too, posting a B average (3.06 GPA) while majoring in business finance at USC. He made the 1985 and 1986 Pac-10 All-Academic teams.

When he has a free moment, he likes to read the Bible and sing Gospel music. He says his favorite athlete is NBA basketball player Terry Cummings "because he's a great player and an ordained minister."

"I'm a committed Christian," Davis said. "Everything I do, I try to please the Lord. I do everything my best, and some people ask me why I work so hard. I do it for the Lord. It pleases me . . . I think my faith makes me stronger because when you're pressing forward to a higher goal, you know what you're doing isn't in vain."

Davis can bench press 450 pounds, making him the strongest Trojan. "I love lifting weights and I love training," he said. "God has blessed me with great strength. I've been able to increase my strength greatly without any help from steroids. It's all natural. I take pride in it."

*Injury redshirt

(74) CHUCK EBERTIN — Offensive Tackle, 6-6, 260, So.

Listed as the No. 2 left tackle (along with John Page), Ebertin adds quality depth to the USC offensive line this year and has the potential to become a starter in the future.

"After starting slowly last spring, Chuck really came on and finished fast," says coach Larry Smith. "He showed us some things that indicate he has the ability to start here some day. He could see some playing time in 1987 as a backup."

Ebertin played sparingly as a backup weakside tackle as a redshirt freshman last year. He was coming off of torn ligaments in his right knee which he suffered in 1986 spring drills (he had surgery) and he was never fully ready to play until the middle of the 1986 slate.

Ebertin redshirted in 1985 after coming to USC as a highly-touted lineman at Bellarmine Prep High in San Jose (Calif.). Despite missing parts of his junior and senior seasons with injuries, he earned Parade All-American honors in 1984. He missed the first 7 games of his senior campaign with a back injury, but played impressively in the final 6 while helping his 12-1 team to the West Catholic League title and second place in the CIF Central Coast Section. He was also named All-Northern California, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team and Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West. A knee injury forced Chuck to sit out most of his 1983 junior year. Current Trojan Steve Mills also attended Bellarmine Prep.

Ebertin is an international business finance major at USC with a B+ average (3.42 GPA). He said he came to USC because "that's where you go to be a good offensive lineman." His football hero is ex-NFL star John Hannah. Chuck likes to play video games in his leisure time.

(96) ANTHONY ERVIN — Defensive Guard, 6-4, 250, Jr.

Ervin missed last spring's practice because of academic ineligibility and his status this fall is uncertain, but if he returns he could add some solid depth to the defensive line.

As a 1986 sophomore, he figured to be a starting defensive tackle before the season began, but a sprained ankle suffered in pre-season drills forced him to miss USC's first 3 games. He played sparingly as a reserve after returning, making 3 tackles (1 for a loss).

He played briefly in 1985, recording one tackle, after redshirting in 1984, his first year at USC. After that redshirt campaign, Ervin underwent surgery to repair torn left knee ligaments and missed spring drills.

Ervin was in on 106 tackles (including 22 in 1 contest) and 13 quarterback sacks as a 1983 senior at Compton (Calif.) High. He also caused 7 fumbles, recovered 3 others and blocked a field goal attempt while winning All-Moore League and Los Angeles Times All-South Coast laurels as well as Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention notice. He started 2 years on defense and 3 years on the offensive line.

Anthony is a public administration major at USC. He lists former NFL star Lyle Alzado as his sports hero "because he's such an intense competitor."

(10) SHANE FOLEY — Quarterback, 6-2, 200, Fr.

A young quarterback with a promising future, Foley and fellow redshirt freshman Pat O'Hara are battling for the No. 3 spot behind Rodney Peete and Kevin McLean on the depth chart.

"Shane is a keen competitor who always manages to get the job done," says coach Larry Smith. "He had a very good spring and showed he can move the team and get it to score points. He gives us solid, young depth at the quarterback position. You'll be hearing from him in the future."

Foley redshirted last year after a record-breaking career playing quarterback at Newport Harbor High in Newport Beach (Calif.). He completed 381-of-642 career passes for 5,361 yards to set the all-time Orange County yardage mark.

While leading Newport Harbor to the Seaview League title as a senior in 1985, he connected on 227-of-370 passes (61.4%) for 3,057 yards (an Orange County single season record) and 31 touchdowns, and had only 13 passes intercepted. He was named CIF Central Conference MVP, Seaview League MVP and was listed on The Register's All-County second team and Top 25 Recruits, The Sporting News' Top 100 honorable mention and the L.A. Herald-Examiner's pre-season Super 11 second team in 1985. Shane also rushed for 246 yards and 2 TDs, and had 4 interceptions playing defensive back in 1985. In his final game, Foley completed 37-of-55 passes for 381 yards and 4 touchdowns.

He helped Newport Harbor to a league championship in 1984, too, and earned All-CIF Division III second team, The Register's All-County second team and All-Seaview League first team honors.

Foley has run the 40 in 4.8 and bench pressed 285 pounds. His coach at Newport Harbor was former USC assistant (1961-65) Mike Giddings, who also coached USC's Dave Cadigan in high school. An all-around athlete, Shane also played basketball and baseball, and ran track at Newport Harbor.

His uncle is Steve Foley, a defensive back with the Denver Broncos. Shane's football hero, though, is Joe Montana because of "his poise and leadership on the field." Foley has a B- average (2.77 GPA) in the classroom at USC.

(85) SCOTT FREIER — Tight End, 6-4, 240, Fr.

After redshirting last season, his first at USC, Freier has developed into a solid, young tight end. He's also the backup snapper.

"Scott is very young and inexperienced, but he'll see some backup action in 1987," says coach Larry Smith. "He has some good blocking abilities, although he's still trying to develop his strength and speed."

Freier earned All-CIF Northern California first team honors as a senior in 1985 while playing tight end at Antioch (Calif.) High. An excellent blocker, Freier caught 42 passes for 651 yards (15.5 average) and 3 touchdowns in his prep career. He was also named All-North Coast, All-East Bay first team, All-Diablo Valley League first team and CIF Scholar-Athlete. A versatile athlete, he also played forward on Antioch's basketball team and was an All-East Bay pitcher-first baseman on the baseball squad.

Scott's football idol is NFL star Todd Christensen "because he's the perfect example of a tight end."

(91) GENE FRUGE — Nose Guard, 6-5, 260, Fr.

Just a redshirt freshman, Fruge is the No. 2 nose guard and figures to provide top-notch depth to the defensive line.

"Gene improved steadily throughout the spring," says coach Larry Smith. "He's young and inexperienced, but he'll see action as a backup. In time, he'll be a big contributor here."

Fruge redshirted in 1986, his first season at Troy because of a dislocated finger and sprained ankle.

He earned All-Central Coast Section second team honors as a two-way tackle in 1985 (only his third year of organized football) at Oak Grove High in San Jose (Calif.). He averaged 7 tackles per game as a senior. He played alongside Tim Ryan at Oak Grove, who is currently also at USC. Gene was also named All-Mt. Hamilton League first team and All-Bay Area first team. He was a reserve behind Ryan as a junior in 1984.

(44) DERRICK GACHETT — Fullback, 6-2, 225, So.

Gachett is listed along with Jeff Brown as the No. 2 fullback and figures to see some action at this high-collision position.

"Derrick is a good blocker, runner and receiver," says coach Larry Smith. "He had a good spring practice, although a nagging hamstring injury slowed him somewhat. He's in the thick of the battle for the backup fullback job."

He saw limited action as a redshirt freshman last fall, playing primarily on special teams (he did not carry the ball). He redshirted in 1985 and missed 1986 spring drills with a right ankle sprain.

Gachett played fullback and defensive end for 1984 CIF Southern Conference runner-up Esperanza High in Anaheim (Calif.), but it was on defense where he gained the most notice as a prep. He was named Empire League Defensive Player of the Year and made The Register's All-Orange County first team on defense in 1984. At fullback, he gained 749 yards on 105 carries (7.1 average) and had a 92-yard run from scrimmage. Current Trojan John Ledesma also prepped at Esperanza.

An avid weightlifter, Derrick won the Orange County high school powerlifting title in the 220-pound class in 1984 and has bests of 360 in the bench press, 580 in the dead lift and 440 in the squat. He has run the 40 in 4.7. His sports hero is ex-Trojan Marcus Allen. Gachett was born in Indianapolis, Ind. He's a public administration major at USC.

(86) SCOTT GALBRAITH — Tight End, 6-3, 240, So.

Galbraith has developed into a fine tight end, to the point where he is battling Paul Green for the starting position as just a sophomore.

He made only 1 catch as a redshirt freshman in limited action last year while backing up Green as the H-back (tight end-in-motion), but it was a big one. He caught a 2-yard toss for a touchdown at Arizona to open the scoring in USC's 20-13 victory. Most of Gailbraith's playing time came on special teams, though, where he fielded 2 short kickoffs and returned them 25 yards (12.5 average).

"Scott doesn't have much experience, but he really improved throughout the spring," says coach Larry Smith. "Our biggest concern is his inconsistency, but that's because of his inexperience. Everything else is there. He's really fighting for the starting job."

In his first year at USC (1985), Galbraith redshirted and then had left knee cartilage surgery following 1986 spring practice.

He caught 34 passes (17.0 average) and scored 6 touchdowns as a tight end for Highlands High in North Highlands (Calif.) in 1984. As a defensive lineman, he led his team in tackles. He helped his team to 12 straight wins in 1984 before losing in the section semis. He was named to the All-Northern California, Sacramento Bee and Sacramento Union All-City and Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West teams as a senior, and was a two-time All-Delta League pick. He once scored 3 TDs in a game but he also once ran the wrong way with a kickoff and scored a safety for the other team.

An excellent basketball player, Galbraith was the Delta League MVP while averaging 16 points a game and leading Highlands to the Delta League championship his last 2 years. He scored 30 points in his best game as a prep. He served as student body president, too.

He's a public administration major at USC. Asked about his favorite pastime, he said, "Going to church and, more than anything, singing!"

(9) DWAYNE GARNER — Cornerback, 6-0, 190, So.

USC's dime back last year, Garner emerged out of spring drills as the starting pass coverage halfback in the secondary (although he's being pushed by Ernest Spears). He impressed the coaches not only as a halfback, but he showed he can also play cornerback and free safety.

Dwayne was the backup run support cornerback as a redshirt freshman last fall and was used whenever USC went to a 6-defensive back formation. He even started the Florida Citrus Bowl for an injured Greg Coauette and intercepted a pass near the goal line which he returned 7 yards. Garner was also a key special teams player, a role he'll continue this year. On the season, he notched 40 tackles and 3 pass deflections, plus the interception. After this past spring's practice, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove cartilage from his right knee, but he's fine now.

"Dwayne improved throughout the spring and we feel he's ready to handle the responsibilities that go with his position," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a versatile defensive back and a good special teams player. He'll see extensive duty in 1987."

Garner redshirted in 1985 after a stellar career as a running back and linebacker at Skyline High in Oakland (Calif.), where he was named Bay Area Player of the Year by the San Francisco Examiner in 1984. As a running back, he gained 1,259 yards rushing and scored 16 touchdowns as a senior, which broke school records held by ex-UCLA star Theotis Brown. Defensively, Garner had 139 tackles, 3 interceptions and 8 sacks. Other honors included East Bay Player of the Year, Oakland Athletic League Player of the Year, All-Northern California and All-State in 1984, and All-Oakland Athletic League first team in 1983 and 1984. He led his team to an undefeated 10-0 season and No. 1 ranking in the East Bay as a senior.

As a junior, he rushed for 310 yards and 5 TDs, and had 60 tackles, 2 interceptions and 3 sacks. His sophomore stats included 108 yards rushing, 2 scores, 43 tackles and 1 sack. An excellent special teams player, Dwayne once returned a punt 85 yards for a TD. He was also Skyline's top basketball player.

His brother, Dwight, was a tailback at California (1982-85) who handled the ball in the famous 5-lateral TD play that beat Stanford in 1982 as the clock ran out. Another brother, Felipe, was a two-year starting guard for Cal State Bakersfield's basketball team. Dwayne runs the 40 in 4.7. His sports hero is ex-Trojan All-American defensive back Ronnie Lott.

(92) DON GIBSON — Nose Guard, 6-3, 250, Fr.

New USC coach Larry Smith is very familiar with Gibson. Gibson's older brother, Boomer, was a starting outside linebacker for Smith at Arizona (Boomer returns there for his senior year in 1987). And now Don, just a redshirt freshman, will start at nose guard for Smith this season at USC.

"Don comes from good family stock," says Smith. "He's a very physical player who plays well in a crowd, which is an important trait for a nose guard. He had a very good spring and, although he's young, I expect him to give our defensive line a real boost."

Gibson redshirted in 1986. As a two-way tackle, he started every game for 3 years (1983-85) at El Modena High in Orange (Calif.). Defensively, he had 73 tackles, 5 sacks, 3 forced fumbles and 5 pass deflections as a senior. He set a school record by averaging a grade of 3.95 (out of 5.0) on each play for offensive line blocking. He was named All-CIF Southern Section (on offense), CIF Southern Conference co-MVP, Cal-Hi Sports All-State, The Register's Orange County Defensive Player of the Year and Top 25 Recruits, Century League Player of the Year, The Sporting News' Top 100 and L.A. Herald-Examiner's pre-season Super 11 honorable mention in 1985.

Gibson helped El Modena to the CIF Southern Conference titles in 1983 and 1984 (the Vanguards lost in the semi-finals in 1985). He made The Register's All-Orange County second team on offense as a junior in 1984.

Don's father, Frank, graduated from Army and was later an assistant coach on the Cadet football team. Gibson, along with current Trojan Rex Moore, is 1 of 2 El Modena alumni on USC's roster. Don's hobby is scuba diving. He was born in Atlanta, Ga.

(17) PAUL GREEN — Tight End, 6-3, 230, Jr.

Green was on the field quite a bit last year as the often-used H-back (or tight end-in-motion) and should see even more playing time in 1987 as he's contesting Scott Galbraith for the starting tight end position. He also could be USC's punter.

"Paul has all the physical tools to be a great player," says coach Larry Smith. "He just needs to develop consistency. If so, he could be the top tight end in the league. He had a fine spring practice, particularly the first part of it. He's a versatile tight end who can catch the ball well short or deep, and he's become a better blocker. And he's got a strong punting leg, too."

As a sophomore last fall, the good-hands, tough-blocking Green made 12 catches for 158 yards (13.2 average), including at least 1 grab in each of the last 9 games (he missed the opener with a sprained ankle). He also served as USC's backup punter and booted a surprise 58-yarder to get the Trojans out of trouble on third down at Arizona.

Green played in USC's first 3 games of 1985, catching 6 passes for 48 yards (8.0 average), and had won the starting H-back job from Joe Cormier. But a severely sprained right ankle in practice before the fourth game (Oregon State) forced him out for the rest of the year and he was able to redshirt because of the early-season injury.

Green exhibited his unique versatility and talent as just a freshman in 1984. As Cormier's backup, Paul caught 1 pass for 9 yards. He also saw lots of action on special teams, and when injuries depleted USC's fullback depth in the UCLA game, he became the No. 2 fullback (he never carried the ball, though). And he spelled Troy Richardson as USC's punter midway through the Washington game and into the UCLA contest, averaging 33.1 yards on 7 boots. In all, he played 33 minutes.

Green caught 43 passes for 836 yards (19.4 average) and 11 touchdowns as a tight end in 1983 for CIF Central Section runner-up Clovis (Calif.) West High near Fresno. He was named to the All-Northern California, All-Metro and All-North Yosemite League teams as a senior. He was also picked as the Lineman of the Year for the Metro area and the North Yosemite League, as well as honorable mention in the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West poll. He had 6 catches for 154 yards and ran one 63 yards for the winning TD towards the end of the CIF Central Section semi-finals. He also averaged 39 yards as a punter, receiving snaps from current Trojan teammate Scott Brennan.

Paul earned All-North Yosemite League honors in basketball, averaging 17 points per game as a senior, and pitched for the baseball team.

Green, who likes to fish in his free time, is half Samoan. He's majoring in communications at USC.

(61) JOHN GUERRERO — Offensive Tackle, 6-4, 310, Jr.

Guerrero, USC's biggest player at 310 pounds, is the No. 2 right tackle this season, and the coaches believe one day he'll be a superb player.

"John has the chance to be an outstanding offensive lineman in the near future if he can keep his weight under control," says coach Larry Smith. "Right now, he's young and inexperienced, but he's a great run blocker and could be just as good of a pass blocker if his weight stays down. That's the key."

Guerrero was set to start at weakside tackle as a sophomore last season, but then he tore left knee ligaments in pre-season practice and was sidelined the rest of the year. It was the second time in less than a year that he tore ligaments in his left knee. He played briefly as a reserve in 1985 before suffering the knee injury in USC's fourth game (Oregon State). But he recuperated in time to play some in the Aloha Bowl. John redshirted in 1984.

He was an All-CIF Division II first teamer as an offensive tackle in 1983 at Oxnard (Calif.) High. He also made the All-Channel League and All-Ventura County first teams in 1982 and 1983.

John is among the largest players ever to come to USC, reminiscent of ex-Trojan great (and current NFL star) Anthony Munoz, whom Guerrero lists as his sports hero. John is a public administration major at USC. He can bench press 385 pounds.

(40) CRAIG HARTSUYKER — Outside Linebacker, 6-4, 210, Fr.

Here's a young player with a good-looking future. Just a redshirt freshman, Hartsuyker is already listed as the No. 2 weakside outside linebacker.

"Craig had an excellent spring and really opened our eyes," says coach Larry Smith. "He makes things happen. He's big and rangy, he runs and hits well, and he plays with desire. He'll see extensive playing time on defense and special teams in 1987."

Hartsuyker redshirted in 1986 after being the leading tackler (119) as a senior in 1985 at Orange Glen High in Escondido (Calif.). He also was credited with 6 sacks, 4 blocked kicks, 3 fumble recoveries and 3 pass deflections. Craig was an All-CIF San Diego Section first team pick, as well as the Palomar League Defensive Player of the Year and a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete.

Hartsuyker registered 78 tackles, 6 sacks and 4 blocked kicks as a junior in 1984. He was named to the All-Palomar League first team in 1984. He has been timed in 4.6 for the 40.

(22) CURTIS HEIN — Safety, 6-0, 170, Fr.

Hein, a redshirt freshman who is listed as the No. 2 strong safety (along with Jeff Maree), comes from a famous athletic family.

His grandfather, Mel Hein, is a member of the NFL Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame (after playing at Washington State) and was an assistant football coach at USC from 1951 to 1965. Curtis' father, Mel Hein Jr., was a Trojan pole vaulter in 1961 to 1963 and held the world indoor record in 1965. And Curtis' older brother, Gary, was a cornerback at California from 1983 to 1986.

"Curtis has some good bloodlines," says coach Larry Smith. "But he's a young player who still needs some seasoning. He might see some action in 1987 on special teams and, in time, will play a bigger role for us."

Hein redshirted in 1986 after earning All-Sunset League honors in 1984 and 1985 as a defensive back at Taft High in Woodland Hills (Calif.). In his two-year career at Taft, Hein had 6 interceptions, 88 tackles, 11 sacks, 3 blocked kicks and returned a kickoff for a touchdown. He was named to the L.A. Herald Examiner's Super 11 honorable mention before the 1985 season.

A versatile athlete, Hein also starred in volleyball (an All-City pick) and track (ran a leg on the L.A. City-champion 400-meter relay team as a senior). His best marks in track include 11.0 for 100 meters, 22-0 in the long jump and 43-0 in the triple jump. He has also been timed in 4.6 in the 40.

In his spare time, Curtis likes to hunt and fish.

(97) DERYL HENDERSON — Defensive Tackle, 6-5, 250, Jr.

Henderson missed practice last spring because of academic ineligibility and his status in 1987 is up in the air. But if he's back, he'll add some backup quality and experience to USC's young defensive line.

Deryl started USC's first 6 games at defensive tackle as a 1986 sophomore before a sprained neck suffered in the Washington State contest sidelined him for 2 games (Stanford and Arizona). He played in every game besides those 2 and even returned to the starting lineup for the Notre Dame game. On the year, he recorded 47 tackles (including 5 for a loss), plus a pass deflection. He had 10 stops at Baylor.

Henderson progressed well enough as a 1985 redshirt freshman that he saw considerable action after starting nose guard Tony Colorito missed the last half of the season with an injury. Deryl recorded 8 tackles (1 for a loss) and even started the UCLA game.

He redshirted in 1984 and missed the following spring's practice because of cartilage and ligament surgery on his right knee.

In 1983, Henderson was an offensive lineman for L.A. City 4-A champion Banning High in Wilmington (Calif.). He was All-L.A. City 4-A first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay, Daily Breeze All-South Bay and All-Pacific League. He also played basketball and baseball. Deryl is one of 4 former Banning players on the USC roster, along with Leroy Holt, Mark Tucker and Marvin Pollard.

He spends his spare time bike riding and playing golf.

(81) KEN HENRY — Split End, 6-3, 200, Sr.

Henry, the sure-handed, lanky split end, is one of the best big-play receivers on the West Coast, if not the entire country. Although he missed last spring's drills because of academic ineligibility, he'll return this fall as a first team All-Pac-10 nominee.

In his first year as a starter last season as a junior, Henry hauled in a team-high 43 receptions (tied for fifth most in the Pac-10) for 807 yards (second most in the Pac-10 and 17th in the nation) for a stellar 18.8 average and 7 TDs. The 43 grabs is No. 4 on USC's single season list (and his 47 career catches in 25th on the all-time Trojan ladder). Ken caught at least 1 pass in each game he played in 1986 (he missed the Florida Citrus Bowl with a hamstring injury). Against Washington State, he had 7 catches for 148 yards and a 53-yard TD, and he also clutched 7 aerials for 76 yards at Baylor, including a dramatic 12-yard soaring back-of-the-end-zone TD grab.

Henry also had 6 catches for 92 yards against Oregon, 4 for 98 yards versus Illinois and 2 TDs (one was a 26-yard score as he outjumped a defender before falling out of bounds at the flag and the other came off a 30-yard flanker pass from Randy Tanner), 4 for 92 yards versus Arizona State, and 3 for 88 yards and 2 TDs (a 67-yarder from Tanner and a 13-yarder) against Washington.

Ken's 7 scores were the most TDs by a USC receiver since Kevin Williams had 8 in 1979. Henry began the year with a bang, getting 5 scores (on 14 catches) in USC's first 3 games. The average length of his TDs was 34.9 yards (26, 30, 12, 67, 13, 53 and 43 yards). The 67-yarder was USC's longest completion of the year. For all this, Ken was named honorable mention AP All-American, second team All-Pac-10 and second team on The Oregonian's Pac-10 all-star team (chosen by media in the league area).

"We haven't seen Ken in our offense yet because he wasn't out during the spring, but we know he's a very experienced and talented big-play receiver," says coach Larry Smith. "He's one of the best in the Pac-10. It's important that he gets back into the flow of things quickly."

USC receivers coach Ron Turner says: "Ken has everything you look for in a great receiver — size, speed, toughness, good hands, leaping ability, and willingness to work hard. I really believe he has a chance to be one of the best receivers in the country."

Adds Trojan quarterback Rodney Peete: "If I throw it up to Ken, I'm almost sure he'll come down with it. He's got that incredible vertical jump (37 inches) and he's got great timing."

Before 1986, Henry's career at USC consisted almost exclusively of his play in the 1985 Aloha Bowl. He made his first start in that game and got his first Trojan catches (4 for 83 yards, a 20.8 average). Until then, he played only briefly in 1984 and 1985 (he missed USC's first four games that season with a pulled hamstring) without making a catch after redshirting in 1983.

That lack of playing time was frustrating for Henry: "At one point, I was discouraged," he said. "But my teammates told me to hang in there and I'd get a shot . . . It was especially frustrating because Tim McDonald (Henry's former high school and USC teammate) was playing a lot and I just had to sit back and watch. When I went home, people would want to know why Tim was playing and I wasn't. I'd have to explain to them what redshirting meant. It took a while for me to get over it. Tim was great about it; he told me to just hang in there and it would work out better for me. It has."

At Edison High in Fresno (Calif.), Henry was on the receiving end of McDonald's passes. He grabbed 64 aerials for 1,118 yards and 13 touchdowns as a 1982 senior. He was named All-Northern California, All-Metro and All-North Yosemite League, as well as honorable mention on the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West poll. He also starred on the basketball team.

He's a public administration major at USC who lists fishing among his hobbies. He has an appropriate sports hero: former Trojan All-American receiver Lynn Swann. Ken spent this past summer as a counselor for USC's National Youth Sports Program, an NCAA-sponsored summer sports camp for economically-disadvantaged inner city youths.

(39) LEROY HOLT — Fullback, 6-0, 215, So.

After spending last fall as the backup fullback, the quick, hard-hitting Holt will move into the starting role in 1987. Although he's young, he gained valuable experience last year.

Leroy gained 158 yards on 41 carries (3.9 average) and scored 3 times (including an impressive 14-yard jaunt against Oregon) while backing up Todd Steele. His 3 scores were the most by a Trojan fullback since Marcus Allen scored 8 times from that position in 1979. Holt's most productive outing was in the Florida Citrus Bowl, when he started for an injured Steele and led USC in rushing with 34 yards on 9 attempts. He also had 31 yards on 4 carries against California, including a 23-yard burst up the middle to set up a TD.

"We have a lot of confidence in Leroy," says coach Larry Smith. "He had a fine spring. He combines excellent blocking and running ability, and his quickness is a real asset for that position."

Holt redshirted in 1985 after earning All-L.A. City first team honors in 1984 as a fullback at Banning High in Wilmington (Calif.). He gained 1,200 yards (6.5 average) while leading his team to the City title game as a senior. Despite a badly sprained ankle, Holt ran for 5 touchdowns (including a 75-yarder) in a playoff game. Other 1984 honors included All-Pacific League first team, The Daily Breeze's All-South Bay first team, L.A. Times All-South Bay second team and Most Valuable Back at Banning. He was mostly used at tight end as a junior for the 1983 City champs.

He is one of 4 Banning alumni on the current USC roster, along with Marvin Pollard, Deryl Henderson and Mark Tucker. Leroy says his sports hero is ex-Trojan Marcus Allen. Holt runs the 40 in 4.7. He was born in Brenham, Tex. In the summer of 1986, Leroy was a counselor for USC's National Youth Sports Program, an NCAA-sponsored summer sports camp for inner city youths.

(1) JOHN JACKSON — Flanker, 5-11, 180, So.

Jackson is competing for the starting flanker job with Randy Tanner after an outstanding showing in the spring. Whether he starts or not, this exciting, big-play sophomore will see plenty of action. He might also return punts and kick-offs.

"John combines speed, strength and pass catching ability to be an instant big-play receiver," says coach Larry Smith. "He was really impressive during the spring. He's young, but he's got the talent that makes our wide receiver positions so deep with quality players."

Jackson backed up Tanner at flanker last year as a redshirt freshman and was used often in 3-wideout formations. He caught 16 passes for 228 yards (14.3 average). He grabbed 3 aerials in 3 different games (for 53 yards against Illinois, 50 yards versus Oregon and 49 yards against Washington).

A 1985 redshirt at USC, Jackson made the 1984 All-CIF Division I first team as a wide receiver at Bishop Amat High in La Puente (Calif.). He caught 55 passes for 781 yards and 8 touchdowns as a senior and was named Angelus League Offensive Player of the Year, L.A. Times and San Gabriel Valley Tribune All-San Gabriel Valley and All-Angelus League first team. Defensively, he had 2 interceptions.

As a junior in 1983, he had 36 receptions for 794 yards and 8 scores while winning All-League honors on a team that lost in the CIF Big 5 finals.

He ended his prep career second to former Trojan star John McKay on Bishop Amat's all-time lists for receptions in a season (55), receiving yardage in a season (794) and career (1,583), and TD receptions in a season (8) and career (16). He even threw 2 touchdowns in his career. He was also an All-League baseball player.

Along with Randy Tanner and Rigo Diaz, Jackson is one of 3 Bishop Amat alumni playing for the Trojans. He's a business major at USC with a B average (3.14 GPA). His father, John, is a former USC assistant football coach (1976-81) who is now an executive with Jerry Buss' Prime Ticket cable company. The younger Jackson says his sports hero is one of the NFL's all-time great receivers, John Jefferson, because "his initials are 'J.J.' like mine and some of the plays he makes are unbelievable." He was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. He runs the 4.0 in 4.6.

(55) JOHN KATNIK — Center, 6-1, 250, Sr.

Katnik, a bulldog of a center, made quite an impression last year when he transferred to Troy in the spring of 1986 from Fullerton (Calif.) College and wound up the starter in the fall. He figures to keep up those rave reviews in 1987.

John was set to serve as the backup center behind Bruce Parks in 1986, but when pre-season injuries on the offensive line forced Parks to switch to tackle, Katnik moved into the starting center spot. He did a good job.

"John is a fine scheme blocker and he blocks linebackers very well," says coach Larry Smith. "He's also a good senior leader. We liked what we saw of him as he improved daily throughout the spring."

Katnik was a J.C. Grid-Wire honorable mention All-American center in 1985 at Fullerton, where he also won All-State third team and All-Pac-9 notice. He started for Fullerton as a 1984 freshman, too.

"It kind of ticked me off when I got to USC and on the practice field I saw a lot of players I thought were looking down at me like they were thinking, 'Why did we recruit this guy?'" he said. "I thought to myself, 'Just wait, bud-dy.'"

He was a two-year starting center at Foothill High in Santa Ana (Calif.), earning All-CIF Division II, All-State, All-Orange County and All-Century League honors as a 1982 senior. He made All-Orange County second team and All-Century League as a junior when Foothill won the 1981 CIF title in triple overtime. At Foothill, one of his teammates was current Trojan Joe Walshe. John also was an All-League wrestler and threw the shot and discus at Foothill.

Katnik didn't play any football in 1983 while enrolled at Saddleback College in Mission Viejo (Calif.).

His brother, Norman, was a two-year starting center at Arizona (1978-79). His father, plus two brothers and a sister, attended USC. John likes to waterski in his spare time. He's a public administration major at USC. His football hero is ex-NFL center Rich Saul.

(26) RYAN KNIGHT — Tailback, 6-0, 210, Sr.

USC's leading rusher the past 2 years, look for strong, bull-like Knight to make another impact in 1987. He's listed as the No. 2 tailback.

Knight rushed for 536 yards and 7 touchdowns on 148 carries (3.6 average) and also caught 15 passes for 90 yards (6.0 average) last fall. He started Troy's first 4 games, then gave way to Aaron Emanuel in the next 4 until regaining his starting spot in the final 4 contests. He won Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Week honors for his performance against California when he gained a career-high (and second best in the Pac-10 in 1986) 204 yards and scored 4 times on 36 carries (5.7 average). That was the most yards by a Trojan (and the first time a Trojan had surpassed 200 yards) since Marcus Allen had 219 against UCLA in his 1981 Heisman Trophy season. It was also the most TDs by a USC player since Allen had 4 versus Washington State in 1981. Knight also had 90 yards on 22 carries versus Notre Dame.

Knight, who has had 5 100-yard rushing games in his career, already is 12th on USC's prestigious all-time rushing ladder with 1,757 yards and 16 TDs on 464 carries (3.8 average).

"Ryan is a very fine inside, slashing runner," says coach Larry Smith. "He's an excellent short yardage back and he catches the ball well, too. He's experienced, steady, strong and will play a lot, whether spelling Steven Webster or playing in the split back formations. I liked what I saw of him last spring. He came into spring drills in great condition and played very well."

Ryan also led USC in rushing as a sophomore in 1985 (third in the Pac-10), getting 732 yards and 4 scores on 195 carries (3.8 average). After beginning the year as the No. 2 tailback behind Fred Crutcher, he fell down the depth chart to fourth-string because a sprained left ankle suffered in the Baylor game forced him to miss 3 mid-season contests (Arizona State, Stanford and Notre Dame). Knight then moved back into the two-deep and eventually took over the starting job from Crutcher for USC's last 4 games. He averaged 96.0 yards in each start and rushed for more than 100 yards in 2 of those starts.

He had a then-career-high (and 1985 Trojan runner single-game best) 147 yards on 32 carries against UCLA, 72 more yards than any runner recorded against the Bruins' nation-leading rushing defense in 1985. In Knight's first-ever start, he had 135 yards and a TD on 44 carries at Washington, the most attempts by a Trojan since Marcus Allen rushed 46 times against California in 1981. Earlier in the 1985 campaign, Knight also gained 89 yards on 24 carries at Illinois and 85 yards and 1 score on 15 tries versus Washington State, both as a backup. Ryan also caught 5 passes for 27 yards (5.4 average) in 1985.

As just a freshman in 1984, Knight quickly showed the makings of becoming another outstanding Trojan tailback. He was Crutcher's backup that year and picked up 489 yards (second best on the team) on 121 rushes (4.0 average) and 5 touchdowns. That's more yardage than any other USC freshman tailback has had except Heisman winner Charles White (who had 858 yards in 1976).

Knight reached triple rushing figures twice as a freshman: 122 yards and 2 scores on 22 carries against Cal and 100 yards on 25 rushes against UCLA (he was filling in for Crutcher, who was injured early in each game). Just 3 other frosh tailbacks have ever eclipsed the century mark at USC: White, who did it 4 times in 1976 (with a high of 136 yards), Michael Harper, who had 126 yards once in 1979, and Aaron Emanuel, who had 122 yards once in 1985.

Used often in pressure situations, Knight also had 70 yards on 10 carries at Washington State (including a fancy 47-yard TD scamper that provided the decisive points in USC's 29-27 win) and 56 yards and a score on 13 carries in the opener against Utah State.

Ryan's 1,221 yards after his first two seasons were more than any other Trojan has had by the end of his sophomore campaign except for White (who had 2,336 yards).

Knight describes his running style like this: "If I have to go over someone, I'll go over them, but my idea is to do whatever I have to do to get the ball up the field . . . At first, when I'd turn a corner upfield and see a linebacker, I'd try to go around him. Now the first thing I think when I see a linebacker is 'Waste him.' I just want the defender to know that when they come up to tackle me, they're going to take a lick, too."

Knight's combination of strength (he can bench press 425 pounds) and underestimated speed (he was clocked at 4.65 in the 40 last spring) makes him a bruising runner. He has worked hard on increasing his speed and has been tutored by USC assistant track coaches Don Quarrie (a one-time Trojan gold medal Olympic sprinter) and Leo Davis.

"I took a good look at myself as a running back," he said. "I have good size, good strength and my cutting ability is pretty good. I figured the only thing that was keeping me from being a great running back was my speed. So I figured the best thing I could do was to get someone who could teach me to run faster."

Adds USC running backs coach Clarence Shelmon: "Ryan is not the nation's fastest runner, but he runs a 4.65 40 and that's fast enough. You don't have to be super fast to be a great runner. Marcus Allen isn't. Ryan may not be as quick and fast as the others, but he's one of the hardest working players on the team."

Ryan is a very confident person. "I feel that I'm a good enough player that if I'm given the opportunity, I can succeed," he said. "My attitude is that I am a fighter. If you feel that way, nobody can stop you . . . You get out there lined up at tailback and you think, 'This is where I want to be. I'm the USC tailback; the sky's the limit.' "

Ryan came to USC with much advance publicity. He was perhaps the nation's top prep running back in 1983 after a record-breaking career at Rubidoux (Calif.) High near Riverside (the alma mater of current Trojan Tracy Butts). He set a California state record when he gained 501 yards on 30 carries in 1 game and, for the season, collected 2,620 yards (another state mark) and 30 touchdowns. He was a unanimous All-American (Parade, Adidas/Scholastic Coach, National High School Athletic Coaches Association, Bally and Mizlou) and was USA Today's Offensive Player of the Year. He was named the CIF Division III Player of the Year in 1983 while leading Rubidoux to the Eastern Conference semifinals. He received 9 out of 10 votes in the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West poll and was also twice All-CIF Division III first team and All-Sunbelt League.

He was the state's leading rusher as a junior, too, with 1,977 yards, including more than 400 in 1 contest. His 2-year rushing total was 4,597 yards and 57 TDs. He even attended Sid Gillman's football camp one off-season as a wide receiver in order to learn how to run pass patterns and how to catch the ball. And Ryan was a fine basketball player at Rubidoux, and was on the track team (he sprinted and put the shot). He was an honor student and was his school's student body president.

"I knew I was coming to USC since the seventh grade," Ryan remembered. "I knew I wanted to be a USC tailback and nothing really would have changed my mind." Asked if he looks up to USC's Heisman Trophy tailbacks, Knight said: "I want to be better than they were. I admire them all, but I don't want to be like them. I want to be better. That's my nature."

He's a communications major at USC. He spends much of his free time involved in charity activities (like organizing dances to raise money for sickle cell disease) with his Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity. He says he enjoys public speaking. Knight's football idol is Walter Payton "because of his determination and hard work ethics." Ryan's brother, Greg, is a sophomore defensive tackle at Colorado.

(80) TRAVIS KNOX — Flanker-Split End, 5-11, 180, So.

A broken right arm suffered in the spring of 1986 sidelined Knox all of his redshirt freshman season last fall and hampered him during this past spring's drills, too. If he's healthy, he'll add speed and quality depth to the USC receiving positions.

"Travis wasn't at full speed in the fall, so it was hard to evaluate him," says coach Larry Smith. "He's got good quickness and could help us in the future."

Knox, who redshirted in 1985, was a 1984 USA Today All-USA second team pick while setting CIF San Diego Section records for receptions in a season (67 in 1984) and a career (177 in 1982-84) at San Dieguito High in Encinitas (Calif.). He was also named Adidas/Scholastic Coach All-American, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West, Los Angeles Times San Diego County Lineman of the Year, All-CIF San Diego Section first team and was among The Sporting News' Top 100 Recruits in his senior year. Other CIF records he set include most yards on receptions in a career (2,691) and touchdowns in a game (4 on 2 occasions). His career receptions ranked him fourth all-time in the nation and his yardage put him No. 8.

He caught 65 passes for 877 yards and 13 touchdowns as a junior and had 45 receptions for 869 yards and 4 scores as a sophomore. He was named to the U.S. Army Reserve Junior All-Stars after his junior year. Knox had 10 or more receptions 3 times in his career, including 12 catches (4 were TDs) against Fallbrook as a senior. He also returned kickoffs more than 60 yards 9 times while at San Dieguito. Among his teammates at San Dieguito was Trojan Dave Powroznik.

An excellent hurdler, Knox was the CIF San Diego Section high and intermediate hurdle champ in 1984 (he won the highs in 1985) and has an electronic personal best of 14.33 in the highs. He has been clocked in 4.6 in the 40.

He was born in Little Rock, Ark.

(73) CHUCK KUNSAITIS — Offensive Guard, 6-6, 270, So.

Although he has yet to see any action at USC in the past 2 years, Kunsaitis could break into the two deep at left guard in 1987 and might play an even bigger role in the future.

"Chuck has a chance to be a fine offensive lineman," says coach Larry Smith. "He must mature, lose some weight and put it all together. When he does, he could be a factor on our offensive line."

Kunsaitis suffered a series of nagging minor injuries last year which slowed him all season. He redshirted in 1985 while recovering from a right shoulder strain.

Chuck earned All-CIF Division II second team honors as an offensive tackle at El Toro (Calif.) High in 1984. He helped his team to the South Coast League title and the CIF Southern Conference semifinals. Kunsaitis was also named to The Register's All-Orange County first team and All-South Coast League first team, and was South Coast League Offensive Player of the Year runner-up in 1984. Chuck was a member of El Toro's 1982 CIF champions. He also played varsity basketball and volleyball at El Toro. Current Trojan Scott Ross also went to El Toro.

Kunsaitis is a public administration major at USC. He's a fifth generation Trojan. He plays the electric bass guitar in his spare time. His sports hero is Kurt Rambis of the L.A. Lakers because "he's a hard worker who is full of hustle and never gives up." Asked what was the funniest thing that has happened to him on the football field, he said: "Tackling an opponent in the mud and sliding off the field past the sidelines onto the track and into the bleachers. What a ride!"

(63) BRAD LEGGETT — Offensive Guard, 6-5, 265, So.

After backing up All-American Jeff Bregel at strongside guard last year as a redshirt freshman and playing sparingly, Leggett is now penciled in as the starting right guard in 1987. He looks like he'll have a good career at USC.

"Brad is a young player ready to make his move," says coach Larry Smith. "He had a very fine spring and proved to be an extremely consistent blocker. He's going to play a big role for us."

Brad, who redshirted in 1985, helped Fountain Valley (Calif.) High to the Sunset League title as a two-way tackle in 1984. He was named to The Register's All-Orange County second team, All-Sunset League first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention and L.A. Herald Examiner's Super 11 second team as a senior. He had 54 tackles, 6 quarterback sacks, 6 pass deflections and 3 forced fumbles as a defensive tackle. Offensively, Leggett's blocking was graded at 92% efficiency by his coaches.

Brad's father is former LSU and NFL star defensive lineman Earl Leggett, who is now an assistant coach for the Los Angeles Raiders. Brad and current Trojan Chris Sperle both attended Fountain Valley. Leggett likes to fish when he has time off, as well as watch pro wrestling matches. His sports heroes are Howie Long of the NFL, Danny Ainge of the NBA and Randy "Macho Man" Savage of the World Wrestling Federation. Brad was born in Vicksburg, Miss. He's a public administration major at USC.

(13) JEFF MAREE — Safety, 5-10, 175, Sr.

Jeff, who is small but hits big, had left knee cartilage surgery and missed the last half of 1987 spring practice, but he should be fine this fall. He's listed as the No. 2 strong safety (along with Curtis Hein). And he's a key special teams performer.

"Jeff is an intense, aggressive player and a very fine tackler," says coach Larry Smith. "He'll see some action as a backup and he loves to play on the special teams."

Last year as a junior, Maree had 11 tackles while playing on the special teams as well as backing up All-American Tim McDonald at strong safety. He played the same role as a sophomore in 1985, when he notched 6 stops.

Maree transferred to USC in the spring of 1985 from Long Beach City College and made a quick impression as he earned the backup strong safety job. He didn't play football at Long Beach in 1984 while recuperating from a broken right wrist. As a 1983 freshman free safety, he made the All-Metropolitan Conference second team while collecting 95 tackles and 4 interceptions (which he returned an average of 39.5 yards each).

He prepped at Middlesex (N.J.) High, where he was an All-State free safety as a 1982 senior. He had 95 stops and 4 thefts that season, and also picked up 545 yards while playing running back in the final 3 games. His team won its second straight Group I state championship and Maree earned All-Mountain Valley Conference, All-Area and All-County notice. He made the all-conference team his junior year. Jeff played baseball at Middlesex, too.

He was born in Newark, N.J., and is a public administration major at USC. He likes to "people watch" in his free time. His sports hero is ex-NFL star Jack Tatum because "the way he hits, he has to be every defensive back's hero." In fact, Maree acknowledges that he, too, is a hard hitter. "Every time I hit, I see stars," he said. "My biggest thrill is to knock off a receiver's helmet as he comes across the middle."

(62) DERRELL MARSHALL — Offensive Tackle, 6-4, 290, Jr.

Marshall joins USC this fall after a stellar junior college career at Bakersfield (Calif.) College.

He won J.C. Grid-Wire All-American honorable mention, All-State second team and All-Western State Conference first team acclaim last year as a starting offensive tackle at Bakersfield. He never allowed his opponent to sack the quarterback in his 2-year career at Bakersfield. He was also the team captain in 1986. And, a la William "Refrigerator" Perry, Marshall played fullback occasionally last year and carried the ball 5 times.

Derrell started at offensive tackle in 1985 at Bakersfield and was an All-Western State Conference first team pick. He attended Bakersfield in 1984, but didn't play football.

Marshall spent his senior year as a prep at Howard D. Woodson High in Washington, D.C., where he started at both offensive tackle and defensive end. He recorded 4 sacks on defense and even rushed 12 times as a fullback. He was named All-Interhigh Conference in both football and basketball in 1983.

He attended Suitland High in Forestville, Md., in 1981 and 1982. As a 1982 junior, he started at defensive end and alternated on offense at tackle and fullback. He made the All-League first team and All-County second team. As a 1981 sophomore, he started at fullback (he scored 4 TDs) and defensive end (he intercepted a pass and returned it 60 yards for a score) while winning All-League first team honors. Derrell also was on the basketball and track (he was a shot putter and ran a leg on the sprint relay) teams both years at Suitland.

He can bench press over 400 pounds and runs the 40 in 4.9. He likes to sing and read in his spare time. His cousin is Goose Tatum of the Harlem Globetrotters. Marshall's nickname is Turk. How did he get that? "When I was five years old, I ate a whole turkey!" he said.

(47) JACK McDADE — Inside Linebacker, 6-4, 225, So.

A fractured left foot slowed McDade most of his redshirt freshman campaign last season (he posted 2 tackles) and throughout all of this past spring's practice. But he should be healthy in the fall and will provide solid depth at the inside linebacker spot.

"It's hard to evaluate Jack because he was out all spring, but I do know he's a talented player," says coach Larry Smith. "I hope he's ready to go in the fall, because you can never have enough inside linebackers."

McDade was an outside linebacker while redshirting in 1985 (his first year at USC), and was switched to an inside spot in the spring of 1986.

Jack earned All-State mention as a linebacker and tight end at Camelback High in Phoenix (Ariz.) in 1984. Defensively, his 1984 stats included 170 tackles, a league record for a season. He caught 33 passes for 400 yards and 4 touchdowns at tight end. He was named All-Arizona first team on defense and second team on offense in 1984, and also was picked All-AAA first team as a senior, All-Metro League first team as a junior and senior, and All-League second team in his sophomore year. Jack made 96 tackles in 1983 and had 23 receptions for 254 yards and 3 TDs in 1982. He caught 3 game-winning touchdown passes in 1984. A fine athlete, McDade was a decathlete in track at Camelback.

In his free time, he likes to be involved in all types of water and snow sports. He's majoring in communications at USC. His football hero is ex-NFL great Dick Butkus. Jack was born in Phoenix, Ariz.

(52) PETE McLACHLAN — Inside Linebacker, 6-3, 220, Fr.

McLachlan is a redshirt freshman who will provide good depth at inside linebacker. In time, he figures to play a lot.

"Pete is young and inexperienced, but he showed signs in the spring of being in the hunt for playing time," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a very quick and aggressive player."

An All-L.A. City 4-A pick at linebacker in 1985, McLachlan led City runner-up Carson in tackles with 122 (65 unassisted). He was named to the L.A. Times, Daily Breeze All-South Bay and All-Pacific League first teams. He also had 2 interceptions, 2 fumble recoveries and a blocked kick as a senior. Pete also played for the 1984 Carson team that won the L.A. City title. He runs a 4.8 40. Along with Calvin Holmes and Alan Wilson, McLachlan is one of 3 Carson alumni on the Trojan roster.

(18) KEVIN McLEAN — Quarterback, 6-3, 200, Sr.

Although McLean has spent his USC career as the backup quarterback, he's talented, seasoned and intelligent enough to run the team quite capably whenever called upon. He figures to be the backup again in 1987 behind Rodney Peete. But Kevin got plenty of chances to show his stuff last spring while Peete played baseball and the strong-armed senior won the coaches over.

"Kevin could start at any Pac-10 school and at 95 percent of the schools in the country," says coach Larry Smith. "He'll certainly give Rodney a run for the starting job. He had a tremendous spring. He's smart, has a great arm and really handled our offense well. And he proved he could run the option, which will be one part of our attack. I'm very pleased with Kevin."

McLean appeared briefly in 4 games (Illinois, Oregon, Washington State and California) last fall as a junior. He completed 8-of-14 passes (57.1%) for 108 yards and a TD. The score (a 17-yarder at Washington State) was the first of his career (on the day, he was 7-of-12 for 87 yards against the Cougars). Kevin was also the holder on all placekicks, a duty he performed without a hitch (as he did in 1984 and 1985, too). He will be the holder again this year and might even be called upon to punt.

McLean filled in when Peete went down in the fourth quarter of the 1985 Aloha Bowl and did well, completing 6-of-9 passes for 71 yards, including a 32-yard strike to Ken Henry on his first throw. Before that, he appeared briefly in 1 other game in 1985 as a sophomore (missing on 2 passes against Oregon State).

McLean got some good playing experience in 1984 as a redshirt freshman. He began that season as Sean Salisbury's backup, but was forced into action when Salisbury went down with a season-ending knee injury early in USC's second game (at Arizona State). Kevin performed efficiently in ASU's noisy stadium and led USC to a 6-3 victory, its first win ever in Tempe. He completed 7-of-12 passes for 80 yards and guided Troy to its game-winning fourth-quarter field goal drive.

Kevin started the following week against LSU, completing 9-of-20 throws for 64 yards, but gave way in the second half to Tim Green, who then held the starting job the rest of the year. Overall, McLean was 19-of-38 (50.0%) for 184 yards.

McLean redshirted in 1983 after earning honorable mention Adidas/Scholastic Coach All-American and All-CIF Division I first team laurels in 1982 at Lakewood (Calif.) High. He completed 93-of-190 passes (48.9%) for 1,464 yards and 13 touchdowns that year and in 1 game alone passed for a school-record 343 yards. Among his other honors were All-South Coast first team, Moore League Offensive Player of the Year, Long Beach City Player of the Year and honorable mention on the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West team. He also started in his junior year and played some defensive back.

He's a communications major at USC. He likes to snow ski ("I like the feeling of me against the mountain," he says), as well as body surf the dangerous "Wedge" in Newport Beach. His football hero is ex-NFL star Terry Bradshaw. What's the funniest thing that happened to Kevin on the field?" "It was when I was younger in a Pop Warner game and my pants were pulled down as I ran the ball," he said. "It was more embarrassing to me than funny, but everybody else thought it was hilarious!"

(35) REX MOORE — Inside Linebacker, 6-2, 230, Sr.

The spirited, intense Moore is everything you look for in an inside linebacker. He'll be starting for the second year now.

Moore, who won honorable mention All-Pac-10 honors last year as a junior and is now a first team All-Pac-10 candidate, was USC's leading tackler in 1986 with 206 stops (second in the Pac-10). Seven of those tackles were for losses and he also deflected 4 passes, intercepted 2 others (against Illinois, which led to a USC field goal, and Stanford), and recovered a fumble. He was in double figures in tackles in every game last year, including 5 times with 20 or more stops (a 1986 USC one-game best of 24 at Washington State, 22 versus Notre Dame and Auburn, 21 at UCLA and 20 against Oregon). Rex began the year as USC's "third" starting inside linebacker but started the final 9 games when injuries struck the linebacker corps. He called the defensive signals. He was also named USC's Most Inspirational Player and USC's Defensive Player of the Game versus UCLA.

"Rex is a great competitor, a take-charge guy who is a hard-nosed leader out there," says coach Larry Smith. "I really like his intensity and aggressiveness. He'll call our defensive signals. He had a very good, consistent and injury-free spring practice. I see no reason why he won't be All-Pac-10."

Adds USC inside linebacker coach Tom Roggeman: "Rex is a very tenacious, intense, aggressive player. He's not satisfied unless he's in on every tackle."

Rex only played in USC's last 4 contests of his 1985 sophomore season after a bad left hamstring pull sidelined him earlier in the year. But he recorded 29 tackles in that span (including 9 against both Washington and UCLA) and his presence really perked up the defense. A left Achilles strain forced him out early against Alabama in the Aloha Bowl and hampered him during part of 1986 spring drills, too.

As a redshirt freshman backup in 1984, Rex made 50 tackles, deflected 4 passes, intercepted another and recovered a fumble while seeing 91 minutes of action. He had 8 tackles against Notre Dame and 6 versus Oregon (with an interception and fumble recovery) and Arizona. He even started once (at Washington State) while Keith Biggers recuperated from a knee injury and made 6 tackles.

Moore sat out 1984 spring drills while mending from surgery to correct a dislocating right shoulder and to repair right knee cartilage. He redshirted in 1983 with a lower back injury as well as a pulled groin.

His style of play has earned him the nickname "Reckless Rex." "I don't consider myself reckless, but some other people might," he said. "I think everything I do is sane . . . I just like to line up and play the game hard . . . When I'm out there, I just want to inflict as much trouble as I can. I won't say pain because that sounds sick . . . Riki Gray (a wild-eyed linebacker at USC several years ago) is my idol. He definitely has some qualities I admire. Football is more fun when you play all-out all the time. If you give everything you have, you don't have any regrets."

And Rex plays within his limits. "I don't have great speed, so I know what I have to do to achieve my goals," he said. "But I have the ability to work hard. I play intensely and I think that's a form of ability. I think intensity comes depending on how important something is to you. You read about women lifting up cars because a baby is underneath. Now if athletes could be in that frame of mind when they play, well . . ."

Moore was the defensive leader at El Modena High in Orange (Calif.), one of the state's top defenses in 1982. He had 95 tackles, 9 quarterback sacks, caused 3 fumbles and recovered 2 others as a senior linebacker. He was named an Adidas/Scholastic Coach All-American, All-State, All-CIF Division II, All-Orange County and Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West. He was a three-year starter at El Modena. Current Trojan Don Gibson also prepped at El Modena.

Moore is a public administration major at USC. His father, Robin, was the NCAA 50-yard freestyle swimming champion in 1956 for Stanford (he once set a world record). Rex's older brother, Rob, was a fullback at Stanford from 1980-82 who is now getting a master's degree in USC's School of Business. His mother also attended Stanford.

For obvious reasons, Rex grew up as a Stanford fan. "I used to go to Stanford games when Rob was playing there and I hated USC," he said. "Now I hate Stanford because I'm on this side and I know what they're saying about us!"

His father is involved in team roping, a rodeo competition in which cowboys on horseback try to lasso a steer in the shortest amount of time. Rex is getting involved in the sport, too.

(4) PAT O'HARA — Quarterback, 6-4, 200, Fr.

With promising young signal callers like O'Hara in the fold, USC's quarterback picture in the future looks strong. Pat and fellow redshirt freshman Shane Foley are battling for the No. 3 spot behind Rodney Peete and Kevin McLean.

"Pat has all the tools of a classic dropback quarterback," says coach Larry Smith. "His strong arm is what really catches your eye. He's still young and inexperienced, but he did well in the spring and gives us good depth at the position. He has quite a future."

O'Hara, who redshirted in 1986, was one of California's most heavily recruited quarterbacks in 1985 as a senior at Santa Monica (Calif.) High. He completed 127-of-224 passes (56.7%) for 1,711 yards, 21 touchdowns and 8 interceptions in 10 games. He was named All-CIF Coastal Conference first team, Bay League Player of the Year, Santa Monica Evening Outlook Area Player of the Year and L.A. Times All-Westside first team. He was also listed among The Sporting News' Top 100 honorable mention, Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West and L.A. Herald-Examiner's pre-season Super 11 first team.

O'Hara hit 118-of-222 pass attempts (53.2%) for 1,976 yards, 23 TDs and 9 interceptions while leading Santa Monica to the Bay League title in 1984. His junior honors included All-

CIF Division II second team, Evening Outlook Area Player of the Year, L.A. Times Westside Back of the Year and All-Bay League first team. He threw at least 1 touchdown pass in every game he played as a junior and senior.

O'Hara joins former Santa Monica star Keith Davis on USC's current roster. He has been clocked in 4.9 in the 40. His sports hero is NBA great Michael Jordan.

(90) DAN OWENS — Defensive Guard, 6-4, 255, So.

Owens could emerge into a star on USC's young defensive line.

He was switched from nose guard to defensive guard this spring. And he's put on 20 pounds since last year when he started all season at the nose as just a redshirt freshman. He did a solid job in 1986, as he posted 84 stops (including 5 for 15 yards in losses), recovered 3 fumbles (against Illinois, Arizona to set up a field goal, and UCLA to set up a TD), forced 2 other fumbles, and batted down an amazing 10 passes (including 3 each against Stanford and Notre Dame). He was tied for second in the Pac-10 in fumble recoveries and was 10th in pass deflections. Owens had 13 tackles against Auburn, 11 against Notre Dame and 10 versus Baylor.

"Dan makes a lot of big plays," says coach Larry Smith. "He's equally adept at stopping the run and the pass. He's still young, but he's very seasoned. He has a promising career ahead of him and could emerge as an All-Pac-10 player as soon as this year."

Owens, who runs 4.9 in the 40, claims the key to his game is his quickness. "Quickness is my strength," he said. "I try to get position on a player before he is able to block me. I have to be really quick. If I'm not, I'll get knocked on my back a lot of the time."

Owens redshirted in 1985 after being an All-CIF Division III first team pick on offense in 1984 while playing for La Habra (Calif.) High as a two-way lineman. He led La Habra's defense with 72 tackles and 9 sacks. He also earned Freeway League Player of the Year, The Register's All-Orange County first team and All-Freeway League as a senior. Dan helped his team to 2 league titles and the 1983 CIF Central Conference finals. He was named All-League as a junior, too.

Also a fine shot putter in track, Owens was the league champion in 1983, fifth in CIF 3-A in 1985 and had a best of 52-0½.

He's a public administration major at USC.

(72) JOHN PAGE — Offensive Tackle, 6-5, 275, Sr.

Were it not for a foot injury from 1986, Page might now be inked into the starting lineup. As it is, he's listed as the No. 2 left tackle (along with Chuck Ebertin) and comes into the fall healthy.

John missed all of last spring's practice while recuperating from surgery to repair a fractured right foot. The injury occurred prior to last year's Citrus Bowl. Still, Page started at weakside tackle in that game (when Jeff Bregel was ruled ineligible and the line had to be overhauled). Before that, John saw limited action as a junior while backing up Bruce Parks at weakside tackle.

"Because he missed spring drills, I can't evaluate John, but I know he's a senior and I expect strong leadership from him," says coach Larry Smith. "If he returns healthy, he'll battle for the backup job and we know he's good enough to see some playing time."

Page saw limited action in 1985 after missing the 1984 campaign when he tore ligaments in his right knee early in that season and had surgery. He redshirted in 1983, his first year at Troy.

He was a dominating force as an offensive tackle at San Pasqual High in Escondido near San Diego. He collected a slew of honors as a 1982 senior, including National High School Athletic Coaches Association All-American, All-State, first team All-CIF San Diego Section, All-Avocado League, San Diego Lineman of the Year and honorable mention on the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West poll.

Page missed all but 3 games his junior year with a hairline fracture in his left foot, which necessitated surgery, and he spent 6 months in a cast. He played on the defensive line as a sophomore. He also wrestled and put the shot. Current Trojan Tom Dabasinskas also went to San Pasqual.

Born in Phoenix, Ariz., Page is a public administration major at USC, with a B average (3.06 GPA). He can bench press 405 pounds. He says his hobby is "mud wrestling." When asked who was his biggest sports hero, he replied, "No one in particular. I respect all the professional athletes because of the time and effort they put in."

(71) BRENT PARKINSON — Offensive Guard, 6-6, 255, So.

Destined to be a four-year starter, Parkinson should recover from sprained left knee ligaments which sidelined most of this past spring's practice and be the starting left guard (although Mark Tucker is pushing him).

Brent started all of last year at weakside guard as just a redshirt freshman and continued to improve each game.

"Brent is a young but very mature and experienced lineman," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a key to the development of our line. Although he missed most of spring, I expect him to be ready to go in the fall and continue his fine play. He's the type of player who could be a dominant offensive lineman some day. In fact, it wouldn't surprise me if he was All-Pac-10 as just a sophomore."

Parkinson has gained 20 pounds since his first year at USC, which led him to say, "I pretty much put my old clothes in a bag and threw them out!"

A 1985 redshirt, Parkinson helped Canyon High in Canyon Country (Calif.) to 2 straight CIF Northwestern Conference titles in 1983 and 1984. His senior honors included USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Daily News Player of the Year, Cal-Hi Sports All-State, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West, L.A. Herald Examiner's Super 11 and The Sporting News' Top 100 Recruits. Brent anchored a line that led the offense to 396 points for the 1984 season and a total offense average of 341.6 yards per game. He was picked twice to the All-CIF Division II first team, L.A. Times All-Valley first team, All-Golden League first team and All-Santa Clarita Valley first team. Canyon won the last 24 games that Parkinson played in his prep career, dating back to the fourth game of his junior year.

He has been timed in the 40 in 4.9. His high school nickname was "Pig Pen" because he raised award-winning hogs. He likes to hunt in his spare time.

(16) RODNEY PEETE — Quarterback, 6-2, 195, Jr.

Peete guarantees instant excitement. The poised, fleet-footed Peete gives USC a two-dimensional quarterback: a signalcaller who is not only a terrific passer but a dangerous scrambler (he runs the 40 in 4.5). He's one of the best in the country.

A Football News second team Sophomore All-American and honorable mention All-Pac-10 honoree last year, Peete is a candidate for first team All-

Pac-10 honors in 1987. Before he leaves USC in 1988, the junior should be an All-American . . . and has set his sights on winning the Heisman Trophy.

He had a dynamite season while starting all of 1986 as a sophomore. He completed 160-of-305 passes (52.5%) for 2,138 yards and 10 TDs (and 15 interceptions). That's the second most completions in a season at USC (behind only Paul McDonald, who had 164 in 1979) and a record for the most attempts. Rodney is only the third Trojan (and first USC sophomore) to pass for more than 2,000 yards in a season (McDonald had 2,223 in 1979 and Rob Hertel had 2,145 in 1977). Peete's 184.1 yards per game average in the regular season was fourth best in the Pac-10.

He threw for more than 200 yards in 3 games last year, topped by an impressive 258 yards on 16-of-22 passing against Oregon. Here's what he did in the other games last year: Illinois (10-of-24, 197 yards, 1 TD, 1 interception), Baylor (10-25, 106, 1, 0), Washington (15-24, 181, 1, 1), Washington State (16-25, 253, 1, 2), Arizona State (19-36, 226, 0, 1), Stanford (12-18, 169, 1, 1), Arizona (14-23, 179, 2, 1), California (8-17, 86, 0, 1), UCLA (18-38, 199, 2, 1), Notre Dame (10-23, 171, 0, 1) and Auburn (12-30, 113, 0, 4).

Peete also ran for 124 yards and 3 TDs, the most yards running by a Trojan quarterback since Vince Evans had 246 in 1975. If you take away the 177 yards he lost on sacks, Rodney ran forward for 301 yards. He had 25 runs of 5 yards or more (7 of which were for 10 or more yards), including a 32-yard scoring scramble against Illinois (the longest run by a Trojan quarterback since Evans went 36 yards against UCLA in 1976). Peete's 2,262 yards of total offense was second on the USC single season list behind Marcus Allen's 2,427 in 1981 (Rodney's 195.6-yards per game regular season average was fourth in the Pac-10). He was also named honorable mention on The Oregonian's Pac-10 all-stars (chosen by media in the league area), USC Offensive Player of the Year (the first sophomore and the first quarterback so honored) and USC's Offensive Player of the Game versus UCLA.

"Rodney is an impressive player," says coach Larry Smith. "He's everything you look for in a quarterback — great arm, great mobility, great mind and great leadership. He's got to be one of the best quarterbacks in the country. He's the first player I've ever coached who has the ability to meet all of the high goals he's set for himself. A big part of our success as a team depends on the type of year he has in 1987."

Adds USC offensive coordinator Chuck Stobart, who coaches the quarterbacks: "If we were going to go out and draft a quarterback from anywhere in the country, we couldn't find a better one than Rodney Peete."

Ken Rodriguez of the Tucson Citizen perhaps captured Peete best when he wrote last year: "Rodney Peete runs like no other USC quarterback before him — with style, grace and speed . . . He's a gifted player with more than a good handoff . . . He's not limited as a passer, either . . . His unique blend of talents has set him apart and parted tradition. For the first time in memory, the focus at USC is on the quarterback . . . This Peete can run and throw. This Peete is gonna be a star. On and off the field . . . His moniker is Sweet Peete, a player loved by coeds almost as much as coaches. He has the build of a campus hunk, a face that could grace the cover of Gentleman's Quarterly, and a Norman Vincent Peale outlook on life. He could teach a Dale Carnegie course."

In his short career, Peete's passing line reads 210-of-390 (53.8%) for 2,704 yards, 15 TDs and 18 interceptions. He already stands fifth on the Trojan career passing list and needs just 137 completions to pass Sean Salisbury to become No. 1. He's also 13th on the all-time USC total offense ladder with 2,906 yards.

What's particularly amazing about his 1986 soph campaign is that he was coming off a partially torn left Achilles tendon which he suffered late in the 1985 Aloha Bowl and had to spend all spring and summer recuperating (he was in a cast for 6 weeks and wore a shoe brace for the next 8 weeks).

As a redshirt freshman in 1985, Peete started USC's final 4 games in place of Salisbury to add some spark to a sluggish Trojan offense. Overall, he completed 50-of-85 passes (58.8%) for 566 yards and 5 TDs (2 against Oregon State, and 1 each versus Washington, UCLA and Oregon). But as a starter only, he hit 59.1% of his aerials (39-of-66) for 444 yards. His most productive passing game was at Washington in his first start (12-of-17, 175 yards, 1 TD), where he had a 68-yard completion to Hank Norman, USC's longest pass since Evans hit Randy Simmrin for 69 yards versus Oregon in 1975. In his other starts, Peete was 8-of-15 for 101 yards and 1 TD versus UCLA, 9-of-17 for 103 yards against Oregon (he was named MVP of that Mirage Bowl game) and 10-of-17 for 65 yards against Alabama in the Aloha Bowl. He also played as a reserve in the Arizona State, Oregon State, Stanford and Notre Dame games.

His running ability added a new dimension to the Trojan offense. Rodney ran for 78 yards on 49 tries in 1985, the most yards running by a USC quarterback since Evans had 86 yards in 1976. Peete had 17 runs of 5 yards or more (8 of which were for 10-plus yards). His 50 yards rushing at Washington was the most in a game by a Trojan quarterback since Evans ran for 60 against California in 1975. Peete's one-yard scoring QB sneak with 1:13 to play won the UCLA game and came just 4 plays after he ran for 3 yards on fourth-and-two. If the 115 yards he lost on quarterback sacks are excluded, he ran forward for 193 yards. Besides running and passing, Peete even caught his own deflected pass at Washington (but lost 4 yards).

Peete redshirted in football in 1984, his first year at USC, but he did play baseball the following spring, where he started at second base and shortstop. He hit .225 with 14 RBIs, 4 home runs, 6 doubles, 2 triples and 17 runs scored in 36 games. He was hampered a bit by a strained right hamstring. His schedule also allowed him to participate in 7 days of football drills that spring. The Achilles injury sidelined him for the 1986 baseball season (and football spring drills).

Peete started at shortstop this past spring and earned All-Pac-10 honorable mention honors. He hit .304 (No. 3 on the team) with 24 RBIs (5 game winners), 2 home runs, 12 doubles, 1 triple and 20 runs scored. He found time to participate in about a half dozen spring football practices.

"Rodney really is a unique individual," said Trojan baseball coach Mike Gillespie. "He does not make a lot of noise. You wouldn't think he's a leader. But he has charisma. He does a lot of intangible things. On top of that, he's a heck of a baseball player."

Rodney was one of the top prep quarterbacks in the nation in 1983, despite an injury-riddled senior campaign at Shawnee Mission (Kan.) South High. He only played parts of 7 games because of a groin injury, managing to complete 30-of-53 passes for 524 yards and 6 TDs. Still, he made Parade All-American, Adidas/Scholastic Coach honorable mention All-American, The Sporting News' Top 100 College Football Recruits and Inside the Blue Chips second team.

He really made his mark at Sahuaro High in Tucson (Ariz.) in his sophomore and junior years. He completed 148-of-221 passes (67.0%) for 1,781 yards and 16 TDs as a junior. He also had 741 yards rushing and 9 scores. He had games of 424 and 365 yards passing, and one completed 67% of his aerials and threw 5 TDs. He also once had an 83 yard punt. He was named Arizona High School Athlete of the Year, All-American, All-State and All-City. He caught 49 passes for 861 yards and 15 touchdowns as a wide receiver in 1981 and had 4 more scores on kick returns, earning All-American, All-State and All-City honors.

At the time, one opposing prep coach said, "When Rodney graduates from high school, he could play immediately with the Dallas Cowboys." Another said, "He makes you feel as if you don't have a defensive line."

An excellent basketball player, Rodney was a two-time All-State and All-City guard at Sahuaro and led his team to the state title in 1981. He also starred on Sahuaro's state champion baseball team as a soph and hit .521 the following year. He was drafted out of high school in the 31st round by the Toronto Blue Jays.

Born in Mesa, Ariz., he also enjoys golfing and says his sports hero is "John Elway because he has a lot of class." Rodney's father, Willie, is an assistant coach with the Green Bay Packers (he also was with the Kansas City Chiefs) who starred in football and baseball for Arizona. Willie was also a long-time assistant at Arizona. From 1973 to 1976, he coached alongside current Trojan head coach Larry Smith when Smith was a Wildcat assistant. When Smith got the head job at Arizona, the elder Peete served as an assistant under him from 1980 to 1983. Rodney was the Arizona waterboy at that time!

Rodney's brother, Skip, was a wide receiver for Arizona and Kansas after earning All-Arizona honors as a prep. His mother, Edna, had 4 brothers who played college football. And, although they've never met, his second cousin is pro golfer Calvin Peete.

Asked the funniest thing that happened to him in a game, Rodney replied: "In the Aloha Bowl, I lost 1 of my contacts. On the very next play, I got tackled and found it on the ground and put it back in!"

He's a communications major at USC.

RODNEY PEETE SPEAKS OUT ON . . .

. . . HIS PLAYING STYLE. "Versatility is my edge. I like to roll, I like to run, I like to throw. I think having a quarterback who can run puts a lot of pressure on the defense. There is a tendency for me to get out of the pocket, but I've been staying in there a little longer the last couple of years. If you had asked me in 1985 what I preferred to do, I would have said that I was a lot more comfortable throwing from rollouts or bootlegs. But since I got stronger and have more confidence in my arm, I feel very comfortable with the straight dropback, and I feel I can do that just as well as throwing on the run. People always tell me that I would be a great option quarterback. But I hate running the option. I'd rather throw the ball than run, but if the opportunity is there to run, I will take advantage of it. In high school, I was fascinated by John Elway. He made big plays all the time and he could scramble."

. . . HIS ABILITY. "When I go out there on Saturday, I feel like I'm the best player in the country. I have to feel that way, even if I'm not. I feel better and more comfortable each time I go out there. I feel more aware of things."

. . . HIS ATTITUDE. "I've always believed you should be positive in every situation. That's that way I've been all my life, looking for positive things in everything I do. Nothing positive will come out of negative thoughts. The quarterback position is a leadership position. It's a position in which you try to keep everything together. I think teams tend to reflect the personality of their quarterbacks."

. . . PRESSURE. "I like tight games. I always have. I like 1-0 baseball games. I like it when a team has to rely on me. In fact, whenever I'm out there playing, I feel like people are depending on me to come through. When there's pressure, I feel more energized, like a rebirth or something. The more pressure, the more I like it."

. . . HIS 1985 ACHILLES INJURY. "It felt like someone fell on the back of my leg. But even more, it felt like someone came up behind me and kicked me as hard as they could. But when I looked at film of the play, there was no one else around me. It just snapped on its own. That's the scary part because it could happen just jogging around campus, too. My attitude about the injury was that whatever happens in my life, happens. My dad always said, 'It's in the Lord's hands anyway.' So I tried not to let it get me too far down. The way I looked at it was that every athlete goes through something like this and it was just my time. It was a test to see if I can handle it and improve myself. It doesn't bother me one bit now. I've never tried to baby it, nor have I thought about it. That's all anyone asked me about at the start of the 1986 season and through the first few games. Now I kind of miss that! The fact that I got hurt gave me a big opportunity to get stronger, especially in the upper body. I didn't know how much weight training could really help me. However, with a cast on my leg, I couldn't do anything but go to the weightroom. I worked hard there, and once 1986 fall camp began, my arm felt a lot stronger. I don't think I lost any speed at all because of the injury. Actually, it was kind of a blessing. After I got the cast off, it was the first time I'd ever had to really work with weights on my legs. I might even be a bit faster now."

... FOOTBALL VERSUS BASEBALL. "Maybe somewhere along the way I will have to choose one sport or the other, but not right now. I'm going to continue to play both until I figure out which one I like best. Right now I still think I can do both. When it's football season, football gets my attention. When it's baseball season, baseball gets most of my attention. They've been pretty good about it here and have respected my decision."

... LARRY SMITH. "I've known Coach Smith a long time. We've got a good relationship. He's pretty close to our family. He's a fine man and a great coach."

... HIS FATHER. "It helped me a lot having a father who is a football coach. I was always hanging around the practices and at night my dad would bring film home and I'd watch, too. He'd point out to me what the quarterback was doing and why. He has been my fulltime personal coach. I can't describe what an advantage that has been to me. Whatever I am as an athlete, I owe it to my father."

... HIS BROTHER. "I also owe a lot of my athletic ability to Skip. When we were little, he always wanted to play football or basketball, and if I wouldn't go with him, he'd beat me up. He'd let me hang around him and his friends, so I was always playing against older guys and that made me a better athlete. Plus, he taught me what receivers think about and do during a game, which has helped me as a quarterback."

(2) DAVE POWROZNIK — Quarterback, 6-4, 200, Jr.

Dave has yet to play at USC (he redshirted in his 1984 freshman year) after an impressive high school career. A rotator cuff injury and tendinitis in his throwing arm kept him out of spring practice in 1986 and a sprained left ankle hindered him for part of this past spring's drills.

"Injuries have slowed Dave's progress here," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a determined player with a good attitude and gives us depth at the quarterback position."

Powroznik established himself as a top prep quarterback while at Lake Stevens (Wash.) High before transferring in 1983 to San Dieguito High in Encinitas (Calif.). A back injury and bruised elbow allowed him to play in only 4 games as a senior, but he still completed 75 passes for 1,055 yards and 11 touchdowns while earning All-Palomar League honors. He was 26-of-38 for 369 yards with 5 TDs in 1 game and had more than 400 yards in total offense in another. Among his San Dieguito teammates was Travis Knox, now at USC.

As a junior at Lake Stevens, he completed 170-of-270 passes (63.0%) for 1,980 yards and 18 TDs. He won All-Washington State second team and All-Wesco Athletic Association laurels that season. After taking over 5 games into his sophomore year, he passed for 1,200 yards and 12 scores and made the all-league squad.

A fine basketball player, he averaged 17.9 points and 9.0 rebounds as a forward/center at San Dieguito and was an All-Palomar Leaguer.

Away from football Dave likes to surf, ski and play golf. His sports hero is baseball Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson because "he had everything against him and still became a winner." And Powroznik laughs when he talks about the startling discovery he made during his junior year in high school: "It was at the end of a close game and I couldn't see the clock on the scoreboard. I got contact lenses the next week!"

He's majoring in education at USC.

(99) TIM RYAN — Defensive Tackle, 6-5, 250, So.

If last year was any indication, the strong, precocious Ryan should have quite a career at USC.

Ryan earned Football News Freshman All-American honors and was named the top freshman defensive lineman in the nation by The Sporting News while starting at tackle all of 1986 (he'll be the starter again this season). He was the first true (non-redshirt) freshman to start the season opener at USC since Riki Gray-Ellison did so in 1978 and Tim was one of only two true freshmen to see action at Troy last fall (along with Cleveland Colter).

Ryan had 102 tackles last year (including 3 quarterback sacks for 24 yards), plus 4 pass deflections and an interception (from point blank range against Washington, which he ran back 5 yards to seal USC's 20-10 victory). Twice he had 16 stops in a game (Arizona State and Auburn), and also had 12 versus California, and 11 against Washington and Notre Dame. In the 1986 pre-season, he practiced at nose guard, but was switched to tackle before the opener.

"I liked what I saw of Tim this past spring," says coach Larry Smith. "He has really matured and should be the stalwart of our defensive line. He can be a dominating type of player. Right now, he plays the run real well, although he still has to improve on his pass rushing techniques."

Ryan never expected such a successful first year. "I didn't know if I'd redshirt last year or not, but I was optimistic about seeing some action because of the lack of depth on the defensive line then," he said. "But I had no idea I'd start. I just wanted to try to make an impact. I figured I could at least make second or third team, and just try to work my way up from there. Then all of a sudden they moved me to tackle from nose guard and I was starting. I thought, 'Right on! This is radical!' It was a gradual learning experience for me and a lot of fun. I was nervous going into the first game (against Illinois), but as each game went on, I began to feel a lot more comfortable."

He'll never forget his first start. "I felt really nervous before the game, but the team didn't put any pressure on me," he remembered. "I knew there would be some big boys out there and I was nervous until I thought about going against (ex-USC All-American offensive guard) Jeff Bregel and (current USC All-American offensive tackle candidate) Dave Cadigan every day in practice. Nobody is as good as them."

A prep All-American, Ryan was one of the nation's most highly recruited defensive linemen in 1985 while at Oak Grove High in San Jose (Calif.). He made the Parade, Bally, Adidas, Street & Smith and Athlon All-American teams and was on USA Today's All-USA second team as a senior. He was a dominant player on the offensive line, too. His other 1985 honors included Cal-Hi Sports All-State, All-CIF Northern California first team, The Sporting News' Top 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West, All-Western Region first team, All-Central Coast Section first team and Mt. Hamilton Athletic League Lineman of the Year.

Ryan also enjoyed a fine junior year at Oak Grove, earning All-CIF Northern California first team, U.S. Army Reserve Junior All-Stars, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, All-Central Coast Section first team and Mt. Hamilton Athletic League Lineman of the Year. USC freshman nose guard Gene Fruge was Ryan's teammate at Oak Grove. Ryan was an all-league honorable mention pick as a sophomore in 1983. An excellent athlete, Ryan was the league MVP and All-Central Coast Section first team center during his senior year on Oak Grove's basketball team.

Before playing football, Tim was a Junior Olympic boxing champion for 5 consecutive years before giving up the sport at age 13 (he started boxing when he was 6 years old). "If I don't make it in football, I'm going back to boxing," he said. "They better look out in the heavyweight division!"

Ryan is a public administration major at USC. He was born in Memphis, Tenn. He likes to spend his free time hunting, fishing and snow skiing. Asked what was his funniest moment on the football field, he sarcastically replied: "On my interception against Washington, my great speed kept me from scoring. One of their offensive linemen tackled me from behind!"

(69) MARK SAGER — Offensive Tackle, 6-5, 270, Jr.

1987 figures to be the year that Sager lives up to his grand potential, as he's been named the starter at left tackle.

He played in spots as a sophomore last fall while backing up Dave Cadigan at strongside tackle. Mark even played the entire second half of the UCLA game when Cadigan injured his leg. A sprained ankle forced Sager out of some spring drills in 1986. He appeared briefly in three games (Illinois, Oregon State and Stanford) as a redshirt freshman in 1985 after redshirting in 1984.

"Mark is ready to start playing up to his reputation," says coach Larry Smith. "He had a fine spring. He's in good condition, has good size and quickness, and could develop into a very good offensive lineman."

Sager was one of the nation's top prep offensive line prospects in 1983 while at North Torrance (Calif.) High, despite having played organized football for only 2 years. He made the Parade, Adidas/Scholastic Coach, National High School Athletic Coaches Association, Mizlou and Bally All-American teams. He was also on the All-CIF Division II first team in 1982 and 1983, received 9 out of a possible 10 votes in the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West poll after his senior year, and was named Lineman of the Year by the Bay League, Los Angeles Times South Bay, and Daily Breeze.

Mark also played defensive tackle for North's 1983 CIF Coastal Conference runners-up and set school records for tackles in a season (104) and career (187). He had 49 stops for losses (28 in 1983) in 2 seasons. He also caused 8 fumbles, recovered 4 more, blocked 2 field goals and deflected 8 passes as a senior.

An all-around athlete, Sager was the Bay League shot put champion as a sophomore and junior, and hit better than .350 as a designated hitter on the baseball team as a senior.

He said the funniest thing that happened to him in a game was when he lined up at, believe it or not, tailback in a prep game and had 11 yards on 2 carries.

He says he enjoys "riding motorcycles across the desert" as well as hunting and fishing in his spare time. He can bench press 385 pounds. He's majoring in public administration at USC.

(76) BILL SCHULTZ — Offensive Guard, 6-5, 270, Jr.

A transfer last spring from Glendale (Calif.) College where he was a JC All-American, Schultz impressed the coaches enough to emerge now as the No. 2 right guard . . . despite missing the first half of spring practice while recuperating from arthroscopic surgery to remove cartilage in his right knee. He's fine now and ready to add quality depth to the offensive line.

"Bill is a good talent and a versatile player," says coach Larry Smith. "He can play at guard and even at center. He really came on when he returned in mid-spring and showed us that he's a capable and aggressive lineman. He might see a lot of action in 1987."

Bill was a first team J.C. Grid-Wire All-American while starting at offensive tackle last year at Glendale, which finished 10-1 and ranked fourth nationally. He also was first team All-State and first team All-Western State Conference. In 1985, his first season at Glendale, Schultz was a first team All-State and first team All-Western State Conference pick while starting at tackle (his team was 10-1). Glendale won its league both years he was there. Current Trojans Greg Coauette and Bill Stokes also once attended Glendale.

Schultz prepped at Kennedy High in Granada Hills (Calif.). As a 1984 senior, he was a two-way starting tackle on the L.A. City 4-A champions. He was an All-State and All-L.A. City 4-A first team offensive line selection. On defense, he topped his team in tackles and quarterback sacks. Bill won All-L.A. City 4-A honorable mention notice in 1983 as a junior while starting at offensive tackle and his squad won the L.A. City 4-A title. He was a reserve offensive tackle as a 1982 sophomore. He also was a shot putter on Kennedy's track team, with a best mark of 54-8. Out of high school, he was headed to play football at Washington, but ended up instead at Glendale.

He's a physical education major at USC. Among his hobbies are working on cars, riding motorcycles and skiing (on both snow and water). His football hero is L.A. Raider star Howie Long. Interestingly, Schultz attended the same high school as ex-USC All-American offensive guard Jeff Bregel and he claims the same birthday as Bregel (May 1).

Serpa is the No. 2 weakside inside linebacker and gives the position some solid, experienced depth. He's also a star special teams player.

"Mike is a very aggressive player who continued to improve throughout the spring," says coach Larry Smith. "He's very tough, not only physically, but mentally. He'll see lots of action in 1987 as the backup and on special teams."

Mike backed up Rex Moore at inside linebacker as a sophomore last year and also was on special teams. He made 4 tackles in limited action and also intercepted a pass in the end zone against California. He missed the Washington State game with a sprained foot. Following this past spring's practice, he had surgery to remove a bone chip in his right foot, but is healthy now.

As a redshirt freshman in 1985, Serpa posted 29 tackles (including 1 for a loss) and even started once when Sam Anno was injured (against Baylor, getting 14 stops). He redshirted in 1984, his first year at USC.

Serpa was a unanimous All-Northern California pick as a 1983 senior at Tracy (Calif.) High, where he helped his team to the Class AAA sectional semifinals. He made 181 tackles, including 21 sacks, and had 5 fumble recoveries and 1 interception. In one game, he recorded 19 stops (11 unassisted), including 7 for losses. He set his school's record for tackles in a career with 345. Among his other senior honors were Defensive Player of the Year in the San Joaquin Athletic Association and honorable mention on the Adidas/Scholastic Coach All-American and USA Today's All-USA teams, plus All-District by the Modesto Bee and the Stockton Record (in 1982 and 1983). He also ran on the track squad.

He's a business major at USC with a B average (3.22 GPA). He likes to hunt and fish in his spare time, as well as ride motorcycles.

(3) ERNEST SPEARS — Cornerback, 6-0, 190, So.

Spears is the No. 2 pass coverage halfback in the secondary, but is pushing Dwayne Garner for the starting job. He'll also be a key special teams performer.

"Ernest is a very fine athlete," says coach Larry Smith. "He's in the hunt for lots of playing time, although he had an up and down spring. He's also a valuable special teams player."

Spears posted 11 tackles as the backup to Louis Brock at the pass coverage cornerback spot in 1986 as a redshirt freshman. He also was on special teams. He redshirted in 1985.

As a quarterback and defensive back, Spears led El Camino High in Oceanside (Calif.) to a 13-0 record and the CIF North San Diego County Conference title in 1984. He earned All-CIF San Diego Section first team, All-Avocado League first team, All-North County first team and KEZL Radio North County Defensive Player of the Year honors as a senior. At quarterback, Spears gained 586 yards on 87 carries, scored 8 touchdowns and completed 52-of-99 passes for 958 yards and 5 scores in 1984. He had a TD run from scrimmage that covered 94 yards. He played sparingly on offense as a junior and sophomore.

Defensively, Spears had 3 interceptions, 46 tackles and 11 pass deflections in 1984 and picked off 7 passes, blocked 2 kicks, made 43 tackles and deflected 12 passes during his junior year. While he was at El Camino, his team won 3 league titles, and was CIF North San Diego County co-champ in 1982 and runner-up in 1983. An excellent baseball player, Ernest was an All-League first team pitcher for El Camino. He has been clocked in 4.6 in the 40.

Ernest likes to go water and snow skiing, as well as surfing.

(15) CHRIS SPERLE — Punter, 6-1, 170, Jr.

Sperle is the incumbent No. 1 punter, although he's being pushed for the job by Paul Green, Kevin McLean and Rodney Peete. Chris has been USC's punter the past 2 years.

"He's an accomplished veteran," says coach Larry Smith. "But he had difficulties this past spring in achieving an acceptable hang time and distance on his punts. Punter is a vital position and Chris needs to improve this fall. He has the ability and experience, but he needs to put it all together. I'm hoping he'll come through."

Last season as a sophomore, Sperle averaged 39.3 yards on his 49 punts. Six of his boots traveled 50 yards or more (including a 57-yarder at UCLA). Just 17 of his punts were returned, while 19 were downed inside (or not returned past) the 20-yard line. He's yet to have a punt blocked in his career because of his quick release. And Chris is a heads-up player, too: he made TD-saving tackles in the Oregon and Notre Dame games (on the stop in the Oregon contest, he also stripped the ball carrier of the football and recovered the fumble).

As a redshirt freshman in 1985, Sperle beat out two-year starting punter Troy Richardson and averaged 38.1 yards on his 46 kicks (with a long of 53 yards against Oregon). He averaged 39.5 yards on 17 boots in USC's final 4 games. Overall, just 22 of his 46 punts were returned and for an average of only 4.3 yards each. Thirteen of his kicks were downed inside (or not returned past) the 20 and 2 others were fumbled and recovered by USC. He punted in all games except Notre Dame, when Richardson took over. Chris tore right knee cartilage in practice prior to the Aloha Bowl (although he did punt once early in that game) which required surgery and forced him to miss spring practice in 1986.

He punted once in 1984 (for 39 yards in the opener against Utah State), but then suffered a strained right hamstring when he was roughed on a punt and got tendinitis in his left knee, and was able to redshirt.

Sperle was an All-CIF Division I first team punter in 1983 at Fountain Valley (Calif.) High. He averaged 39.5 yards on 44 punts. He also was good on 11-of-21 field goal attempts and 20-of-23 extra point tries, scoring 53 points as a senior. He kicked a 43-yard field goal to beat top-ranked Loyola High in the final minute of the 1983 CIF Big Five quarterfinals. His longest three-pointer was 47 yards. He was also named All-Sunset League, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County and The Register All-Orange County. Chris is one of two Trojans from Fountain Valley, the other being Brad Leggett.

Quite a track athlete (he runs the 40 in 4.6), Sperle was the Sunset League champion at 400 meters as a junior (49.0) and third in the CIF meet as a senior (48.40). He also posted times of 10.9 for 100 meters and 22.2 for 200 meters.

Appropriately enough, he says his sports hero is Ray Guy, the Los Angeles Raiders' outstanding punter. Chris likes to ski in his free time. He said his most thrilling moment in sports was watching the U.S. hockey team beat the Russians in the 1980 Olympics. Sperle is a public administration major at USC. He made the 1986 Pac-10 All-Academic honorable mention team.

(57) ALEX STEWART — Defensive Tackle, 6-5, 260, Jr.

A transfer last spring from Fresno (Calif.) City College, Stewart has made a quick impression at USC. He's listed as the No. 2 defensive tackle and his prospects are bright.

"Alex had an excellent spring and has moved into position to contend for lots of playing time," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a big-play, impact player who makes things happen. He's strong, fast and quick — all the tools you look for in a good defensive lineman."

Stewart won J.C. Grid-Wire All-American honorable mention notice in 1986 while starting at defensive tackle. He was his team's leading tackler and led the league in quarterback sacks with 15. He also made the All-State second team and the All-Central Valley Conference first team.

Alex spent 1984 and 1985 at Nassau (N.Y.) Community College, but did not play football there.

He spent his 1983 prep senior year at Uniondale (N.Y.) High, where he was a starting defensive end and was named All-League. As a junior in 1982, he was a part-time starting defensive end at Malverne (N.Y.) High.

Stewart was born in Kingston, Jamaica and lived there the first 12 years of his life. He then moved to Toronto, Canada and played Canadian-style football while a junior high defensive lineman. He moved to New York when he was 14.

Alex's father, Berland, was England's Armed Forces boxing champion from 1956 to 1961. And his younger brother, Andrew, is a starting defensive end at Cincinnati (he played at Fresno City College in 1985).

Stewart is a public administration major at USC. He enjoys weightlifting and won a Police Boys' Club 19-and-over class weightlifting competition in New York in 1984. He can bench press 405 pounds and he runs the 40 in 4.8.

(31) BILL STOKES — Outside Linebacker, 6-3, 235, Sr.

USC has an outstanding group of starting linebackers, including Marcus Cotton, Rex Moore, and Keith Davis. But don't overlook the quick, aggressive Stokes, who has assumed the starting weakside outside linebacker job. He could have a big year in 1987.

"Bill was one of our most impressive players in last spring's practice," says coach Larry Smith. "He's really going to be good and, with the others, gives us a great set of linebackers. He's a big-play type of player who excels in defending both the run and the pass. He's an especially good pass rusher."

Stokes backed up Ron Brown at weakside outside linebacker last fall as a junior and was used often in pass rushing situations. He posted 35 tackles (including 6 for losses of 40 yards) and also played on special teams. He even started in the Florida Citrus Bowl at defensive tackle and had 11 stops.

Bill transferred to USC in the spring of 1986 from Glendale (Calif.) College, where he won first team J.C. Grid-Wire All-American outside linebacker honors in 1985 while leading Glendale to a No. 5 national ranking and a 10-1 record. He topped his team in tackles with 57, including 18 quarterback sacks, and had 4 interceptions (he returned one 75 yards for a TD). He was also named first team All-State and All-Western State Conference, as well as getting Academic All-American laurels with a 3.2 GPA in business.

As a 1984 starter, he won second team All-Western State Conference acclaim while notching 10 quarterback sacks. Current Trojans Greg Coauette and Bill Schultz also once attended Glendale College.

A two-way tackle at Pasadena (Calif.) High, Bill was an All-CIF Division II second team offensive lineman as a 1983 senior. He registered 75 tackles and 9 sacks on defense while also being named Pacific League Defensive Player of the Year and All-San Gabriel Valley. He started at nose guard as a junior.

Stokes was also a fine baseball player. He was an All-Pacific League pitcher and first baseman as a junior in high school, but hurt his shoulder and didn't play his senior season. As a freshman at Glendale, he was a pitcher, first baseman and outfielder. Bill was good enough to have been drafted by the major leagues (by the Toronto Blue Jays out of high school and by the Minnesota Twins while at Glendale).

His hobby is photography. Stokes says his sports hero is Kareem Abdul Jabbar of the Lakers. He's majoring in urban and regional planning at USC. He was born in Birmingham, Ala.

(95) J.P. SULLIVAN — Defensive Guard, 6-5, 240, So.

Although he has yet to play in his USC career, Sullivan is now listed as the No. 2 defensive guard and bolsters the young defensive line.

"J.P. is young and inexperienced, but he figures in our future plans," says coach Larry Smith. "He made real inroads as spring ball progressed. He's not big and strong yet, but he runs to the ball very well."

A pre-season left shoulder separation kept him off the field last fall after he redshirted in 1985.

Sullivan earned Palomar League Defensive Player of the Year honors in 1984 as a defensive tackle at Vista (Calif.) High. His senior year stats included 98 tackles, 17 quarterback sacks, 6 forced fumbles, 3 fumble recoveries and 2 pass deflections. He had 13 unassisted tackles (5 were sacks) in a single game. He was also named All-CIF San Diego Section first team, L.A. Times All-San Diego, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention and All-Palomar League that year.

J.P. stands for John Patrick. He is majoring in public administration at USC. Among his hobbies are motorcycle racing in the desert and playing the guitar.

(51) CORDELL SWEENEY — Outside Linebacker, 6-4, 220, So.

A serious knee injury in the spring of 1986 has slowed Sweeney's progress.

After redshirting in 1985, he was having an impressive practice the following spring before he tore ligaments in his right knee and had surgery. He missed all of last season while recuperating. But he appears healthy now and adds good depth to the outside linebacker spot.

"Now that he's healthy again, Cordell is coming along and gives us some good young future talent at his position," says coach Larry Smith. "He could see some action in a reserve role and on special teams in 1987."

Although injuries limited his playing time in 1984 at Blackford High in San Jose (Calif.), he was named to the San Francisco Examiner's All-Bay Area team. He had 45 tackles and 4 sacks in 5 games as a senior. As a junior, Sweeney made 108 tackles and 10 quarterback sacks and earned All-West Valley Athletic League honors. He once had 24 tackles and 2 sacks in a game.

He was also Blackford's top swimmer, specializing in the freestyle and butterfly. Cordell served as student body president during his senior year at Blackford.

He's a business major at USC. He likes to play beach volleyball and the piano in his spare time. His football hero is NFL star Lawrence Taylor because "I like his aggressive, all-out style of play." Cordell came to USC because "my dad went to Notre Dame, and my brother and sister went to UCLA, so I had to choose USC!"

(23) RANDY TANNER — Flanker, 5-11, 190, Sr.

Tanner is a true triple-threat player. Although he missed most of last spring's practice while playing baseball, he figures to once again (for the third year) be USC's starting flanker (although John Jackson is pushing him). And he might also return punts again.

As USC's steady starting flanker last year as a junior, Tanner was second on the squad in receptions with 29 for 408 yards (14.1 average) and 3 TDs (including 2 at UCLA and a 44-yarder against Oregon). He had 7 grabs for 77 yards against Washington and 6 for 85 yards at Washington State. Randy also threw 2 touchdowns to Ken Henry on surprise flanker passes (a 30-yarder against Illinois and a 67-yarder against Washington). And Tanner ran twice for 14 yards on flanker reverses. For his 7 catches and scoring pass against Washington, he was named Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Week. And if all that wasn't enough, he also was USC's punt returner, averaging 4.5 yards on 23 runbacks.

"Although we really didn't have a chance to see much of Randy during spring practice because he was out for baseball, we know he's a proven receiver," says coach Larry Smith. "He can do so many things for a team and we're hoping he picks up where he left off last fall. Not only is he a good player — I think he's among the best receivers in the league — but his maturity and leadership are important assets, too."

Tanner's promising 1985 sophomore season came to an abrupt halt when he tore his left kneecap tendon returning the opening kickoff in the Notre Dame game, USC's sixth contest. He had surgery (he also had arthroscopic surgery to remove cartilage in his right knee at the time, an operation that was repeated late last spring) and didn't recover until the start of 1986's pre-season drills (so he missed that spring's practice).

As the five-game starter up until that injury, Tanner made 12 catches (third best on the team) for 216 yards (18.0 average) and 2 touchdowns. He hauled in 4 passes for 119 yards at Illinois (including a 46-yard TD and another 48-yard grab), then caught 5 aerials for 67 yards the following game against Baylor (including a spectacular one-foot-in-bounds grab at the side of the end zone for a 19-yard score). He also completed a 50-yard strike to Hank Norman on a flanker reverse to set up a Trojan TD against Stanford, tried running on another reverse against Oregon State (but was dropped for a 6-yard loss) and returned 3 kickoffs on the year for 29 yards (9.7 average).

Tanner saw considerable action as a 1984 freshman while backing up Timmie Ware. He caught 5 passes for 62 yards (10.8 average) while logging 57 minutes of time and he even started 3 games (California, Stanford, Washington) while Ware recovered from an injury. Randy's first collegiate reception was a brilliant, over-the-shoulder 19-yard touchdown from Sean Salisbury against Utah State. He also returned 7 kickoffs for 110 yards (15.7 average), including a 30-yarder versus Notre Dame. And he threw 1 pass on a flanker reverse (against Ohio State in the Rose Bowl), although it was incomplete.

In his career, Tanner has completed 3-of-5 flanker passes (60.0%) for 147 yards and 2 TDs. That led one newspaper headline to read, "Randy Tanner: Is There Any Way He Can't Beat An Opposing Team?" and Trojan quarterback Rodney Peete to declare, "Maybe I should start worrying about my job!"

"I don't want Rodney's job," replied Tanner. "Just as long as he looks for me when he's passing the ball! But I like gimmick plays, like the flanker pass. Anytime I get the chance to fool somebody, I enjoy it. I just want to help the team any way I can. God has blessed me with the ability to throw the ball, good hand-eye coordination and a decent arm. But I'd much rather catch the ball than throw it."

Randy is confident of his pass catching abilities. "I feel if the other team is going to cover me one-on-one, I'm going to come out on top," he said. "I'm a receiver, but I have the attitude of a defensive player. I like to get physical out there. I'm also very intense. I feel a little different now than earlier in my career. I'm not in awe anymore. I belong here and I can play here. And the more relaxed I am, the more things I can do."

A talented athlete, Tanner has also spent two seasons on USC's baseball team. This past spring, he was a reserve outfielder and hit .208 while appearing in 23 games. The kneecap injury kept him off the baseball diamond in 1986, but he did spend the early part of the spring of 1985 as an outfielder on the Trojan squad. He started 9 of the 14 games he played in then and had the team's highest batting average, .405 (15-of-37). He also hit a home run and had 5 RBIs.

He was the CIF Division I Player of the Year in 1983 at Bishop Amat High in La Puente (Calif.) and earned Adidas/Scholastic Coach honorable mention All-American notice. He led his team to the Big 5 Conference finals and was a real triple-threat as a prepster, too. He gained 1,305 yards and had 10 TDs as a senior running back, caught 28 passes for a 10-yard average and 5 scores, and even completed 9-of-16 halfback passes for 340 yards and 4 TDs in his career (some to current Trojan John Jackson). Among his other senior honors were All-CIF Division I first team (in 1982 and 1983), Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley, San Gabriel Valley Tribune's MVP, All-Angelus League (three years, including MVP in 1983), All-State, and Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West. As a junior, he averaged 23.8 yards on 34 receptions and gained 550 yards rushing. He also returned punts and kickoffs, averaged 38 yards as a punter and played some defensive back.

He was also a three-time All-Angelus Leaguer in basketball and was an All-CIF pick in baseball (he hit better than .500 and drove in 40 runs as a junior). He's one of 3 Trojans from Bishop Amat (along with Jackson and Rigo Diaz).

He's a public relations major at USC. His sports hero is ex-Trojan All-American receiver Lynn Swann. Tanner said that watching Swann was "poetry in motion. He had the heart to go up and catch the ball ... There's only been one All-American receiver at USC in recent years, Lynn Swann. I want to be up on top of that platform."

Randy's nickname is "Gramps." How come? "It was after our first double-day practice my freshman year," he recalled. "I was tired and sore. I was walking off the field and I hunched over. Everyone still says I look old, but I don't feel old!"

(75) MARK TUCKER — Offensive Guard, 6-3, 260, Fr.

Tucker is a young offensive lineman with a great future. Just a redshirt freshman now, he's pushing starting left guard Brent Parkinson for playing time.

"Mark should have an outstanding career at USC," says coach Larry Smith. "He had an excellent spring and when Brent Parkinson got hurt (sprained knee ligaments mid-spring), Mark took over and really showed some progress. Although he'll be competing for playing time this year, it's just a matter of time before we see a lot of him."

Tucker redshirted last fall. He was one of California's top offensive linemen in 1985 at L.A. City-champion Banning High in Wilmington (Calif.). A two-time All-L.A. City first team pick (1984 and 1985), Tucker was also named to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, The Sporting News' Top 100 honorable mention, Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West, L.A. Times and Daily Breeze All-South Bay first teams, L.A. Herald-Examiner's Super 11 second team and All-Pacific League first team in 1985. He also was his team's captain. He started for Banning's 1984 City runner-up and made All-Pacific League first team.

Quick for his size, Mark has run 5.0 in the 40. Tucker is 1 of 4 former Banning stars presently on USC's roster, including Leroy Holt, Deryl Henderson and Marvin Pollard. Mark is a political science major at USC. He was born in Spokane, Wash. His football heroes are Roy Foster and Tony Slaton, both former USC All-American offensive linemen.

(56) BRIAN TULIAU — Inside Linebacker, 6-2, 225, Fr.

A redshirt freshman, Tuliau gives USC some solid depth at inside linebacker and, in time, should move into a more prominent role. A sprained back limited him during part of this past spring's drills.

"Brian is young, but he improved constantly during the spring," says coach Larry Smith. "He has some good skills. He'll serve as a backup on defense and will play on special teams. The day will come when he sees lots of action.

Tuliau, who redshirted in 1986, earned All-CIF Southern Section first team honors in 1985 as an inside linebacker for CIF Big 5 co-champion Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High. He had 105 tackles, 2 interceptions (both against Fountain Valley) and 3 fumble recoveries as a senior in 1985. One of his interceptions went for a 56-yard touchdown. His other senior honors included All-CIF Big 5 first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West and All-Long Beach Area, All-South Coast first team, All-Moore League first team and The Sporting News' Top 100 honorable mention. He also saw action for the Jackrabbits at fullback.

As a junior in 1984, Tuliau had 85 tackles, 1 interception and 2 fumble recoveries. He was named to the All-Moore League and All-South Coast second teams. A three-year varsity letterman in football at Poly, Tuliau was a reserve linebacker as a sophomore. One of his teammates at Poly was current Trojan frosh safety Mark Carrier.

Tuliau lists Lawrence Taylor as his favorite NFL player. Brian has a B average (3.04 GPA) in the classroom at USC.

(70) JOE WALSH — Nose Guard, 6-2, 270, Jr.

Walshe brings versatility and experience to USC's young defensive line troops. He'll see action in a reserve role.

"Joe can play any of the three defensive line positions," says coach Larry Smith. "He's been through the battles here and should provide good leadership to our younger linemen. He had a good spring and will see some playing time."

Walshe saw limited action last fall as a sophomore while backing up nose guard Dan Owens. He recorded 1 tackle. He missed 3 games (Stanford, Arizona and California) with a broken hand.

He was a backup defensive tackle in 1985, when he posted 3 tackles in limited action. A pulled hamstring slowed him during the early part of that season. Walshe redshirted in 1984 after breaking a hand in the early going. He came to USC as a nose guard, but was switched to defensive tackle in the spring of 1985.

He was one of the top prep defensive linemen in the country in 1983 at Foothill High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He was an Adidas/Scholastic Coach All-American and All-CIF Division II pick as a senior when he made a stunning 28 quarterback sacks. He also made All-Century League, The Register All-Orange County, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County (and Defensive Player of the Year), Los Angeles Herald-Examiner High School Super 11, and Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West. He's one of 2 Trojans from Foothill, along with John Katnik.

Walshe was also a weightman in track, placing third in the CIF shot put as a junior. He won the Century League shot put title that year, too, and set Foothill's shot put record with a 56-10½ throw.

A public administration major at USC, he likes to sail and backpack.

(27) MARLON WASHINGTON — Split End, 6-0, 195, So.

With an impressive showing this past spring, Washington has emerged as a key backup split end who could help out the receiving corps in 1987.

"Marlon threw his name into the ring for playing time among our wide receivers after an outstanding last half of spring practice," says coach Larry Smith. "He made some big catches and finished off strong. We have confidence in him."

Washington played sparingly last fall (he didn't catch a pass) after redshirting in 1985, his first year at USC, while recovering from arthroscopic surgery on torn right knee cartilage which he suffered in pre-season drills.

One of the top wide receiver recruits in the nation in 1984, Washington was a two-time All-American from Schlagle High in Kansas City (Kan.). In his three-year varsity career, he caught 96 passes for 1,852 yards and 16 touchdowns as a receiver and had 132 tackles and 15 interceptions at defensive back. He was twice named to the Street & Smith, Adidas/Scholastic Coach and Big Eight Magazine All-American teams (1983 and 1984) and added Parade All-American and USA Today All-USA to his honor list in 1984. Marlon was also among The Sporting News' Top 100 Recruits in 1984.

He had 27 receptions for 548 yards and 8 TDs as a senior in 1984 after catching 54 for 1,004 yards and 6 scores in 1983. His other honors included All-State first team and All-Metro first team in 1983 and 1984, U.S. Army Reserve Junior All-Stars in 1983, and he was a three-time All-Kansas City, Kansas League pick. His sophomore stats included 15 receptions for 300 yards and 2 touchdowns.

An all-around athlete with excellent speed (4.5 in the 40), Washington was All-League in basketball and had a long jump personal best of 23-0, twice qualifying for the state track meet. An outstanding student, Marlon carried a 3.9 (out of 4.0) grade point average and was a member of the National Honor Society and Max Emfinger's Fabulous 44 Academic All-American team.

He spends his spare time playing racquetball and basketball, as well as reading the Bible. He lists his sports heroes as NBA stars Terry Cummings ("He's a strong Christian and an outstanding athlete," he said) and Julius Erving ("He has lots of class," he said). Washington, who was born in Kansas City, Kan., is a business major at USC.

(25) STEVEN WEBSTER — Tailback, 5-10, 185, Jr.

Surprise! Speedy, slippery Webster is USC's No. 1 tailback in 1987. And it's easy to see why. Just listen to coach Larry Smith.

"Steven has the speed (4.45 in the 40) and the attitude to be a great player," says Smith. "I'm excited about him. He's in great physical condition and had an outstanding spring where he showed his ability and durability. He needs to keep himself healthy on the field, because his development will be a real key to our success. If he continues to improve, he'll have a fine year and could wind up as one of the best runners in the Pac-10 this season."

Adds USC running backs coach Clarence Shelmon: "You want the tailback to be somebody who can make something happen on his own. The key is to make that first defender miss you and Webster has the ability to do that. He has excellent quickness and is also very intelligent. He's also the best conditioned athlete on our team."

Webster can flat-out fly and he possesses great moves. But, although he won the team's "Superstars" competition (a series of various athletic events and drills that tests physical conditioning) last spring, the question on him in the past has been his durability. Coming into the 1987 season, the junior has played in only 1 of USC's previous 21 games and, in fact, has made it into only 4 of Troy's 24 games the past 2 years.

He's been hampered by a nagging right ankle injury. He sprained the ankle early in his 1985 redshirt freshman campaign (in practice prior to USC's fourth game, against Oregon State). He sat out the rest of that season (nine games) and had ankle ligament surgery in the spring of 1986. He wasn't fully recovered until the third week of last season. Then, when he finally got into a game — in the second half at Stanford in USC's seventh contest — he reinjured the ankle on his second carry. He finished that game, but sat out the rest of 1986. However, his ankle is fine now and he made it through all 20 days of last spring's practice without a problem.

When he was healthy, he showed flashes of his talent. At Stanford last fall, he piled up a game-high 60 yards on 16 second-half carries (3.8 average). In 1985, he gained 32 yards on 11 carries (2.9 average) overall, with 31 of those yards coming on 9 rushes at Arizona State. He also returned 6 kick-offs for 116 yards (19.3 average) that season, including a 1985 team long of 45 yards (at Arizona State).

"When I hurt my ankle again in the Stanford game, I thought, 'What's going on here?' " he said. "I didn't know what was happening. It was just bad luck, I guess."

The lingering ankle problem weighed heavily on Steven's mind. "I was wondering whether I was tough enough to play the tailback position at USC," he said. "I did play defensive back in high school and there were some thoughts that maybe I should go to the defensive side of the ball. In fact, that went through my mind all of 1986. Maybe I should just go play defense, where the punishment is not as rough."

Now, Webster is glad he's getting a shot at being the No. 1 tailback. "I was in the shadows before," he said. "With a new coaching staff this year, a lot of guys are working a lot harder because they have the opportunity to open some eyes. Everybody started even last spring. Coach Smith said he would be looking at everyone equal and the people who did the best on the field would start. It made things competitive. If you were third string, you knew if you did well in practice that you'd have a chance to play. And I think it will spark guys who are starting because they know there's a chance someone else can get their job."

Webster redshirted in 1984 after winning All-CIF San Diego Section first team honors while playing tailback at Helix High in La Mesa (Calif.) in 1983, despite missing the first 3 games of the season with a broken thumb. He gained 869 yards rushing on 67 carries (an impressive 13.0 average) and scored 9 touchdowns in only 6 games. He had 5 TDs of 70 yards or more, including an 86-yarder. His 10.1 career yards per carry average was No. 2 in the CIF San Diego Section record book. He also played defensive back, with 1 interception as a senior (he returned it 55 yards for a score). Among his other 1983 honors were Grossmont League Co-Offensive Player of the Year, San Diego Tribune's All-San Diego County, and All-Grossmont League on offense and defense.

He also played baseball and ran track (10.8 in the 100 meters and 22.2 in the 200 meters) at Helix.

Despite his injury-plagued early career, he doesn't regret coming to USC. "I came here basically because I always wanted to play for USC and get the opportunity to play tailback," he said. "My main decision to come here was because I'm a totally committed Christian and God knows the best place for me to be. I know this is the best place for me, even if I didn't play a down. Football is important to me, but God's will is more important."

Webster is a public administration major at USC. He likes to bowl in his spare time. His football hero is another USC tailback, ex-Heisman Trophy winner O.J. Simpson.

(83) GARY WELLMAN — Flanker, 5-9, 170, Fr.

Wellman, USC's smallest but fastest (4.35 in the 40) player, figures to be on the field often in 1987 in a variety of roles. The redshirt freshman is a backup flanker, and also might return punts and kickoffs. No matter where he winds up, he's guaranteed to provide some excitement.

"Boy, is he exciting," says coach Larry Smith. "He's a very aggressive receiver and a hardnosed competitor who has the speed to make the big plays and the ability to make the big catch. He had an excellent spring and now just needs to overcome his youth and inexperience."

Wellman, who redshirted in 1986, was an All-CIF Coastal Conference first team pick as an all-purpose runner in 1985 at Westlake High in Westlake Village (Calif.). He rushed for 890 yards on 115 carries (7.7 average) and caught 35 passes for 512 yards (14.6 average) while playing running back. He holds the Westlake record for points in a season (146 in 1985) and career (206). He scored 23 touchdowns (16 rushing, 7 receiving) as a senior for the Warriors. In one game, Wellman gained 178 yards on 9 carries, threw for a 23-yard touchdown on his only attempt of the year, and ran for 5 TDs (including runs of 77 and 50 yards). He was named to the L.A. Times and Daily News All-Valley, and All-Ventura County first teams and Marmonte League offensive MVP.

He gained 516 yards on 67 carries (7.7 average) and caught 10 passes for 125 yards as a junior in 1984, earning All-Marmonte League honorable mention.

One of the state's top prep sprinters, Gary holds the Marmonte League record for 100 meters (10.37 at the 1985 league meet). He placed fifth in the state 100 as a senior and seventh in 1985. He also took second at the CIF 4-A meet and third at the CIF Masters meet in the 100 in 1986.

His brother, Glenn, lettered in football at Arizona in 1983 under Larry Smith. Gary was born in Syracuse, N.Y. He's majoring in business at USC.

(54) MICHAEL WILLIAMS — Outside Linebacker, 6-4, 210, So.

Soon enough, Williams will establish himself as an outstanding outside linebacker. For now, he's the backup behind All-American outside linebacker candidate Marcus Cotton on the strongside, and he'll also be used often in pass rushing situations and on special teams.

"Michael adds great depth to the outside linebacker position and will see extensive playing time both there and on special teams," says coach

Larry Smith. "He played like a starter all of last spring and we regard him almost as one. He's tough, smart and a dangerous pass rusher."

While backing up Cotton last fall as just a redshirt freshman, he made 26 tackles. He was on the field often, particularly on obvious passing downs. He even started the Notre Dame game for an injured Cotton (although Cotton did play in the contest).

Williams redshirted in 1985 after a fine prep career. He was one of the top defensive players in the Dallas (Tex.) area as a senior defensive end at Pinkston High. He was named Defensive Player of the Year in Texas' District 5A-11 in 1984. He also earned All-District honors 3 years in a row in football and basketball. Williams was his district's Sophomore of the Year in football and basketball. He helped Pinkston to the district championship as a junior in 1983. Michael was also one of Pinkston's top offensive linemen as a tackle.

He runs the 40 in 4.7. He likes to listen to music in his free moments. His sports hero is L.A. Laker star Kareem Abdul Jabbar. At USC, Williams is majoring in public administration. Born in Dallas, his nickname, obviously, is "Tex."

(94) GARY WILLISON — Defensive Guard, 6-4, 255, Sr.

Willison missed practice last spring because of academic ineligibility and his status this season is undetermined. But if he returns as a backup to the Trojans, his experience as a one-time starter could come in handy to the young defensive line.

As a junior last year, Gary was the only upperclassman on USC's line. He started 4 games (Stanford, Arizona, California and UCLA) at defensive tackle and was a backup in the others. He made 25 stops despite missing 3 contests (Baylor, Washington and Oregon) with a sprained ankle.

Gary started 8 games as a sophomore in 1985 and posted 21 tackles (3 for a loss). A backup nose guard when the season began, he started the Arizona State game at defensive tackle for an injured Brent Moore, then he started the next game (Oregon State) at nose guard when Tony Colorito was hurt. He backed up Colorito the following game (Stanford) and then took over for him for good when Colorito was re-injured. Willison himself didn't start the UCLA game because of an ankle sprain, but he did play in that contest (and then started in the subsequent Mirage Bowl and Aloha Bowl). He missed 1986 spring drills while recuperating from that ankle sprain.

Willison received valuable playing experience as a freshman in 1984, recording 4 tackles (1 for a loss) in 13 minutes of action as a defensive tackle. He was switched to nose guard after 1985 spring practice.

He was a dominating force on offense and defense for Burbank (Calif.) High in 1983. He was an All-CIF Division II second team pick as an offensive lineman during his senior year, and also made All-Foothill League (for the second year in a row), was Burbank's MVP and was named to the Los Angeles Times and Daily News sectional all-star squads. He had 65 tackles as a senior.

He was also on the track squad at Burbank, placing in the CIF shot put finals as a junior and a senior. He won the Foothill League title in the shot and discus as a sophomore. His best shot put was 60-6 3/4.

He didn't play organized football until his sophomore year at Burbank. Because of his size, he never could make the weight limit for Pop Warner leagues. Fellow Trojan Greg Coauette also prepped at Burbank.

He spends his spare time fishing and water skiing. His sports hero is ex-NFL star defensive lineman Lyle Alzado.

FRESHMEN SKETCHES

(14) MARION BATES — Cornerback, 5-11, 185

An All-State pick as a two-way back last year at Amphitheater High in Tucson (Ariz.), he was named Back of the Year in Tucson . . . As a running back, Bates rushed for 1,180 yards (tops in Arizona's AAA-1 Southern Division) and 18 touchdowns in 1986, leading the Panthers to a 10-2 record and the Southern Division title . . . Defensively, he picked off 8 passes last year . . . Other senior honors included Tucson Citizen All-Star first team (second team on offense), All-Metro, All-Southern Division, Super Prep All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, The Sporting News Top 100 honorable mention and Adidas All-American honorable mention . . . Once rushed for over 200 yards and scored three TDs in the same game . . . A speedster, Bates has been clocked in 4.48 for 40 yards . . . His younger brother, Michael, is one of the top high school sprinters in the country and has covered 100 meters in 10.34 and 200 in 20.90 (both national sophomore prep records) . . . "Marion has the potential to be outstanding," said Amphitheater High coach Vern Friedli. "He's very tough and he reacts to the ball very well."

(34) RICKY ERVINS — Tailback, 5-10, 190

One of the top running backs in California last year at Muir High in Pasadena (Calif.), Ervins gained 1,602 yards (6.8 per carry) and ran for 21 touchdowns as a senior in 1986 . . . Also caught 44 passes for 568 yards (12.6 average) and 4 scores a year ago . . . Teamed with current USC freshman quarterback Vince Phillips to lead Muir to a 14-0 record and the CIF Coastal Conference title . . . Earned All-State, All-CIF Coastal Conference first team and Pacific League Player of the Year honors in 1986 and was listed on USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West honorable mention and the L.A. Herald-Examiner's pre-season Super 11 . . . Gained 213 yards on 23 carries last year against St. Francis . . . As a junior tailback, Ervins gained 1,345 yards in 12 games and scored 19 TDs for Muir's 1985 Coastal Conference champs . . . He was named Pacific League Player of the Year, All-San Gabriel Valley first team, state junior of the year and U.S. Army Reserve Junior All-Stars in 1985 . . . Was an All-Pacific League first team pick as a sophomore fullback in 1984 and gained more than 900 yards in rushing and receiving with 10 TDs . . . A sprinter on Muir's track team, Ervins finished eighth in the state 100 meters in 10.80 and has been timed in 4.4 in the 40-yard dash . . . He was listed by the L.A. Times as the 10th best multi-sport prep athlete in Southern California last year . . . Ricky can also bench press 300 pounds and squat 520 . . . "Ricky was an outstanding player for me and I wouldn't be surprised to see him play as a freshman at USC," said Muir High coach Jim Brownfield . . . A fine student, Ricky held a B average in high school.

(87) FRANK GRIFFIN — Tight End, 6-4, 220

An All-Northern California pick, he caught 40 passes for 725 yards and 1 touchdown as a senior tight end at Cordova High in Rancho Cordova (Calif.) last year . . . Also earned All-Sacramento first team, All-Metro League first-team and All-State honorable mention honors in 1986 . . . Griffin helped the Lancers to a 12-1 record and the Metro League title last year after playing for Cordova's Sac-Joaquin Section champs as a junior in 1985 . . . Combines sure hands with good speed . . . Frank has been timed in 4.7 for 40 yards . . . "Frank is a great blocker with the desire to get the job done on every play," said Cordova High coach Max Miller. "He knows how to adjust to a thrown ball and runs over people when he makes the catch."

(93) PAT HARLOW — Defensive Tackle, 6-7, 250

One of the top linemen in Southern California, Harlow was a dominant defender as a senior at Norco (Calif.) High in 1986 . . . Also starred at offensive tackle . . . Was named to the All-CIF Eastern Conference, All-Riverside County and All-Ivy League (on offense and defense) first teams and was the Ivy League's Defensive Player of the Year in 1986 . . . Also listed on the L.A. Herald-Examiner's Super 11 honorable mention before his senior season . . . An outstanding student, Harlow compiled an A-minus average during high school.

(21) CALVIN HOLMES — Tailback, 5-11, 180

Regarded as one of the state's top running backs as a senior while playing for L.A. City-champion Carson (Calif.) High last year . . . Gained 1,097 yards on 133 carries (8.3 average) and scored 14 touchdowns for the 11-1 Colts in 1986 and caught 7 passes for 94 yards . . . Also returned 3 kickoffs for 72 yards . . . Calvin's longest run from scrimmage covered 75 yards last season . . . Earned All-L.A. City 4-A and All-Pacific League first team honors and was listed among the Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West and the Sporting News'

Top 100 honorable mention in 1986 . . . Also made the All-State, L.A. Times All-South Bay and Daily Breeze All-South Bay second teams last year . . . Carson also went 11-1 when Holmes was a junior in 1985, but lost to archrival Banning in the City title game . . . Along with Pete McLachlan and Alan Wilson, Calvin is one of the three former Carson players on USC's current roster . . . One of the top sprinters in the state, Holmes took second in the state 100 in a personal-best 10.50 and has run 21.43 for 200 meters . . . Was third in the City 100 as a junior in 1986 (10.82) . . . He was ranked the 10th best multi-sport prep athlete in Southern California last year by the L.A. Times . . . "Calvin is one of the fastest backs in the country, but he's much more than that," said Carson High coach Gene Vollnogle. "He has good hands, excellent balance and he's a fine blocker."

(37) MARCUS HOPKINS — Tailback, 6-0, 185

One of the San Diego area's best running backs as a senior last year at Lincoln High in San Diego (Calif.) . . . Rushed for 1,261 yards on 138 carries (9.1 average) and scored 19 touchdowns on the ground in 1986 . . . Also caught 18 passes for 240 yards (13.3 yards per catch) and 2 TDs, and returned 5 kickoffs for 198 yards (39.6 average) last year . . . Defensively, Marcus had 63 tackles, 3 interceptions and 1 fumble recovery . . . Hopkins earned All-State, All-CIF San Diego Section, All-City, All-City Central League, Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West honorable mention and CIF San Diego Section All-Academic honors last year . . . Also won Lincoln High's Marcus Allen Perpetual Trophy, named for the famous Lincoln alum and 1981 Heisman Trophy winner at USC . . . Against Patrick Henry High last season, he gained 254 yards on 18 carries (14.1 average) . . . Hopkins helped Lincoln to a 12-1 record and the 1986 CIF San Diego Section 2-A title . . . In the CIF championship game versus Point Loma, Hopkins piled up 114 yards rushing (84 yards came on 7 consecutive carries) while leading the Hornets to victory . . . As a junior in 1985, Hopkins ran for 820 yards on 115 carries (7.1 average), caught 17 passes for 240 yards, returned 8 kickoffs for 150 yards and 6 punts for 185 yards, and scored 14 touchdowns . . . His defensive stats as a junior were 29 tackles and 1 interception . . . Lincoln also won the CIF San Diego Section 2-A title in 1985 and Hopkins had 2 TDs in the final game . . . An excellent athlete, Marcus also participated in basketball and track for the Hornets . . . He has long jumped 23-1 and his best for 100 meters is 10.7 . . . His 40 time is 4.5 and he has bench pressed 275 pounds . . . Academically impressive as well, Hopkins had a B average in high school and was the student body vice-president last year . . . "Marcus does everything with determination and strives to get better," said Lincoln High assistant coach Roy Reed. "He has an excellent blend of speed, power and intelligence."

(41) SCOTT LOCKWOOD — Tailback, 6-0, 190

Among the best prep football players ever produced in Colorado, he rushed for a state-record 4,852 yards in his three-year career at Fairview High in Boulder . . . Named to Adidas, Parade and Bally All-American teams, USA Today All-USA second team and Colorado Player of the Year, Gatorade Regional Player of the Year and Colorado Player of the Year as a senior in 1986 . . . Also named Colorado Dr. Pepper Male Athlete of the Year for 1986-87 . . . Rushed for 2,210 yards (7.4 average) and 22 touchdowns last year . . . Scott scored 47 TDs and had a 7.5 yards per carry average in his prep career . . . Other honors in 1986 included All-Boulder County, The Sporting News' Top 100, Athlon Elite Twenty-Two, Street & Smith's Top 50 and Super Prep All-American . . . Gained 315 yards on 15 carries and scored 4 times against

Smoky Hill High last year . . . Ran for 1,967 yards on 231 carries (8.7 average) as a junior in 1985 and scored 19 touchdowns, winning U.S. Army Reserve Junior All-Stars honors . . . In his sophomore year, Lockwood rushed for 675 yards (5.9 average) and 6 TDs . . . A legitimate sprinter, he has been timed in 10.6 for 100 meters, 4.4 for 40 yards and was the 1986 Junior Olympics champ for 60 yards (6.2) . . . Scott's father, John, played on USC's defensive line and lettered in 1964 and 1965 . . . Scott also mixes strength with speed, having bench pressed 370 pounds . . . "Scott has great athletic ability and is one of the best running backs ever from Colorado," said Fairview High coach Sam Pagano. "He has great balance, strength and speed, but his greatest asset is his competitiveness. He is a money player."

(78) STEVE MILLS — Center, 6-5, 260

An All-State pick at offensive tackle last year as a senior at Bellarmine Prep High in San Jose (Calif.) . . . Other 1986 honors included Palo Club Lineman of the Year, Peninsula Times-Tribune Most Valuable Lineman, All-Central Coast Section first team, All-West Catholic Athletic League first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best in the West honorable mention and The Sporting News' Top 100 honorable mention . . . Bellarmine Prep won the CCS title last year after taking second in the WCAL (the Bells were 10-2) . . . Steve caught a deflected pass and advanced it for a first down during a drive that led to the winning field goal against Saratoga . . . As a junior in 1985, Mills earned All-CCS, All-WCAL first team and U.S. Army Reserve Junior All-Star honors . . . Current Trojan offensive tackle Chuck Ebertin was a teammate of Mills' at Bellarmine Prep . . . "Steve improved to the point where he dominates people on the line of scrimmage," said Bellarmine Prep coach Mike Janda. "He is a very explosive straight-ahead blocker and is an excellent pass blocker."

(77) MICHAEL MOODY — Offensive Guard, 6-7, 260

A dominant offensive tackle while at Washington High in San Francisco last year . . . Was named to the Adidas All-American team in 1986 . . . Other honors included All-City second team, All-Bay Area honorable mention and All-League first team . . . A Washington running back used Moody's block to score the winning touchdown that clinched the 1986 Academic Athletic Association title . . . Moody started for the Eagles for three years . . . A four-year letterman in basketball, Michael averaged 14 points and 11 rebounds, and earned All-City honorable mention last season . . . He was picked to the Converse Grid-Hoops All-Stars first team last year as one of the state's top football/basketball players . . . He also participated in track and was the AAA Frosh-Soph shot put champ in 1984 and 1985 . . . Moody has strength to match his immense size and has bench pressed 360 pounds . . . "Michael is a very coachable athlete who is just beginning to realize his potential," said Washington High coach Joe Callan.

(79) JOHN NECAS — Offensive Tackle, 6-5, 300

Named All-State as a two-way tackle last year as a senior at Douglas (Ariz.) High . . . Defensively, Necas had 25 tackles and 4 sacks in 1986 . . . Was named to the Arizona Daily Star Super 11 and Tucson Citizen All-Southern Division first team last year . . . As a junior in 1985, John played eight-man football at Valley Union High in Elfrida (Ariz.) and helped the team to an 11-0 record and the state class C championship . . . Also played varsity basketball at Valley Union . . . Played football at Douglas High as a sophomore in 1984 . . . An avid weightlifter, John has bench pressed 390 pounds.

(5) VINCE PHILLIPS — Quarterback, 6-2, 185

Earned co-MVP honors for the CIF Coastal Conference while leading Muir High in Pasadena (Calif.) to a perfect 14-0 record and the conference title last year. . . . Phillips completed 164-of-248 passes (65% completion rate, tops in the CIF Southern Section) for 1,965 yards and 19 touchdowns for the Mustangs in 1986 and also rushed for 413 yards on 78 carries (5.2 yards per carry) and scored 4 TDs. . . . Vince's duties also included punting (he averaged 40.2 yards on 27 punts). . . . His other honors included All-State honorable mention, Pacific League MVP, All-San Gabriel Valley and All-West San Gabriel Valley. . . . In the Coastal Conference championship game, won by Muir, 37-0, Phillips hit 14-of-20 passes for 118 yards and rushed for 105 yards. . . . A hamstring injury kept him from playing football during his 1985 junior year. . . . As a sophomore in 1984, Vince saw limited action as a reserve quarterback. . . . An outstanding baseball player, Phillips was a three-year varsity letterman at Muir (he played centerfield) and hit .511 with 4 home runs last spring, winning All-CIF 4-A first team honors. . . . The New York Yankees drafted him in the 13th round this past spring. . . . He was ranked as the third best multi-sport prep athlete in Southern California last year by the L.A. Times. . . . Vince's uncle, Charles Phillips, was an All-American safety at USC (1972-74) and played on 2 national championship Trojan teams before playing 6 years (and in one Super Bowl) with the Oakland Raiders. . . . Current USC freshman tailback Ricky Ervins was Phillips' teammate last year at Muir.

(6) MARVIN POLLARD — Cornerback, 6-3, 190

One of the top prep defensive backs on the West Coast, Pollard earned All-State honors as a senior last year at perennial football power Banning High in Wilmington (Calif.). . . . City first team, All-South Bay first team, All-Pacific League first team and Cal-Hi Sports All-State (underclassmen) as a junior. . . . Pollard is noted for his speed and leaping ability. . . . He has been clocked in 4.55 for the 40. . . . Averaged 15.0 points and 11 assists on Banning's basketball team last year. . . . Earned Converse Grid-Hoops All-Stars honorable mention in 1987 as one of the state's top football/basketball stars. . . . Lists former USC All-American safety Ronnie Lott as his favorite sports hero. . . . Pollard is one of four former Banning stars on USC's current roster, along with Deryl Henderson, Leroy Holt and Mark Tucker. . . . "Marvin is a tough, aggressive player with the ability to break a game open," said former Banning High coach Chris Ferragamo, now coaching at Harbor College. "He is intelligent and has great sense for the ball. He's a pro prospect at safety or wide receiver."

(82) MARC RODGERS — Flanker, 5-11, 175

Was an All-L.A. City 2-A first team wide receiver last year at University High in Los Angeles . . . Caught 37 passes for 740 yards (20.0 average) and 5 touchdowns while helping the Warriors to a 9-2 record and the Pac-8 title in 1986 . . . Also earned Blue Chip All-American, L.A. Times All-Westside, Santa Monica Outlook All-Area, and All-Pac-8 first team honors a year ago . . . As a defensive back last year, Marc had 3 interceptions and also returned 11 kickoffs for an average of 24.0 yards (his long was 68 yards) . . . Rodgers caught 20 passes for 3 TDs as a junior in 1985 and was named All-League second team . . . Had 3 interceptions as a junior, too . . . A fine track athlete, Rodgers won the Western League long jump last spring with a 21-6 effort and placed fifth in the City finals . . . He also pitched for University's varsity baseball team as a sophomore and junior . . . Marc won Uni High's Scholar-Athlete Award three years in a row for his work in the classroom . . . "Marc is quick, has good hands and is capable of making the big play," said University High coach Joe Sedia.

(19) QUIN RODRIGUEZ — Placekicker, 6-1, 165

Earned USA Today All-USA honorable mention last year as a kicker at Dobson High in Mesa (Ariz.) . . . Made 26-of-34 field goal attempts in three years at Dobson . . . The left-footed soccer styler kicked a 55-yarder last season, the second longest ever by an Arizona prep . . . Rodriguez was successful on 7-of-10 field goals as a senior in 1986 and was named to the All-Arizona, The Big 11 of Arizona and All-AAA Central Conference, and All-East Valley League teams . . . Hit 11-of-14 three-pointers during his junior year, including a 49-yarder with 6 seconds left to beat Mountain View for the first time in 5 years . . . Quin's junior honors included All-Conference, All-League and All-Arizona (second team) . . . Was good on 8-of-10 field goals as a sophomore in 1984 and was named All-Arizona honorable mention . . . Also noted for his ability to consistently put kickoffs into the end zone . . . "He's very dedicated about kicking and it shows," said Dobson High coach Mike Clark. "Quin had a heck of an effect on our program, not just from field goals and extra points, but as a person."

(64) SCOTT ROSS — Inside Linebacker, 6-2, 215

An All-State linebacker as a senior, he was a defensive mainstay for 1986 CIF Southern Conference-champion El Toro (Calif.) High . . . USC FOOTBALL TICKET INFORMATION

Season and individual game tickets are available from the USC Ticket Office for all six 1987 Trojan home contests. Reserved tickets cost $16 per game, with the UCLA game priced at $22 (a season ticket package is $102). There is also a Family Plan season ticket package (seating in west end zone, no UCLA tickets) available for $40. General admission tickets for all but the UCLA game are $8 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under. Group rates are also available by calling (213) 743-3312.
 The USC Ticket Office also has tickets on sale for three of Troy's road games. There will be no public sale by the USC Ticket Office for tickets to the Washington and Notre Dame games.
 For tickets and information, contact the USC Ticket Office at File No. 2235, Los Angeles, Calif. 90074-2235, (213) 743-GO SC (4672). The office is located in Student Union 200 and is open between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

USC home game tickets are also on sale at the Los Angeles Sports Arena box office, as well as at all Ticketron and Ticktmaster agencies. On the day of home games, tickets are on sale at the Coliseum, starting three hours prior to kickoff.

1986 GAME SUMMARIES

GAME 1 — September 13, Los Angeles, California USC 31, Illinois 16

Att: 51,496

Illinois	3	6	0	7	—	16
USC.....	0	14	7	10	—	31

Quarterback Rodney Peete, coming back from off-season surgery to repair a torn Achilles tendon he suffered in the 1985 Aloha Bowl, passed for 197 yards and one touchdown and ran 32 yards for another score as USC downed Illinois in the season opener, 31-16, at the Coliseum.

After a shaky start, Peete completed 10 of 24 passes, including a 26-yard scoring strike to split end Ken Henry, who made an acrobatic catch at the endzone flag to give the Trojans a 14-9 lead 44 seconds before halftime.

Henry was on the receiving end again, this time on a 30-yard touchdown toss from flanker Randy Tanner as Troy extended the lead to 21-9 in the third period. Then, after the Illini had trimmed the deficit to 21-16 in the fourth quarter, Peete showed his penchant for making things happen when he took off on a broken play and scored on a 32-yard run to secure USC's win (it was the longest run by a Trojan quarterback since 1976).

Tailbacks Ryan Knight and Aaron Emanuel combined for 138 yards in the game as the Trojans unveiled a balanced attack that produced 227 yards passing and 216 yards rushing.

Meanwhile, the defense was stingy, allowing Illinois just 275 total yards. Inside linebacker Sam Anno had a career-high 21 stops, while outside linebacker Marcus Cotton had a tremendous performance that included 10 stops, four pass deflections, two sacks and 10 quarterback pressures.

Placekicker Don Shafer booted a 32-yard field goal through a sudden driving rainstorm as time ran out to give USC a dramatic 17-14 victory over ninth-ranked Baylor in Waco, Tex.

Shafer's kick enabled the Trojans to win despite Baylor's domination of the game's statistics: the Bears outgained USC in total yards 408-197, had a 26-11 edge in first downs, and held the ball for 37:47 of the game's 60 minutes.

Baylor led 7-0 in the closing seconds of the first half and was driving for another score when Troy's All-American safety Tim McDonald grabbed a fumble out of the air on the one-yard line and raced a school-record 99 yards for the tying touchdown (McDonald was named the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week for his feat).

The Bears eventually took a 14-7 lead in the final period, but then the Trojan offense got in gear, going 61 yards in 12 plays to score on a 12-yard pass from Rodney Peete to a high-leaping Ken Henry. From there, the Trojan defense stiffened and USC regained possession after a Baylor punt.

That set up the heroics of Shafer, who had to wait as Baylor called a pair of timeouts with ominous clouds gathering overhead. The skies opened up, but the senior placekicker calmly booted his winning three-pointer anyway.

USC 20, Washington 10

Washington...	7	0	3	0	—	10
USC.....	0	3	7	10	—	20

Flanker Randy Tanner ignited USC's offense with a razzle-dazzle 67-yard touchdown pass to split end Ken Henry, and the Trojan defense shut down Washington's high-powered offense to lead Troy to a 20-10 win over sixth-ranked Washington in the Pac-10 opener for both teams at the Coliseum. It was the Trojans' second straight win over a Top 10-ranked opponent.

USC trailed 10-3 in the third period when quarterback Rodney Peete threw a lateral to Tanner, who gunned a perfect shot to a wide-open Henry to tie the score. Peete connected on a scoring toss of 13 yards to Henry early in the fourth quarter to give the Trojans the lead, and placekicker Don Shafer added a 25-yard field goal to close the scoring.

Defensively, USC limited Washington — which had been averaging more than 400 yards and 46 points a game — to just 287 total yards and a touchdown. Marcus Cotton had 18 tackles, four deflected passes and a key 10-yard quarterback sack.

Tanner, who also caught seven passes for 77 yards, was named the conference's Offensive Player of the Week, while Cotton gave USC a sweep when he was named the Defensive Player of the Week.

USC struck quickly for five first half touchdowns, then held off a Ducks' surge in the second half to defeat Oregon, 35-21, at the Coliseum.

Quarterback Rodney Peete threw a 44-yard scoring toss to flanker Randy Tanner on the game's first series, and the Trojans added touchdown runs from Ryan Knight (three yards), Aaron Emanuel (one), Leroy Holt (14) and Emanuel again (25) en route to a 35-7 lead at the intermission.

But in the second half, Duck quarterback Chris Miller, who would throw a USC opponents' record-tying 33 completions for 376 yards, led his team on a pair of scoring drives as Troy fumbled the ball away on four straight possessions and five times in all. Only an Oregon fumble at the USC two-yard line in the closing minutes prevented the Ducks from closing the gap even more.

Despite the turnover troubles, USC piled up 538 yards in total offense — its most since 1981 — and gained an impressive 7.7 yards a snap. On defense, Tim McDonald stopped 18 ballcarriers, while Marcus Cotton starred again, with nine tackles, two of them quarterback sacks, and a pair of pass deflections.

USC's turnover problems in the second half against Oregon carried over the following week as the Trojans committed five miscues in a stunning 34-14 loss to Washington State in Pullman (Troy's first loss to WSU in its last 17 meetings).

The Cougars scored on their first possession and led 10-0 shortly before halftime when USC was guilty of its most critical turnover. Quarterback Rodney Peete fumbled in WSU territory while attempting to pass and the Cougars recovered. A 39-yard pass completion set up a one-yard scoring run by WSU quarterback Ed Blount, and the Cougars had a 17-0 advantage just nine seconds before the intermission.

USC tried to rally with the pass and amassed 340 yards through the air, its most since a school record-setting 380-yard performance in 1979. Peete completed 16 of 25 tosses for 253 yards, including a 53-yard scoring bomb to split end Ken Henry. In all, Troy had 415 total yards, an average of 7.4 a snap, but was outgained by the Cougars, who had 510.

USC suffered a further blow when senior starting inside linebacker and defensive signalcaller Sam Anno tore knee ligaments in the second half and was lost for the season. His replacement, Rex Moore, had a career-high 24 tackles against the Cougars.

Arizona State 29, USC 20

Arizona State .	3	10	9	7	—	29
USC.....	3	10	0	7	—	20

Opportunistic Arizona State took advantage of USC miscues and played an almost error-free game of its own to down the Trojans on Homecoming at the Coliseum, 29-20, in a pivotal conference game.

Trojan turnovers, penalties and mistakes accounted for all the Sun Devils' 29 points: USC lost a fumble and had a pass intercepted, dropped an interception of its own, allowed ASU to recover a ball on a muffed kickoff return, and roughed the kicker on a missed field goal and had a late-hit penalty which let touchdown and field goal drives remain alive.

Still, Troy managed to stay close on the strength of quarterback Rodney Peete's career-high 19 completions (in 36 attempts) for 226 yards, and his 10-yard scoring scamper in the fourth quarter. That run pulled the Trojans to within 22-20.

USC had the ball and a chance to drive for the go-ahead score later in the quarter, but fumbled deep in its own territory, setting up the game-clinching touchdown for the Sun Devils.

Defensively, USC was led by inside linebacker Rex Moore, who had 19 tackles and a pass deflection, while tackle Tim Ryan (16) and linebackers Keith Davis (15) and Marcus Cotton (14) followed.

Frustrated by two straight defeats that virtually knocked them out of the race for the conference crown, the Trojans regrouped — particularly on defense — for an impressive 10-0 win over explosive Stanford on the road.

The Cardinal entered the game ranked 19th in the country, and was averaging 347.3 yards and 24.7 points a contest. But USC's defense completely shut down quarterback John Paye and the rest of the Stanford offense, allowing only 172 total yards (50 rushing and 122 passing), including just 64 in the second half.

Meanwhile, a trio of unlikely offensive stars shined for USC: reserve split end Erik Affholter, whose leaping 18-yard catch accounted for the game's only touchdown; third-string tailback Steve Webster, who hadn't played in 15 games due to a sprained ankle, yet still led all rushers with 60 yards on 16 second-half carries; and third-string fullback Jeff Brown, originally a walk-on, whose 22-yard gallop in the final period set up the game-clinching field goal.

The shutout — keyed by inside linebacker Rex Moore's 12 tackles and an interception, and Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week Louis Brock's 41-yard interception return that set up Affholter's TD — was Troy's first over the Cardinal since 1977 (49-0) and its first in Palo Alto since 1932 (13-0). It was also the first time Stanford had been whitewashed at home since 1964. And the blanking was never in doubt — the Cardinal had no play longer than 18 yards and didn't get past USC's 38-yard line.

Arizona.....	3	3	0	7	—	13

Quarterback Rodney Peete threw for 179 yards and a pair of touchdowns, and USC's defense held 14th-ranked Arizona to just 253 total yards as the Trojans downed the Wildcats, 20-13, in Tucson in a game that was certain to have major bowl repercussions.

It was the second week in a row that Troy had shut down a Top 20-ranked team's high powered offense on the road (the previous week, USC had blanked Stanford, 10-0).

Peete, who grew up in Tucson, climaxed an 11-play, 81-yard drive on the Trojans' initial possession with a two-yard scoring toss to tight end Scott Galbraith, the freshman's first-ever catch as a Trojan. Then, with the score 10-6 late in the third quarter, Peete found split end Ken Henry on a 43-yard scoring toss that put the game out of reach.

Defensively, inside linebacker Rex Moore posted 15 tackles, while cornerback Greg Coauette forced a pair of fumbles. Arizona entered the game averaging 413 yards and better than 31 points a contest, but managed only 186 yards rushing and 67 yards passing against Troy's stingy defense, and couldn't get into the endzone until the fourth quarter.

After two weeks on the road and then a bye, USC returned to the Coliseum for the first time in nearly a month to rout longtime rival California, 28-3, as tailback Ryan Knight gained a career-high 204 yards and scored all four touchdowns.

For the Trojans, who had exhibited a much more diversified attack in 1986, it was a return to traditional form as they pounded the Bears for 280 rushing yards.

Knight, starting and going all the way because of injuries to fellow tailbacks Aaron Emanuel and Steve Webster, carried 36 times and not only established a 1986 single-game best yardage total for USC, but also garnered the most yards by a Trojan runner since Marcus Allen had 219 yards against UCLA in his Heisman Trophy-winning 1981 season. And Knight's four scores were the most by a Trojan since Allen also had four against Washington State in 1981. Ryan earned Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Week honors for his performance.

Defensively, it was USC's third straight stellar performance, as Cal managed only 272 total yards, just 22 on the ground. Inside linebacker Rex Moore starred again with 15 tackles, including two for losses, while freshman defensive tackle Tim Ryan and inside linebacker Keith Davis each added a dozen stops.

UCLA 45, USC 25

USC.....	0	0	7	18	—	25
UCLA	14	17	14	0	—	45

UCLA put this one away early with a 31-point first-half blitzkrieg, stunning USC in Pasadena, 45-25.

The Trojans were never really in the game. After the Bruins built a 24-0 lead shortly before the intermission, UCLA ended any doubt by scoring on a 39-yard Hail Mary pass play to end the first half, then tallying again after receiving the second half kickoff to make it 38-0.

USC rallied in the second half on a pair of one-yard scoring runs by tailback Ryan Knight and quarterback Rodney Peete's two touchdown tosses to flanker Randy Tanner, but it wasn't enough.

UCLA piled up 512 total yards, including 289 rushing, as tailback Gaston Green set USC opponents' records by getting 224 yards and four TDs on 39 carries. The 45 points scored by the Bruins tied their most ever against Troy (as they did in 1970).

Offensively, USC could muster only 244 total yards, just 45 rushing. The loss left USC winless in three tries against UCLA in Pasadena.

GAME 11 — November 29, Los Angeles, California

Notre Dame 38, USC 37

Notre Dame...	6	3	11	18	—	38
USC.....	3	17	10	7	—	37

In a classic game in a classic series, Notre Dame came from behind in the final period and beat USC, 38-37, before 70,614 fans in the Coliseum when placekicker John Carney booted a 19-yard field goal as time expired.

The Trojans had built a 20-9 lead in the first half, due largely to a 58-yard interception return for a score by Louis Brock and a pair of Don Shafer field goals — the second was a school and Pac-10 record 60-yards on the final play of the half.

Then, in a wild second half, the teams began trading scores, culminated by a 42-yard scoring toss from Notre Dame quarterback Steve Beuerlein to Milt Jackson, trimming USC's 37-20 margin to 37-27 early in the fourth quarter.

Perhaps the key play of the game came on the Trojans' next possession: faced with a fourth and inches on the Irish five-yard line, quarterback Rodney Peete was ruled down short of the first down marker on a quarterback sneak. Notre Dame took over and marched to another touchdown and two-point conversion to make it 37-35 with four minutes to go.

After the Irish forced USC to punt, flanker Tim Brown took the kick back 56 yards to the Trojan 16-yard line, setting up Carney's heroics.

In defeat, USC tallied 20 first downs and 332 yards in total offense, including 171 yards passing from Peete, who became only the third Trojan signalcaller to pass for more than 2,000 yards in a season. But the Irish, who beat the Trojans for the fourth straight year, piled up 490 total yards and scored the last five times they had possession in the second half.

Florida Citrus Bowl
Auburn 16, USC 7

Att: 51,113

USC.....	7	0	0	0	—	7
Auburn.....	0	14	0	2	—	16

Auburn entered the Florida Citrus Bowl with perhaps the nation's top running back in Brent Fullwood, but it was the Tigers' defense that was the difference in a 16-7 win over USC in Ted Tolner's final game as the Trojans' head coach.

Led by defensive tackle Aundray Bruce, the game's most valuable player, Auburn limited USC to just 10 first downs and 157 total yards while forcing five turnovers and recording a safety. Bruce had three quarterback sacks and forced a fumble.

USC's defense was nearly as effective, holding Auburn's high-powered offense — which had been averaging 34.5 points and 416.3 yards a game — to just two touchdowns and 290 total yards, while causing four turnovers.

And Troy's only score was provided by the defense. Outside linebacker Marcus Cotton, knocked down while rushing Auburn quarterback Jeff Burger, got to his feet, batted Burger's swing pass into the air, grabbed the rebound, and raced 24 yards to give USC a 7-0 lead less than five minutes into the game.

The Tigers drove 80 and 52 yards to scores in the second period, then added a safety late in the game to make the final 16-7. The Trojans drove to the Auburn goal line in the final two minutes after Louis Brock blocked a punt, but fullback Leroy Holt was stopped on fourth and inches.

ALL-TIME USC RECORD

The following is believed to be an accurate record of the outcome of all games of American football played by the USC varsity team. In a few cases where the score has not been verified, it has been omitted, with the outcome of the game indicated by (W), (L) or (T). The name of the head coach for each season is also listed. Asterisk (*) indicates home game.

ROSE BOWL SELECTION PROCEDURES

The Pacific-10 Rose Bowl representative shall be that member's team with the best record in the loss and tie columns (a tie being counted as one-half loss) in all Conference games. If, however, the lowest loss-tie totals of two or more members are identical, determination of the Rose Bowl representative shall be as follows:

a. Two-Team Tie. If the tied teams played one another, the winner of their game shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, the following formula shall be applied:

- (1) Count 4 points for a Conference win.
- (2) Count 3 points for a non-Conference win against a Division I-A team.
- (3) Count 2 points for a non-Conference win against a non-Division I-A team.
- (4) Count 2 points for a Conference tie.
- (5) Count 1½ points for a non-Conference tie against a Division 1-A team.
- (6) Count 1 point for a non-Conference tie against a non-Division 1-A team.

The team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative. Games in Alaska or Hawaii shall not be counted if they are "12th games" permitted under NCAA legislation. Participation in the Kickoff Classic shall not be counted.

If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated. If neither team has appeared in the Rose Bowl, the determination shall be made by vote of the Conference's Directors of Athletics.

b. Multiple Ties. When three or more teams are tied in the loss-tie column in Conference play, if any team is ineligible to participate in the Rose Bowl, it shall be eliminated from further consideration. If one has defeated all others, that team shall be the Rose Bowl representative. A team defeated by all other tied teams shall be eliminated. If one team has not defeated the others, the point formula above shall be computed. Only the top two teams on the point system shall thereafter be considered. If the remaining two played one another, the winner shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, the team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative as in paragraph "a" above. If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated. If neither team has appeared in the Rose Bowl, the determination shall be made by vote of the Conference's Directors of Athletics.

USC: AMERICA'S NO. 1 BOWL TEAM

USC has a remarkable record in bowl games. The Trojans are tied with Oklahoma State for the highest winning percentage in bowl games (.700, based on at least 10 appearances) and are one win behind Alabama for most bowl victories (21).

USC's overall post-season record is 21-9. The Trojans have been a bowl participant each year they've been eligible since 1972 and have won seven of their last 10 bowls.

Troy has appeared in an unprecedented 24 Rose Bowls and has an 18-6 mark in that classic. USC has won its last five Rose Bowls. USC has also appeared in six other bowls—the Christmas Festival, Liberty Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl, Fiesta Bowl, Aloha Bowl and Florida Citrus Bowl.

USC BOWL GAME SUMMARIES

1923 Rose Bowl: USC 14, Penn State 3

In the first game played in the present Rose Bowl, USC, a substitute Western entry for California, which had declined the invitation, defeated Penn State, 14-3. USC's first touchdown was set up by Harold Galloway, who caught a pass while flat on his back at the two-yard line. Penn State arrived at the game 45 minutes late after being caught in a traffic jam, and the game concluded in moonlight as sportswriters had to strike matches to complete their stories.

1975 Liberty Bowl: USC 20, Texas A&M 0

In coach John McKay's final game at USC, his Trojans shook off a four-game losing streak and surprised favored Texas A&M in Memphis, 20-0. USC's defense came up with many big plays, while the offense was able to move against the nationally-ranked Aggie defense. Vince Evans threw a 65-yard bomb to Randy Simmrin to set up one touchdown and Liberty Bowl MVP Ricky Bell ran 76 yards with a screen pass for another TD.

1977 Rose Bowl: USC 14, Michigan 6

After an opening game loss, USC won its 11th-straight game by grinding out a 14-6 win over Michigan. Michigan's Rob Lyle opened the scoring with a one-yard plunge, but Trojan quarterback Vince Evans got that back with a one-yard rollout. Freshman tailback Charles White, filling in for the injured Ricky Bell, rushed for 122 yards, including a seven-yard scoring jaunt that closed out the scoring for USC. John Robinson became only the second rookie coach from the Pac-8 to capture a Rose Bowl.

1979 Rose Bowl: USC 17, Michigan 10

In a tough defensive struggle, the Pac-10 ran its victory string to five in a row as USC outlasted Michigan 17-10. Trojan tailback Charles White rushed for 99 yards and scored what proved to be the decisive touchdown on a disputed three-yard plunge in the second quarter. Michigan quarterback Rick Leach almost brought the Wolverines back from a 14-point halftime deficit by completing eight of 11 second-half passes, including a 44-yard scoring bomb to Roosevelt Smith. White and Leach shared Player of the Game honors.

1980 Rose Bowl: USC 17, Ohio State 16

USC's Heisman Trophy winning tailback Charles White stole the show as he led the Trojans to a come-from-behind win in one of the most exciting games in Rose Bowl history. White, named Player of the Game for the second straight year, rushed for a Rose Bowl record 247 yards, including a one-yard touchdown dive with 1:32 remaining in the game that gave USC the win. The Trojans jumped out to an early 10-0 lead, but Ohio State came back to take a 16-10 lead in the fourth quarter. Then White took over. With 5:21 remaining in the game, the Trojans got the ball on their own 17-yard line. USC marched 83 yards in eight plays, all on the ground. On the winning drive, White carried six times for 71 yards.

1982 Fiesta Bowl: Penn State 26, USC 10

Penn State's fine defense and key Trojan miscues led to USC's first non-Rose Bowl post-season defeat, 26-10. Marcus Allen, who was held to 85 yards, fumbled away the ball on USC's first possession and the Lions' Curt Warner, who gained 145 yards, went in to score several plays later. USC's only touchdown came on a 20-yard interception by Chip Banks.

1985 Rose Bowl: USC 20, Ohio State 17

USC's defense prevailed over Ohio State's potent offense featuring Heisman Trophy runnerup Keith Byars, 20-17. Interceptions set up USC's two touchdowns and the Trojan defense also stopped two key Buckeye drives — one early in the contest that got to the four-yard line and one late in the game which ended up at the 38. For USC, Tim Green threw touchdown passes to Joe Cormier and Timmie Ware while Steve Jordan kicked two 51-yard field goals. Most of Ohio State's points were provided by Rich Spangler, who hit three field goals.

1985 Aloha Bowl: Alabama 24, USC 3

The nation's top two bowl teams (USC with the most wins and Alabama with the most appearances) faced off in balmy Honolulu. The score was tied at halftime, 3-3, but the Crimson Tide rolled in the second half to win, 24-3. USC managed only 197 total yards (just 61 rushing) and 10 first downs. On the other hand, Alabama had 317 total yards, 205 coming on the ground. Mike Shula, Al Bell, Gene Jelks, Cornelius Bennett and Jon Hand starred for the Crimson Tide.

1987 Florida Citrus Bowl: Auburn 16, USC 7

In Ted Tollner's final game as USC's head coach, his Trojan defense held down a high-powered Auburn offense (led by Brent Fullwood, the nation's top runner). But Troy's offense was ineffective and the Tigers won, 16-7, in chilly Orlando. Outside linebacker Marcus Cotton provided USC with its only score on a spectacular 24-yard scoring interception return early in the game. Two long second-quarter drives by Auburn, plus a safety late in the game, gave Auburn its only points. USC made it interesting at the end after Louis Brock blocked a Tiger punt, but the Trojans couldn't score on fourth-and-inches at the goal line. Fullwood had 152 yards rushing and one TD for Auburn, which had just 290 total yards on the day.

USC FOOTBALL NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Here is a list of USC's college football championships as selected by every recognized authority. USC is recognized for having won eight national championships (1928-31-32-62-67-72-74-78). The Trojans were not picked by enough selectors in 1929-33-39 to claim a legitimate national crown.

*1974	10-1-1	John McKay	UPI, FWA, HF, Helms (Co)
*1978	12-1	John Robinson	UPI, Helms (Tri)

See AP.

#The 1972 USC team was the first team to ever receive a unanimous first-place vote by both AP and UPI.

+ Selectors:

Ann — Illustrated Football Annual (1924-41). A rating system published in the highly-regarded fan magazine by William F. Board.

AP — Associated Press (1936-current). Poll of sportswriters and broadcasters which began in 1936. The award actually originated in 1924 with the awarding of the Rissman Trophy to the top-rated team in the Dickinson System. It was retired in 1930, then the Knute Rockne Trophy was awarded beginning in 1931 (again to the winner of the Dickinson System through 1935, then to the winner of the AP poll). That was retired in 1940, then the Dr. Henry L. Williams Trophy was awarded beginning in 1941. That was retired in 1947, then the Father O'Donnell Trophy was awarded beginning in 1948. That was retired in 1956 and beginning in 1957, the award has been known as the AP Trophy.

Davis — Park H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935). Chosen by Davis, a former player at Princeton and former coach at Wisconsin, Amherst and Lafayette. First published in the 1934 Spalding's Football Guide.

Dick — Dickinson System (1924-40). Based on point formula devised by Illinois economics professor Frank G. Dickinson.

Dunk — Dunkel System (1929-current). A power index rating system devised by Dick Dunkel.

FWA — Football Writers Association of America (1954-current). Chosen by five-man committee representing membership. Award called the Grantland Rice Trophy.

Helms — First Interstate Bank Athletic Foundation (1889-current). Originally called Helms Athletic Foundation, then changed to Citizen Savings Athletic Foundation before current name was adopted in 1981.

HF — National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame (1959-current). Chosen by a committee representing membership. Award called the Gen. Douglas MacArthur Trophy.

Lit — Litkenhous System (1934-current). A rating method developed by Fred and Edward Litkenhous.

Thes — The Football Thesaurus (1927-58). A system devised by D. Houlgate.

UPI — United Press International (1950-current). A poll of 35 college coaches.

Wms — Williamson System (1932-1963). A power rating system chosen by Paul Williamson, a geologist and member of the Sugar Bowl committee.

ALL-TIME USC ALL-AMERICAN SELECTIONS

The following is a complete listing of all USC football players who have ever received first team All-American honors. Although there are several teams selected throughout the country, the NCAA now recognizes only five in determining whether a player is a unanimous or consensus choice — UPI, AP, Football Coaches Association, Football Writers Association and the Walter Camp Foundation.

USC has had at least one first team All-American every year since 1962 and at least one consensus All-American every year since 1972.

HEISMAN SALUTE

MIKE GARRETT — 1965

Two-time All-American Mike Garrett was the man who began the great legacy of USC's I-formation tailbacks.

He was the Trojans' first — and only the West Coast's second — Heisman winner when he whipped an outstanding field of candidates in 1965.

Mike set 14 NCAA, conference and USC records in his three-year career, including an NCAA career rushing record of 3,221 yards in the days when thousand-yard-a-season rushers were almost nonexistent. He later starred for the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers.

HEISMAN SALUTE

O. J. SIMPSON — 1968

O. J. Simpson became USC's second Heisman Trophy winner in 1968 when he captured the award by the most one-sided margin in history.

During the regular 1968 season O.J. established an NCAA record for yards rushing — 1,709 — in a single season (since bettered). A two-time unanimous All-American, he equaled or bettered 19 NCAA, conference and USC records.

Simpson also held the NFL single season rushing record of 2,003 yards set in 1973 and finished his 11-year pro career as the second leading NFL career rusher behind Jim Brown.

HEISMAN SALUTE

CHARLES WHITE — 1979

Charles White, USC's third Heisman Trophy winner, finished his four-year career as the NCAA's second leading rusher ever with 5,598 regular season yards. Including bowl games, he finished with a Pac-10 record 6,245.

A two-year unanimous All-American, White set or equaled 22 NCAA, Pac-10, USC and Rose Bowl records. He gained over 100 yards 31 times in his career, including 10 times in 1979.

In that senior season, Charlie averaged 186.4 yards a game, 6.2 yards a carry, led the nation in rushing, and, for the second straight season, led it in all-purpose running.

HEISMAN SALUTE

MARCUS ALLEN — 1981

Marcus Allen, USC's fourth Heisman Trophy winner, was college football's first 2,000-yard rusher.

When he captured the award in 1981, Marcus set 14 new NCAA records and tied two others, including most yards rushing in a single season (2,342), highest per-game average (212.9), most 200-yard games in a career (11), most 200-yard games in a season (eight) and most 200-yard games in a row (five).

Allen also led the Trojans in receiving with 30 and 34 catches in each of his last two seasons.

OUTLAND SALUTE

RON YARY — 1967

Ron Yary is the only USC player to win the Outland Trophy, which goes to the outstanding interior lineman in the nation and is selected by the Football Writers Association of America.

Yary was a two-time All-American offensive tackle for the Trojans and was a unanimous All-American pick in 1967 when he won the Outland. That season he led the way for O.J. Simpson. The first player picked in the 1968 draft, he was a perennial All-Pro tackle with the Minnesota Vikings and also played for the Los Angeles Rams.

LOMBARDI SALUTE

BRAD BUDDE — 1979

In 1979, offensive guard Brad Budde became USC's first recipient of the coveted Lombardi Award, given to the nation's top college lineman who also "best exemplifies the discipline of Vince Lombardi."

Budde was a unanimous All-American as a senior and was also runnerup in the Outland Trophy voting. A four-year starter at Troy, he was the first freshman to start a USC season opener since World War II.

The son of ex-Kansas City Chiefs' All-Pro Ed Budde, Brad followed his father there as the Chiefs' first-round draft pick in 1980.

USC ON TELEVISION

USC's football team has appeared on live national, regional or local telecasts 103 times over the years, including 79 times on network television. USC's overall record while playing on live television is 69-32-2 (the mark is 49-28-2 for network telecasts only).

Trojan games have always been among the top — if not the top — attractions among live televised college football games. In fact, over the 10-year period from 1972 to 1981, USC posted the highest average television rating of any school, according to figures released by the NCAA which were compiled by the A.C. Nielsen Co. rating service. During that span, USC averaged a 15.6 rating on its 24 live regular-season ABC national and regional telecasts. A rating indicates the percentage of all U.S. TV sets that are tuned to a game. A 10.0 rating is considered above average.

Below is a list of the USC football team's appearances on live television. Listed along with the year and the opponent are the score; the network, syndicator or station that televised the contest; whether the telecast was national, regional or local; and, if available, the Nielsen rating. An asterisk (*) indicates a home game. USC was not eligible to appear on live television in the 1983 and 1985 regular seasons because of an NCAA ban.

*USC record.

Between 1888 and 1919 (137 games), an estimated 500,000 people attended home and away USC games. The largest single-game crowd in USC history was the estimated 123,000 at Soldiers Field in Chicago for the 1929 USC-Notre Dame game. The largest USC home crowd was 104,953 for the 1947 USC-Notre Dame game in the Coliseum. The largest USC post-season bowl game crowd was 106,869 at the 1973 Rose Bowl in Pasadena (USC versus Ohio State). In all, USC has played before at least 37,408,755 people since it first started playing football in 1888.

USC: NO. 1 IN THE PROS

With its outstanding football heritage, it's no surprise that USC annually has more players in the pros than any other university.

At the start of training camp this past summer, there were 67 ex-Trojans on National Football League rosters, including 11 rookies. In fact, USC players were on the rosters of 26 of the NFL's 28 teams. Most of the Trojans were either offensive linemen (17), linebackers (14), or defensive backs (10).

In 1986, there were 38 Trojans on opening day NFL rosters — once again the most of any school. Washington was second with 28.

USC has had three of the most highly drafted classes in college football history. The 1953 class (following the 1952 season) had 15 players drafted while both the 1975 and 1977 classes had 14 players selected.

In a 1985 Sports Illustrated poll of NFL player personnel directors, USC was ranked first overall among all schools in preparing college players for the pros. By position, USC received top marks for preparing running backs, offensive linemen and tight ends.

TROJANS IN THE NFL DRAFT

Listing includes NFL drafts from 1936-1987 (which followed the 1935-1986 collegiate seasons). From 1960-1966, both the NFL and AFL had drafts and this listing includes both drafts because the AFL later merged with the NFL. (F) indicates "future selection," based on an old NFL rule prior to 1967 in which a player could be chosen if his class had graduated, even if he hadn't completed his eligibility (he could be drafted after his fourth year and his rights would remain with the team which selected him even if he didn't sign for a year). The AFL held a separate "redshirt" (or futures) draft in 1965-1966 and it is also included in this listing.

First round draft picks are listed in CAPITAL LETTERS. The "overall draft selection" figures were not available prior to 1967, however players are listed in correct order of selection in those years (except for the 1960 AFL draft, in which no round-by-round records were available). The positions listed are those projected by the pros at the time of selection.

List compiled with the assistance of Beau Riffenburgh, NFL Properties.

ALL-TIME LETTER WINNERS

Various standards have been used to determine USC letter winners over the years, but since 1976, squad members who have played at least 30 minutes have been listed here as lettermen.

There have been many exceptions to that rule, including kickers and others who contributed significantly to the team's success without playing 30 minutes.

In addition, senior squad members who have been on the team for several years have generally been awarded letters for their senior season, as long as they appeared in at least one game. This has been a long-standing policy.

LOS ANGELES MEMORIAL COLISEUM, HOME OF THE TROJANS

USC has played football in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum ever since the grand stadium was built in 1923. In fact, the Trojans played in the first football game ever held there (beating Pomona College, 23-7, on Oct. 6, 1923).

Construction on the Coliseum took less than two years, with ground breaking ceremonies held on Dec. 21, 1921, and work completed on May 1, 1923. Initial construction costs were $800,000. The Coliseum was the site of the 1932 Olympic Games and hosted the opening and closing ceremonies and track events of the 1984 Olympics. Over the years, the Coliseum has been home to many sports teams besides the Trojans, including UCLA football, Los Angeles Rams and Raiders football, and Los Angeles Dodgers baseball (the Raiders currently play there). The Coliseum has hosted various other events, from concerts and speeches to track meets and motorcycle races.

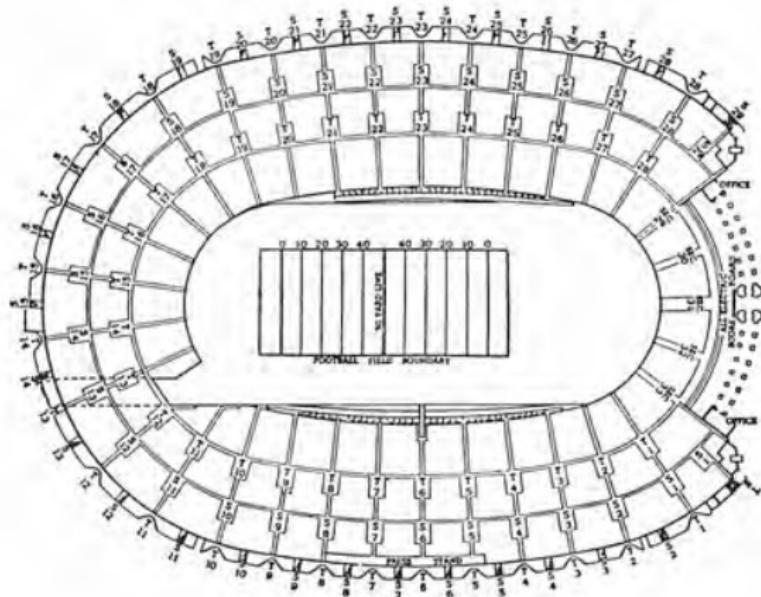

The Coliseum has a present full-capacity of 92,516 seats. There are approximately 25,000 seats from goal line to goal line including both the north and south sides. The Coliseum is located on 17 acres in Exposition Park, which also houses museums, gardens and the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

The Coliseum's general offices are located at the south side of the peristyle end and are open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on game day. The USC Game Management Office on game day only is at the north side of the peristyle end. The will call booth is located outside the fence at Gate 4. Identification is required to claim tickets left under a specific name. The booth opens three hours prior to kickoff and closes at the end of the first quarter.

The first aid station is located on the concourse opposite Stairway 6. A Goodhew ambulance is available at the Coliseum to transport cases requiring further treatment. Paramedics are stationed at Tunnels 6, 14, 29 and Stairway 23. Doctors expecting an emergency call must register their seat location at the Coliseum office. A messenger will be sent to notify doctors of emergency calls; doctors will not be paged over the public address system.

The police substation is located at Tunnel 14 and is manned by LAPD officers from the Southwest Division. There are also roaming officers and T-shirted security personnel working in and around the Coliseum.

Items that are found should be taken to the Administrative Office at the peristyle end or to the police substation at Tunnel 14. People who have lost something should check back at the Administrative Office a couple of days after the event to see if it has been found.

TRAVELER, USC'S MASCOT

Traveler, the beautiful white horse that appears at all USC home football games with a regal Trojan warrior astride, is one of the most famous college mascots.

Richard Saukko, now 67, a retired paint company executive who lives on a ranch in Saugus, has been riding Traveler since 1961 (he missed the 1979 season while recuperating from a back injury). Interestingly, he was once employed by Jim Crowley, one of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen."

Saukko was spotted riding in the 1961 Rose Parade by Bob Jani, then USC's director of special events. Jani persuaded Saukko to ride his white horse around the Coliseum during USC games, serving as a mascot. Ever since, whenever USC scores, the band plays "Conquest" and Saukko directs Traveler around the Coliseum track.

Saukko started off with Traveler I, half-Arabian, half-Tennessee Walker, and rode him until the end of the 1966 season. Traveler I, who appeared in movies with the late actor Leo Carrillo and whose brother was the Lone Ranger's Silver, died in 1975 at 33 years of age. Traveler II, a Tennessee Walker now 24 years old, took over until retiring in the mid-1970s with a leg injury. Eighteen-year-old Traveler III, a 1,000-pound, 15½ hand-high Arabian who was a professional show horse, is the current Trojan mascot (the mother of Traveler IV and the daughter of Traveler III are also used on occasion). And waiting in the wings is Traveler III's seven-year-old Arabian brother, Traveler IV.

Saukko first appeared on Traveler in the outfit that actor Charlton Heston wore in "Ben Hur." That proved to be too cumbersome, so Saukko crafted his own leather costume in 1962, modeled after the Tommy Trojan statue on the USC campus. But he still sometimes wears Heston's helmet.

Legend has it that Heisman Trophy tailback O.J. Simpson decided to come to USC after seeing Traveler on a televised football game. And Trojan faithful swear the horse has an effect on the outcome of games.

"(Former USC coach) John McKay didn't want to admit that the horse had anything to do with his success," said Saukko, "but he'd always give me a wink when he saw me waiting in the Coliseum tunnel."

Adds former USC All-American defensive back and assistant coach Nate Shaw: "The horse is one of the greatest inspirational devices USC has. It definitely got the adrenaline going when I was playing and I think it still has an effect on the players. When I was coaching against USC (at Oregon State), we hated to see that horse come down the tunnel because it got USC a little more pumped up."

Traveler and Saukko not only appear at Trojan home football games, but also at other Trojan events, as well as at grade schools, charity functions and parades.

Incidentally, Traveler I was not the first equine mascot for Troy. The first appearance of a white horse at a Trojan football game occurred as early as 1927, when Louis Shields began a four-year stint aboard a horse owned by a local banker. In 1948, band director Tommy Walker once had USC colors carried by a Trojan on a palomino. Then, at halftime of the 1954 USC-Pittsburgh game, a costumed Arthur J. Gontier III, then a member of the Trojan Knights spirit group, rode a rented white horse. Bob Caswell and his white horse, Rockazar, took over the following game and performed until retiring in the late 1950s.

Besides these horses, USC once even had a canine mascot. A mutt named George Tirebiter I (famous for chasing cars through the USC campus) first appeared at football games in 1940. He survived a publicized dognapping by UCLA in 1947, but succumbed under the tires of an automobile in 1950. He was succeeded by George II for three years and then George III for five years.

TOMMY TROJAN

In the center of the USC campus stands one of the most famous collegiate landmarks in the country: Tommy Trojan. Since being unveiled in 1930 for USC's 50th jubilee, the statue of the bronzed Trojan warrior has served not only as a popular meeting place on campus, but as a symbol of the university's fighting spirit.

Sculpted by Roger Noble Burnham (the idea for the statue was conceived by Harry Lee Martin and Dr. James D. McCoy), Tommy Trojan cost $10,000 to build. A $1 surcharge then on season football tickets helped pay for it.

The statue is a composite of many USC football players from the late 20s, most notably 1930 Rose Bowl Player of the Game Russ Saunders and All-American Erny Pinckert. "Burnham made more than 100 oil paintings of various football players from our squad," said Saunders, "and from them he selected the paintings of Pinckert and me. We put in a lot of hours posing, and the result you see is my head, chest and shoulders. The rest is all Erny."

Inscribed on the statue's base is "THE TROJAN" and the university's seal, with the Latin motto "Palmam qui meruit ferat (Let him who deserves it bear away the palm)." Below the seal are inscribed the qualities of the ideal Trojan: "Faithful, Scholarly, Skillful, Courageous and Ambitious."

The tradition of Tommy Trojan being painted blue and gold by UCLA pranksters was first recorded in October of 1941. Since then, Tommy has been "hit" often, but now USC maintenance crews cover him with plastic and canvas for protection during the week of the annual USC-UCLA football game.

And Tommy's sword has been stolen so often that now, instead of replacing it each time with an expensive brass one, he is given a wooden one.

By the way, where did he get the name Tommy? Of that, no one is sure!

ORIGIN OF USC'S NICKNAME — TROJANS

USC's nickname, "Trojans," originated in 1912. Up to that time the University of Southern California teams were called the Methodists or Wesleyans, nicknames which were not looked upon with favor by university officials.

So, Warren Bovard, director of athletics and son of university president Dr. George Bovard, asked Los Angeles Times sports editor Owen Bird to select an appropriate nickname.

"At this time, the athletes and coaches of the university were under terrific handicaps," recalled Bird. "They were facing teams that were bigger and better-equipped, yet they had splendid fighting spirit. The name 'Trojans' fitted them."

"I came out with an article prior to a showdown between USC and Stanford in which I called attention to the fighting spirit of USC athletes and named them 'Trojans.' From then on, we used the term 'Trojan' all the time, and it stuck."

"The term 'Trojan' as applied to USC means to me that no matter what the situation, what the odds or what the conditions, the competition must be carried on to the end and those who strive must give all they have and never be weary in doing so."

SUPER FAN!

Giles Pellerin, an 80-year-old retired phone company executive from San Marino, Calif., is perhaps USC's most loyal football fan. He might even be the most rabid college football fan ever.

Going into the 1987 season, Pellerin has viewed 654 consecutive Trojan games, home and away. In all, he has traveled by plane, train and auto more than 600,000 miles (and spent upwards of $60,000 doing so).

His streak began at the start of the 1926 season, his sophomore year at USC. Coach Howard Jones' Trojans won that opener, 74-0 over Whittier, and since then, USC has compiled a 444-175-35 record.

Giles has come close to missing a game or two, including once in 1949 when he was hospitalized five days before a home contest for an emergency operation to remove his appendix. On game day, he told the nurses he was going out for a walk on the hospital grounds. Instead, he went to the Coliseum and returned to his bed several hours later after USC dumped Washington, 40-28.

Giles isn't alone in his pursuit. Brother Oliver, 78, of Hawthorne, Calif., hasn't missed a USC game since 1947. That's 436 in a row. Another brother, Max, 76, of Palm Springs, had a 300-plus string interrupted several seasons ago when he was sent overseas to work.

TROJAN MARCHING BAND

The Trojan Marching Band — known as "The Spirit of Troy" — is perhaps the most dynamic and innovative collegiate band in the nation.

Established in 1880, the band has played for 10 Presidents (including Ronald Reagan, just prior to his 1984 inauguration), and has appeared in five movies (including "Hello Dolly") plus numerous commercials and television shows (including the 1978 Academy Awards). The band even recorded the title track of the rock group Fleetwood Mac's popular 1979 album, "Tusk," and has produced several records of its own music (featuring the well-known "Conquest" and "Fight On").

Among the many famous musicians who have played in the band was Herb Alpert of the Tijuana Brass (he was in the cornet section). And among the various guest artists who have appeared with the band were Henry Mancini, Quincy Jones, Chuck Mangione, Leonard Bernstein, Diana Ross, Neil Diamond, and John Wayne.

The band marches upwards of 80 miles a year while traveling across the land supporting almost every USC athletic team. A typical football halftime show by the band (with precision drills, special musical charts and dance routines) takes more than 4,000 work hours to prepare. The band also frequently appears at many professional sporting events throughout Southern California.

Now 250-plus members strong, the Trojan Marching Band has tripled in size since Dr. Arthur C. Bartner became its director in 1969 (he is assisted by arranger Tony Fox). A graduate of Michigan, Bartner brought with him a creative approach and the unique, contemporary "drive-it" style of marching.

Nationally-renowned, Bartner directed the 800-member 1984 Olympic All-American College Marching Band (125 bandmen were from USC) which played in the opening and closing ceremonies at the Games. Interestingly, it was the second time a Trojan musical group was involved with the Olympics, as the USC band formed the 10th Olympic Braid in the 1932 Los Angeles Games.

Bartner is also Director of Bands for the Japan Bowl in Tokyo and directs the All-American College Marching Band at Disneyland. In the summer of 1986, he and 40 band members were part of the ceremonies of Liberty Weekend at the refurbished Statue of Liberty.

The Trojan Marching Band is complemented by the USC Silks (tall flags), plus the famous USC Song Girls and Yell Leaders.

USC'S ATHLETIC HERITAGE

USC has a proud athletic heritage — and with good reason. Consider:

—Trojan teams have won more national championships, 63 men's and 13 women's, than any other university in the nation;

—the USC football team has been declared national champions on eight other occasions;

—the Trojans won at least one national team title in 26 consecutive years (1959-60 to 1984-85);

—USC has won the National College All-Sports Championship — an annual ranking by the Knoxville Journal of the country's top men's athletic programs — six times since its inception in 1971;

—Troy has also established a stellar reputation and a long tradition of nurturing Olympic athletes. Since 1904, some 231 Trojan athletes (more than any other university) have competed in the Games, taking home 78 gold medals, with at least one gold in every Olympics since 1912.

Along with the great accomplishments on the playing fields, USC student-athletes have received more NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships — 34 — than any other school. In addition, USC has had 17 first team Academic All-Americans in football.

Here's a closer look at the history of each of the 20 sports which USC offers on the intercollegiate level:

FOOTBALL — Since starting football in 1888, USC has amassed an impressive all-time won-loss record of 578-224-49 (a .708 winning percentage).

USC's record against Pac-10 opponents is a stellar 279-108-26 (.707). Since 1959, the Trojans have won the conference championship 12 times and tied for the title on two other occasions.

USC is tied for the best bowl winning percentage (.700) of any school in history, and its 24 Rose Bowl appearances is also an all-time best. Troy's overall bowl mark is 21-9, including 18-6 in the Pasadena New Year's Day Classic. The Trojans have been a bowl participant every year they've been eligible since 1971, including last year's Florida Citrus Bowl.

Think about college football and USC's tailback in the I-formation, one of the most glamorous positions in the sport, immediately comes to mind. Four Trojan tailbacks have won the coveted Heisman Trophy as college football's outstanding player: Mike Garrett in 1965, O.J. Simpson in 1968, Charles White in 1979 and Marcus Allen in 1981. Other standout tailbacks have included Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and Ricky Bell.

The Trojans have had other prominent award winners. Offensive tackle Ron Yary won the Outland Trophy in 1967 and offensive guard Brad Budde won the Lombardi Award in 1979, while USC players have been named first team All-American 104 times, with 35 of those consensus selections and 19 unanimous choices.

Many of those players have led USC to eight national championships in football. Legendary coach Howard Jones (1925-40) guided Troy to three of those titles (1928-31-32). John McKay (1960-75) was responsible for four national championship teams (1962-67-72-74) and John Robinson (1976-82) captured one title (1978). Former Tulane and Arizona head coach Larry Smith takes over this season.

Scores of Trojans have gone on to successful careers in the NFL, including such greats as Frank Gifford, Willie Wood, Pete Beathard, Rod Sherman, Lynn Swann, Rod Martin, Ronnie Lott and Chip Banks.

BASEBALL — No school in the country can match the long tradition USC has in baseball. With 11 national championships in the sport, Troy is far and away the leader in that category (no other school has more than five).

Since starting baseball in 1924, the Trojans have compiled a record of 1,556-705-13 (.687) against college opponents, and have captured outright or tied for 33 conference championships.

The incomparable Rod Dedeaux coached USC from 1942-86, leading the school to each of its NCAA crowns, including five straight from 1970-74 (no other school has strung together more than two in a row).

Trojans have been named first team All-American 29 times, with Jay Roundy, Pat Harrison and Bill Bordley being two-time selections.

USC boasts several successful past and present major leaguers such as Ron Fairly, Don Buford, Tom Seaver, Dave Kingman, Fred Lynn, Roy Smalley, Steve Kemp and Mark McGwire. In all, more than 60 Trojans have gone on to play in the major leagues and scores more in the minors.

Dedeaux compiled a 45-year record of 1,332-571-11 (.699) versus college opponents, making him the winningest coach in collegiate baseball history. He resigned after the 1986 season to become USC's director of baseball and was replaced by Mike Gillespie.

MEN'S BASKETBALL — Only about two dozen schools have more than 1,000 victories in college basketball, and USC is one of those schools. Since starting basketball in 1907, the Trojans have compiled a record of 1,104-732 (.601), winning 14 conference championships along the way.

Bill Sharman, John Rudometkin, John Block, Paul Westphal and Gus Williams are a few of USC's All-American selections. Overall, Trojans have earned All-American honors 20 times. Two Trojans, Sharman and coach Sam Barry, are in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Barry (1930-41, 1945-50) has the winningest record among USC basketball coaches, 260-138 (.653). Following him are Forrest Twogood (1951-66) at 255-180 (.586), and Bob Boyd (1967-79) at 216-131 (.622). George Raveling took over the coaching helm in 1986-87.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL — After improving steadily, USC first reached the pinnacle of success in women's basketball in 1983 and the Trojans have been at or near the top ever since, winning two national championships and playing in four Final Fours over the last seven years.

USC's team became established when Linda Sharp took over as coach in 1977. By 1981, Troy had reached the Final Four, then followed that up with a regional final appearance in 1982. In 1983, Cheryl Miller joined Pam and Paula McGee to give the Trojans a formidable front line that led the squad to its first national championship. The next year, the team won the national title again. In 1985, the Trojans made another regional appearance before advancing to the NCAA title game in 1986. Last year, USC made it to the regionals.

Miller finished her career in 1986 as the Trojans' all-time leading scorer and rebounder. She also won her third straight Naismith Award as the outstanding player in college basketball.

CREW — The crew program has been going strong since its inception in 1947, and program originator Bob Hillen is still at the helm.

Conn Findlay, one of America's great oarsmen, rowed at USC. Findlay participated in three Olympics, winning two gold medals and one bronze.

Both the men's and women's crews have varsity and novice eight teams that train all year long for regattas such as San Pedro's Head of the Harbor race and the Pacific Coast Rowing Championships.

MEN'S GOLF — USC has one of the most successful golf programs in the nation, having produced three NCAA individual champions (Scott Simpson in 1976 and 1977, and Ron Commans in 1981) and numerous players who have gone on to successful professional careers, including $1 million winners like Al "Mr. 59" Geiberger, Dave Stockton, Craig Stadler and Scott Simpson. Troy has also been dominant in the Pac-10, winning 15 of the 28 conference championships to date.

Legendary coach Stan Wood (1955-79) compiled a career record of 462-37 (.926) and won 14 conference championships. He also guided the Trojans to an NCAA record 51 consecutive dual match wins from 1956-59.

Under current coach Randy Lein, USC has continued its mastery of Pac-10 golf, winning the conference championship in 1986. Sam Randolph, who finished as low amateur at the prestigious Masters golf tournament in 1985 and 1986, was a first team All-American for the third straight year in 1986 and was named college golf's Player of the Year.

WOMEN'S GOLF — Head coach Cathy Bright has quickly turned the women's golf team at USC into one of college's finest, as witnessed by third and fourth place finishes at the NCAA Championships the past two years.

LPGA star Hollis Stacy serves as associate coach, and top individuals have included current professionals Marta Figueiras-Dotti, Jackie Nicoletti, Stacy Colborne and Judy Kase, as well as present team member Kim Saiki.

SAILING — 1984 U.S. Olympian Mike Segerblom is another in the long line of All-Americans produced by the USC sailing team, perhaps the most successful program on the West Coast. In fact, Troy has produced more All-Americans than any other West Coast school and has sent participants to the America's Cup, as well as the Olympics and other prestigious world events. USC's program, first recognized as a varsity sport in 1965, is co-ed.

MEN'S SWIMMING — The type of dominance USC has had in this sport was best exemplified by Troy's performance in the 1976 Olympic Games, when Trojan swimmers won more golds and more total medals than any country except the United States.

Over the years, USC swimmers have made Olympic teams 52 times, winning 18 gold, nine silver and nine bronze medals. Gold medal winners have included John Naber, Bruce Furniss and Murray Rose.

Since beginning swimming in 1929, the Trojans have captured nine NCAA championships, all under coach Peter Daland. USC swimmers and divers have won 87 NCAA meet individual and relay titles and have earned All-American honors an amazing 377 times. Daland has coached the Trojans for 30 years. During that time, he has won 17 Pac-10 championships and has amassed an impressive dual meet record of 276-29-1 (.904).

WOMEN'S SWIMMING — Coach Don LaMont has likewise built a successful program on the women's side. In fact, USC has finished in the top 10 nationally 10 of the last 11 years, and has produced more than 90 All-Americans in the last 13 seasons. Under LaMont, the Women of Troy have won conference championships in 1979, 1980, 1982 and 1985.

Among USC's more famous women's swimmers are Michelle Ford, Sue Habernigg, Cynthia Woodhead, Sue Hinderaker and Debbie Rudd.

MEN'S TENNIS — USC's men's tennis legacy has produced numerous national titlists, including 12 team champions, 12 singles champions, and 19 doubles champs (more than any other school).

George Toley (1954-80) guided the Trojan netters for 26 years before resigning during the 1980 season. His career record was 430-92-4 (.821) with 10 NCAA titles. Dick Leach succeeded Toley and has posted a 262-41 (.865) mark.

Overall, USC players have been named to All-American teams 92 times, with a number of those players also enjoying successful pro careers, including Stan Smith, Bob Lutz, Raul Ramirez and Dennis Ralston.

WOMEN'S TENNIS — The current dynasty builder at USC is women's tennis coach Dave Borelli.

Borelli, who's been at USC since 1974, has led his teams to seven national championships, all in the last 11 years. In fact, USC has advanced to the NCAA title match eight times in that span. In duals, Borelli's record is phenomenal: his teams have gone 281-38 (.881).

Five times Trojans have won the NCAA singles title, along with one doubles champ and 48 All-Americans. Prominent USC stars have included Barbara Hallquist, Leslie Allen, Sheila McInerney, Stacy Margolin, Trey Lewis, the Fernandez sisters, Kelly Henry, Beth Herr and current star Caroline Kuhlman.

MEN'S TRACK, CROSS COUNTRY — The Trojans have won an unprecedented 26 NCAA titles in the 66-year history of NCAA outdoor track, plus two indoor NCAA titles and 30 Pacific Coast or Pac-10 crowns, including a string of 15 straight (1936-55). They have had 38 unbeaten and untied seasons, including a string of 16 in a row (1946-61). Since starting track and field in 1900, USC has compiled a dual-meet record of 356-85-4 (.804).

Outstanding coaches include Dean Cromwell (1916-48), who won a record 12 NCAA titles and had a dual meet mark of 109-48-1; Jess Mortensen, who never lost a dual meet (64-0) in 11 years and won seven NCAA titles; and Vern Wolfe, who retired after the 1984 season with seven national titles and a dual meet record of 106-17-1 (.859). Ernie Bullard is the current coach.

Fifty-six USC tracksters have won 83 places on the U.S. Olympic teams over the years. Trojans have won 19 individual Olympic titles and have shared in 10 relay victories. Gold medal winners include long jumper Randy Williams, pole vaulter Bob Seagren and sprinter Charles Paddock.

Since 1912, 60 USC trackmen have equalled or bettered world records, and there have been 94 NCAA individual or relay winners from Troy.

The Trojans have also had a long history of successful distance running, including nine Olympians and NCAA champions Julio Marin and Ole Oleson. But for the first time since 1972, USC fielded a cross country team in 1985.

WOMEN'S TRACK, CROSS COUNTRY — In just four years under head coach Fred LaPlante, the women's track program at USC has developed into one of the nation's finest. Since he took over in 1984, the Trojans have had consecutive school-best performances at the NCAA Championships, capped by a third place finish in 1987. The Women of Troy also compete in cross country in the fall.

The women's track and field heritage begins with Sherry Calvert, the former head coach. Calvert, a four-time All-American javelin thrower at USC who participated in the 1972 and 1976 Olympics, started the program as an undergraduate and coached through 1983.

Troy has had many other successful track and field athletes. Patty Van Wolvegaere won a pair of national titles in the 100-meter hurdles. Kerry Bell was an All-American heptathlete for three years. And current star Wendy Brown has already set a world best in the triple jump during her USC career.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL — Final Four appearances have become commonplace for the USC men's volleyball team, which has made eight trips there in the 11 years since scholarships were first awarded in the sport in 1977. The Trojans have won a pair of NCAA titles in that time (1977 and 1980) and have finished second on five other occasions (1979-81-85-86-87).

Ernie Hix, who retired as head coach after the 1981 season, turned USC into one of the top volleyball powers in the nation. Hix's eight-year record was an impressive 146-47 (.756) with the two national crowns.

Thirteen Trojans have played on the U.S. National team and 15 times USC volleyballers have been named first team All-Americans. In the 1984 Olympics, Steve Timmons, Dusty Dvorak and Pat Powers all helped lead the United States to its first gold medal ever in the sport. Timmons, Dvorak, Powers, Tim Hovland and current coach Bob Yoder are all key figures in USC's volleyball heritage.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL — No coach has dominated women's collegiate volleyball as has USC's Chuck Erbe, whose career record is 274-94-3 (.743).

USC has won an unprecedented four national crowns, as Erbe coached the 1976, 1977 and 1980 AIAW champions and the 1981 NCAA titlists. His 1976 team registered the only perfect season (38-0) in women's volleyball history. Under Erbe, the Women of Troy have also won a trio of conference championships.

In 1978, Debbie Green won the prestigious Broderick Award in volleyball. More than two dozen Trojans have been named All-American and nine have been members of the U.S. National team, including Green, Debbie Landreth, Terry Place, Sue Woodstra, Paula Weishoff, Carolyn Becker, Lynn Luedke, Tauna Vandeweghe and Kim Ruddins.

WATER POLO — Since starting water polo in 1927, the Trojans have compiled a 599-356-7 (.626) record, winning 10 conference championships along the way.

Current coach John Williams has led the Trojans to national prominence since taking over the program in 1973. Nine of his last 10 teams have finished the season in the top seven nationally.

Fourteen Trojan poloists have participated in the Olympics and there have been more than 50 All-Americans. Some of the more prominent names in USC water polo history are Greg Fults, Zach Stimson and Craig Furniss.

USC'S HERITAGE HALL

USC: NO. 1 IN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

USC has long dominated the world of intercollegiate athletics. Trojan men's teams are tops in the nation in NCAA championships with 63 — far more than any other university. And the football team has been voted national champions eight times.

USC has won the National Collegiate All-Sports Championship — an annual ranking by The Knoxville Journal of the country's top men's athletic programs — six times (1971-72-74-75-77-80) since its inception in 1971.

USC's women are also a force, with 13 national team titles, all since 1976.

From 1959-60 to 1984-85, USC put together an amazing streak. In each of those 26 years, at least one Trojan team won a national championship (including five crowns in both 1962-63 and 1976-77).

Here's a list with the coaches of the winning teams.

USC STUDENT-ATHLETES: NO. 1 IN THE CLASSROOM

USC is as proud of its student-athletes' achievements in the classroom as on the playing field.

After all, the Trojans not only lead the nation in the number of national team championships (71 by the men and 13 by the women), but in the number of NCAA post-graduate scholarship recipients (34, including 17 football players).

Also, USC has had 17 Academic All-American football players (tops among Pac-10 schools and eighth best in the nation), six winners of the prestigious NCAA Today's Top Six scholar award (the most from any school), seven National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes, two recipients of the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, a Rhodes Scholar (quarterback Pat Haden) and a Luce Scholar (swimmer Dennis Scannell).

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

MICHAEL B. McGEE

Three years ago, Mike McGee came to USC to become the athletic director of the nation's most successful college athletic program. Succeeding Dr. Richard Perry, McGee, 48, became the school's fifth-ever athletic director in July, 1984.

McGee has already earned high marks guiding USC's athletes, coaches and administrators, as Trojan teams have enjoyed outstanding success under his leadership. In his first year at Troy (1984-85), six USC teams finished in the Top 10 at their NCAA championships, with women's tennis winning an NCAA crown. The football team won the Pac-10 title and the Rose Bowl for the first time since 1979, and the men's basketball squad captured its first league trophy since 1961 (that rare double last happened in 1939-40). In 1985-86, an unprecedented 11 Trojan teams placed in the Top 10 at the NCAAs and six USC squads won league titles (USC's best since 1976-77). And eight more USC teams finished in the Top 10 at the NCAAs last season.

Mike has instituted a number of programs to serve USC athletes, coaches and administrators more effectively. These include guiding increases in fundraising, ticket sales and television revenues toward balancing a $12 million budget; establishing a drug testing and education program; strengthening academic programming; reorganizing the department to increase efficiency; adding marketing and recruiting departments; and renovating and expanding facilities.

He is a participant on numerous national athletic-related committees and boards, serves as a management consultant with Raycom television syndicators, and is involved with drug education and awareness organizations.

McGee came to USC after four years (1980-84) at the University of Cincinnati, where he re-established respectability in the Bearcat athletic program. Cincinnati's 1983 football team defeated defending national champion Penn State.

Mike had a noteworthy record of accomplishments as an athlete, coach and administrator prior to going to Cincinnati. After graduating from Elizabeth City (N.C.) High School, he became a first team All-American tackle at Duke. As a senior in 1959, he won the Outland Trophy as the nation's top college lineman. He received his bachelor's degree in business in 1960 and was inducted into the Duke Hall of Fame in 1983.

Drafted in the second round by the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals, McGee was third in the 1960 Rookie of the Year voting. A serious neck injury ended his playing career in 1962.

McGee entered the coaching ranks in 1963 as an assistant at his alma mater. After three seasons (1963-65) at Duke, he served stints at Wisconsin (1966) and Minnesota (1967-69) before becoming the head coach at East Carolina in 1970.

A year later, he returned to Duke as the head coach, where he compiled a 37-47-4 record in eight seasons (1971-78). His teams split games with both Washington and Stanford (including a victory over Stanford's 1972 Rose Bowl champion), but lost a 1975 game to USC, 35-7, as late Trojan tailback Ricky Bell set a then-school rushing mark of 256 yards.

Mike then began his administrative career in North Carolina's athletic department, where he had earned his master's degree in physical education in 1965. Mike was a special assistant to athletic director Bill Cobey in 1979-80 while pursuing a doctorate degree in adult and higher education/business administration (which he received in 1982). He was also a commentator for ABC college football telecasts in 1979.

Born on Dec. 1, 1938 in Washington, D.C., McGee and his wife, Ginger, have four children: Kathy, 23, a USC graduate (recently married to another Trojan grad); Michael, Jr., 22, who graduated last spring from the Air Force Academy; Matthew, 18, in his first year at the Air Force Academy; and Jerry, 17, a senior at St. Francis High in La Canada (Calif.).

Beth Woodin serves as McGee's administrative assistant.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The University of Southern California, an educational enterprise of uncommon diversity and distinction, came into being in 1880. The University saluted the completion of its first century of teaching, research and service with a centennial celebration during the 1980-81 academic year.

Because USC is an independent institution supported by private donors, it continues to offer many worthwhile opportunities for creative and significant philanthropy in the vital field of higher learning.

Some facts of significance about the University include the following:

- USC, one of only 24 leading private research universities in the United States, is a member of the Association of American Universities, the most esteemed organization of academic institutions.
- Enrollment stands at 30,831, including 14,383 full-time undergraduates; 1,478 part-time undergraduates; and 14,970 graduate and professional students.
- USC has 17 professors who have attained the highest professional distinction in their fields in the United States: they belong to either the National Academy of Science or the National Academy of Engineering. Membership in these prestigious academies, created by Congress, is by election only and based on distinguished and continuing achievements in science and engineering.
- In the professions, USC has long been a leader. The University is the home of 20 professional schools and the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences which train specialists in fields ranging from medicine and law to architecture, education and business. USC professional school graduates are serving society's needs in both the United States and many foreign countries.
- Its Schools of Cinema-Television, Social Work, Public Administration and International Relations are among the oldest such schools in the country.
- In basic research, USC is also nationally and internationally prominent. Today, USC stands 17th among all colleges and universities nationally in total federal funding of research and eighth among private institutions.
- USC maintains one of 20 comprehensive cancer centers in the U.S. The University's $40 million Kenneth Norris Jr. Cancer Hospital and Research Institute opened in 1983.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

JAMES H. ZUMBERGE

James H. Zumberge is USC's ninth president. He assumed that position on August 3, 1980.

Zumberge, 63, came to USC with a distinguished record as a scholar, scientist, educator and administrator. He was president of Southern Methodist University from 1975 to 1980, chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln from 1972 to 1975, dean of the College of Earth Sciences at the University of Arizona from 1968 to 1972, and president of Grand Valley State College in Michigan from 1962 to 1968. He taught geology at the University of Michigan from 1950 to 1962.

In 1985, President Reagan appointed Zumberge chairman of the Arctic Research Commission, created by an act of Congress in 1984.

Zumberge is a member of the Antarctic Advisory Committee to the U.S. Department of State. He was the president of, and official U.S. delegate to, the Scientific Committee on Antarctic Research (SCAR) of the International Council of Scientific Unions from 1982 to 1986.

He received the Antarctic Service Medal in 1966. Cape Zumberge, Antarctica, was named in his honor in 1960. He was chief glaciologist for the U.S. Ross Ice Shelf Project in Antarctica for the International Geophysical Year (1957-58) and chief organizer for three subsequent expeditions to Antarctica.

He is the author of 10 books, including the widely used text "The Elements of Geology," and of more than 100 journal articles and papers given at national and international meetings.

As an appointee of Gov. George Deukmejian, Zumberge served on the California Economic Development Commission from 1984 to 1986.

As an appointee of President Gerald Ford, he served on the National Science Board from 1974 to 1980.

Zumberge was a member of the board of directors of the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee, and he chaired the visiting committee of the General Motors Institute from 1975 to 1982.

Zumberge earned his B.A. and Ph.D. in geology from the University of Minnesota in 1946 and 1950, respectively, following service as a Marine Corps officer. He holds five honorary degrees: an LL.D. from Grand Valley State College in 1970; an L.H.D. from Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1972; an LL.D. from Kwansei-Gakuin University, Nishinomiya, Japan, in 1979; a D.Sc. from Chapman College in 1982; and an L.H.D. from Hebrew Union College in 1987.

Zumberge was born in Minneapolis, Minn., on Dec. 27, 1923. He is married to the former Marilyn Edwards and they have four children, John, JoEllen, James and Mark.

PAC-10: CONFERENCE OF CHAMPIONS

The Pacific-10 Conference has long enjoyed the reputation of being the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate athletic conference in the country. The reputation is well deserved.

Indicative of the strength of the conference is the fact that Pac-10 men's members have won 180 NCAA team championships, far and away more than any other conference. Pac-10 men's teams have won at least four NCAA team titles 15 of the last 17 years, a feat unprecedented in intercollegiate athletics.

The NCAA men's team championships have come at a phenomenal rate — 13 basketball titles, more than any other conference; 15 of the last 21 baseball titles; 16 of the last 28, and an incredible 42 titles overall in track and field; 15 of the last 25 in swimming; 25 of the last 28 in tennis; 15 of the last 18 in water polo; and 14 of the last 18 in volleyball.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference go back 72 years. On Dec. 2, 1915, the Pacific Coast Conference was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Oregon. Original membership consisted of four schools — University of California, University of Washington, University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University).

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the PCC, and Stanford University joined in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the conference in 1924 and in 1928 the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950 with the exception of 1943-1945 when World War II somewhat curtailed athletic competition at the university level. In 1950, Montana resigned from the conference to join the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a nine-team conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new conference was formed called the Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, USC, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962 with Oregon and Oregon State joining in 1964. In 1968 the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality.

Beginning with the 1986-87 season, the Pac-10 expanded its profile. For the first time, the 10 member institutions of the nation's most successful collegiate conference competed for league championships in women's sports.

Of the 82 NCAA Division I women's team championships awarded since 1981, 18 have been won by current Pac-10 members. UCLA (6), USC (5) and Stanford (5) are all among the top five in total women's team titles.

MEDIA INFORMATION

USC SPORTS INFORMATION OFFICE — The Sports Information Office (director Tim Tessalone and assistants Nancy Mazmanian, Nick Salata, Nancy Ferber and Jim Gigliotti) is located on the second floor (south wing) of Heritage Hall. It houses files containing USC athletic history, player and coach biographies, statistics and photographs. The office phone number is (213) 743-2224. Nearby on-campus parking is available by calling the office in advance.

PLAYER/COACH INTERVIEWS — Please arrange all player and coach interviews through the Sports Information Office, at least a day in advance.

TROJAN HOTLINE — Dial (213) 743-2989 for a 90-second taped interview with USC coach Larry Smith. The tape changes each Sunday afternoon during the football season.

LARRY SMITH MEDIA LUNCH — Coach Smith hosts a weekly media-only lunch in the lounge of Heritage Hall at 11:30 a.m. each Tuesday during the season. Transcribed notes from each session are available from the Sports Information Office.

USC PRACTICES — Most Trojan practices on Howard Jones Field are open to the media, however please call in advance to confirm the schedule.

GAME CREDENTIALS — Because of space limitations, only those members of the media who cover USC on a regular basis (plus media accompanying the visiting team) can be credentialled to Trojan home games. Freelancers cannot be accommodated. Credentials and parking passes are issued on a game-by-game basis. Requests for game credentials should be sent on company letterhead as early as possible to: Tim Tessalone, USC Sports Information Office, HER 203A, Los Angeles, Calif. 90089-0602. Credentials can be mailed up to seven days before the game; after that time, credentials can either be picked up during the week of the game at the Sports Information Office or beginning two hours before kickoff on game day at press will call outside Tunnel 4 on the south side of the Coliseum. Four types of credentials are issued: working press tickets (press box seat during game, field access during last five minutes of game), TV ribbons and photo ribbons (field and press box roof access, limited press box access with no seat) and messenger ribbons (brief Coliseum entry to pick up film from field or press box). All credentials provide post-game locker room access. Television cameramen and still photographers are not allowed on the sidelines between the 25-yard lines in the area of the team benches.

PRESS BOX — Located on the south (Martin Luther King Blvd.) side of the Coliseum, the press box is for the use of the working media and guests of USC's athletic department only. Access is via the elevator near Tunnel 6. The lower level has seats for the written press, while the upper level houses radio and television broadcasting booths. The roof is available for cameramen and photographers. Members of USC's Sports Information Office are located in seats 244 to 251 on the lower level during games. To get from the press box to the field at the end of the game (and to enable continued viewing of the game action), most media exit through the door on the lower level and walk through the stands.

PRESS BOX SERVICES — A complimentary hot meal is served in the kitchen (lower level, east end). Game programs, speed cards and game notes are distributed before kickoff (these are also available on the field to photographers). Quarterly play-by-plays, plus halftime and final statistics, are distributed, as are transcribed post-game locker room quotes from Coach Smith and the visiting coach. Game action is shown on indoor TV monitors posted throughout the press box and a detailed play-by-play is announced over the press box public address system. Several charge-a-call phones are located in the visiting press section on the lower level and available on a first-come basis. To order a telephone, contact Linda Pantell at the Coliseum, (213) 747-7111. To call the press box on game day for score updates, dial either (213) 741-1341 or (213) 747-7111 (ask for press box extension). Telecopier and computer terminal service is available by contacting either Bassler Communications (Dick Bassler), 15914 Sunset Blvd., Pacific Palisades, Calif. 90272, (213) 459-9404, or Amfax (Rick Laubert), P.O. Box 2701, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif. 90274, (213) 498-8917.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS — The USC and visiting team locker rooms are located inside the tunnel on the west end of the Coliseum. After a 10-minute "cooling off" period, the USC locker room will open to the media. Coach Smith will conduct a post-game press session and afterwards several key Trojan players will be brought to the session.
